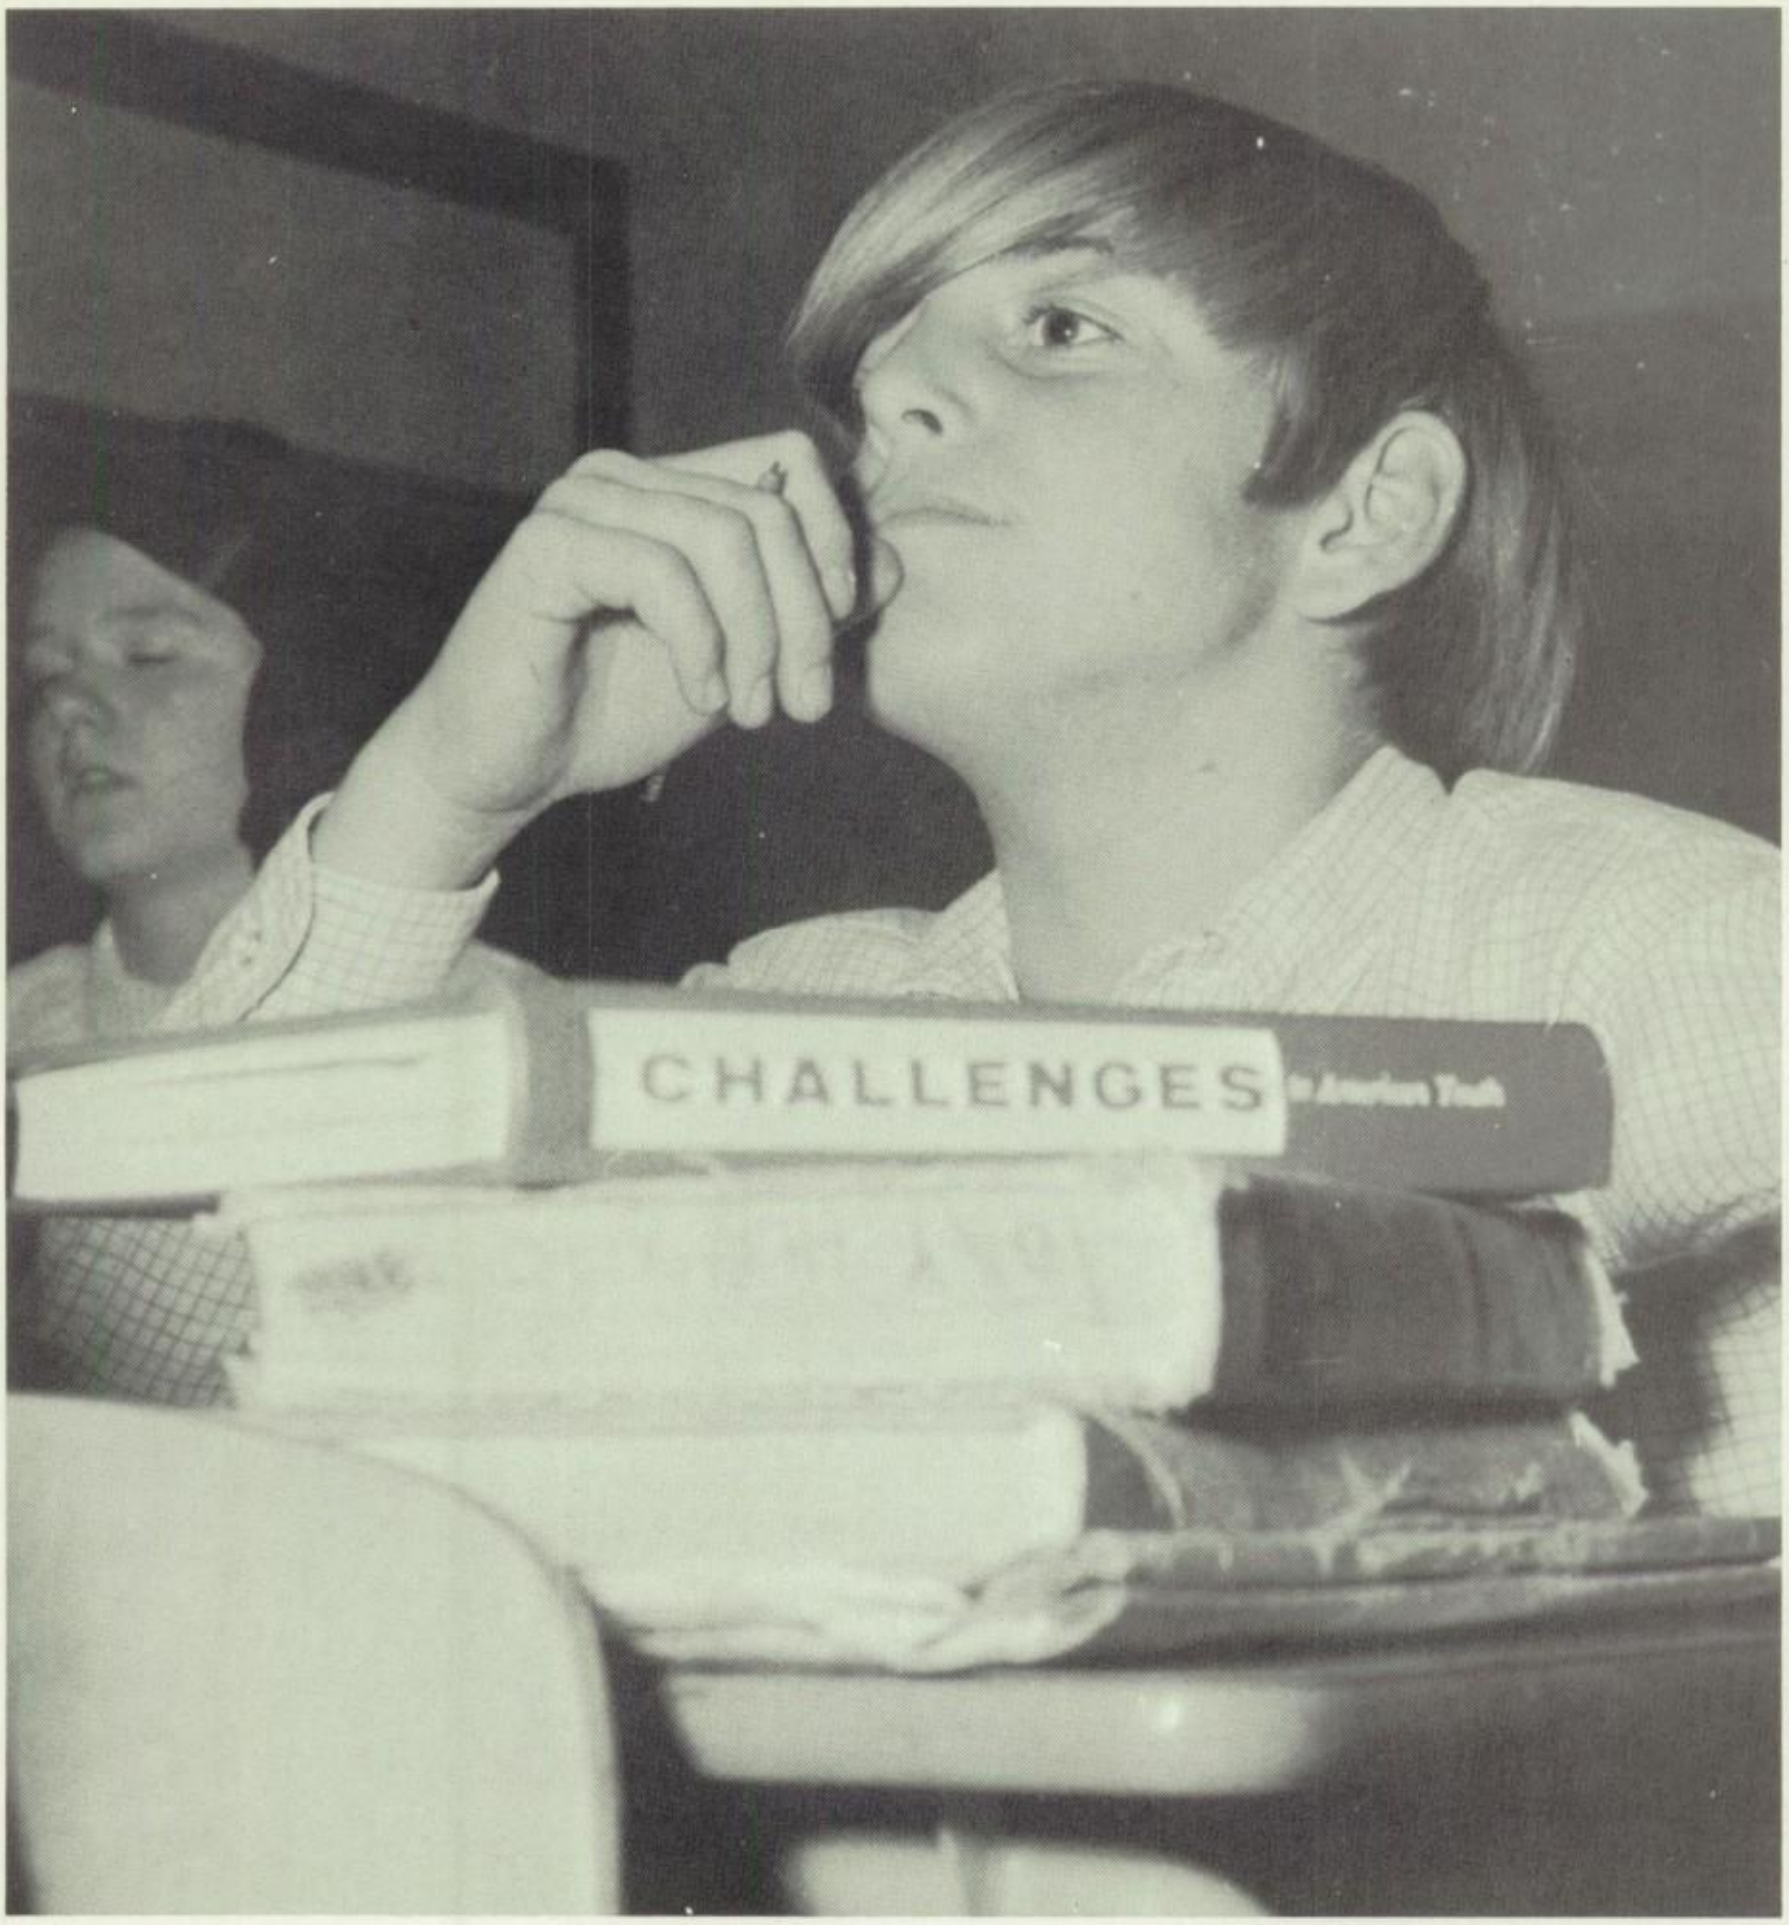
CHALLENGES FACE BOTH TEACHERS . . .



. . . AND STUDENTS

ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Howard Crouse, in his ninth year as Riley's principal, anticipates the future with optimism about our desire and ability to live well together.

Mrs. Virginia Sterzik aids in the vital functions of Riley in her dual role as Registrar and Guidance Secretary.

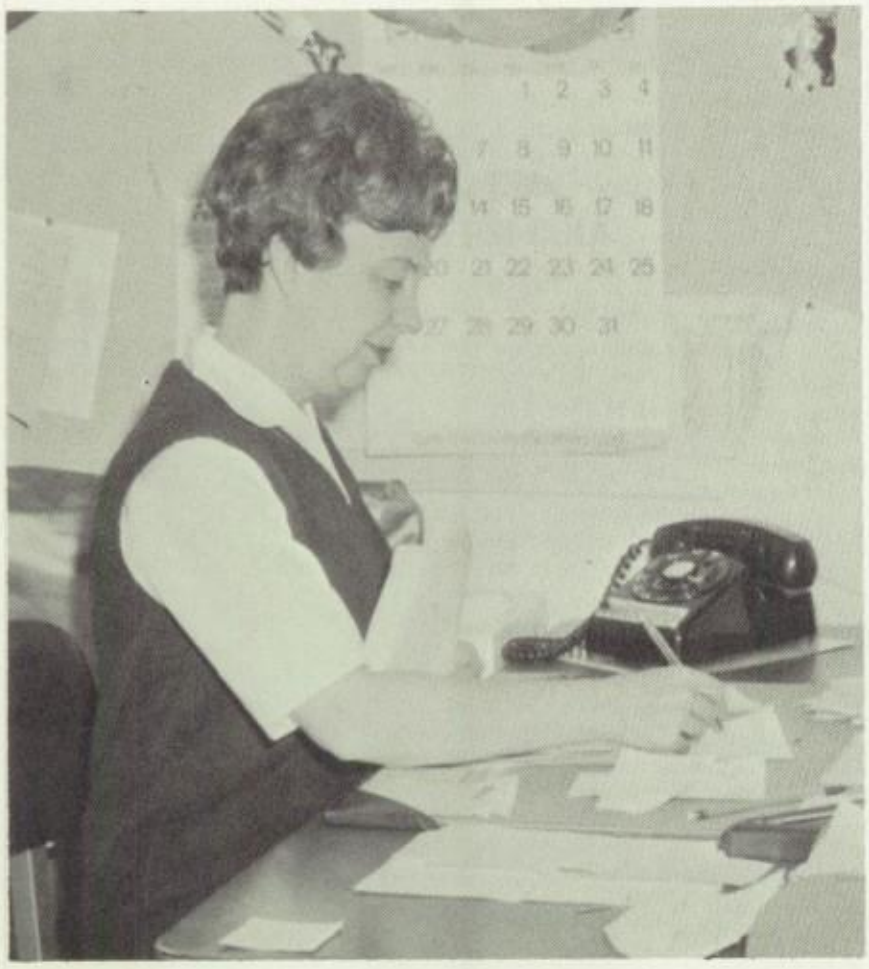
Mrs. Esther Robinson's understanding and patience in a taxing job are inspirations to a student helping in the office of the principal.

The sounds of school life often have their beginnings in the second floor administrative office of principal Howard Crouse, where the "open-door" policy provides an atmosphere for student-faculty-administration dialogue regarding the important issues and news of the day.

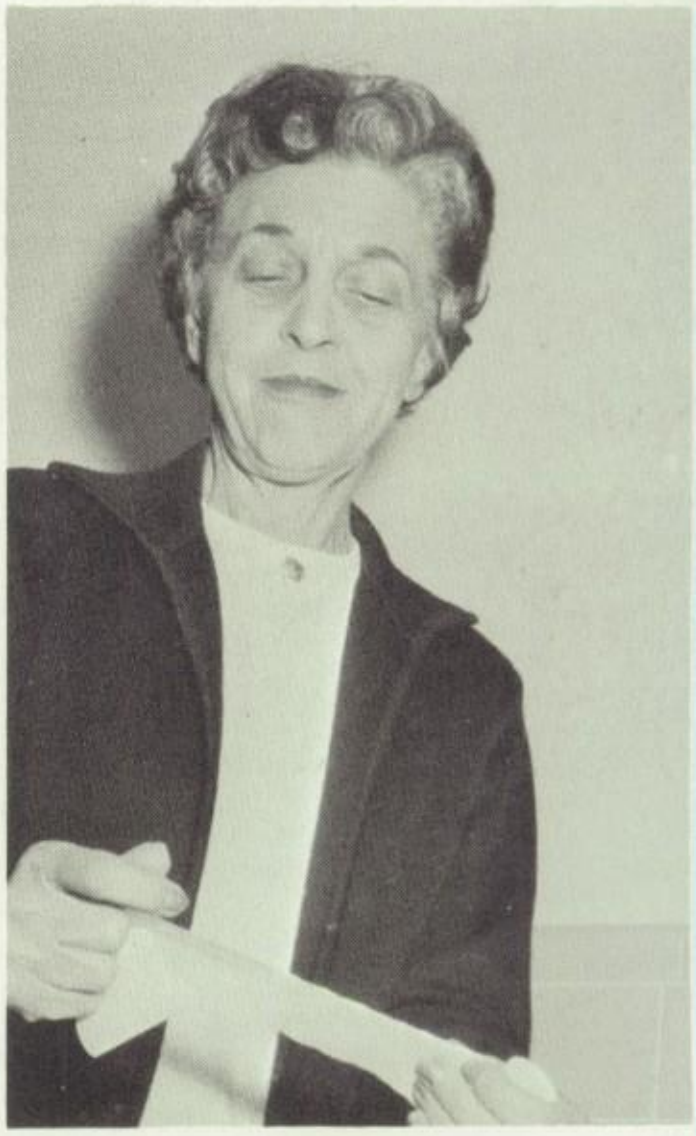
The hum of activity in the office beyond the triple doors is ever present as students, faculty members, and visitors arrive to request or offer services and advice.

Mr. Joseph Lawecki is ready for action against the enemy: paperwork!

Assistant Principal Lawecki's enthusiastic spirit inspires students and impresses them. Most of his hours are spent in his office. In this room he must perform the never-ending tasks of attendance administrator, student counselor, and parental advisor. His interest and influence, however, encompass the entire domain of Riley High School.

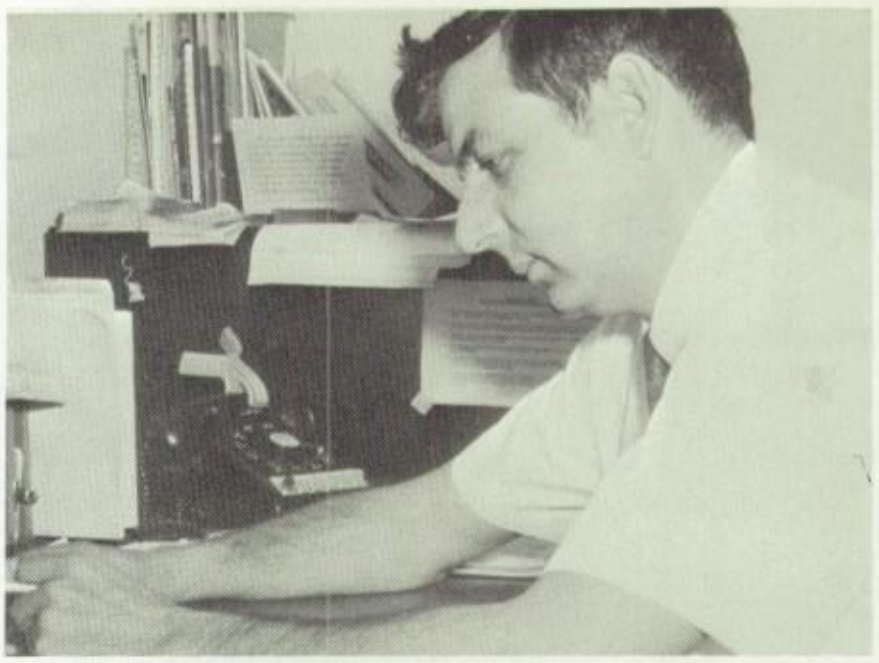


Mrs. Joan Earhart keeps the attendance office operating smoothly in spite of the constant ring of the telephone.



Mrs. Helen Cashman prepares bandages, prescribes aspirin, and offers sympathy to students on their "down" days.

COUNSELORS HELP STUDENTS PREPARE FOR COLLEGE AND VOCATIONS.



Mr. Robert Allison contemplates and seeks a solution for one of his students.

Mrs. JoAnn Hammond listens to pertinent information for a college bound student, one of her many jobs as head counselor.

Riley's counselors are always on hand with an ear for students' various problems and questions. They are eager to help students make decisions regarding further education or on-the-job training, thus playing an important role in our futures. Our counselors are commended for their willingness to help whenever and however they can.

Mr. Dare Nestlerode's paper work is a never ending task.

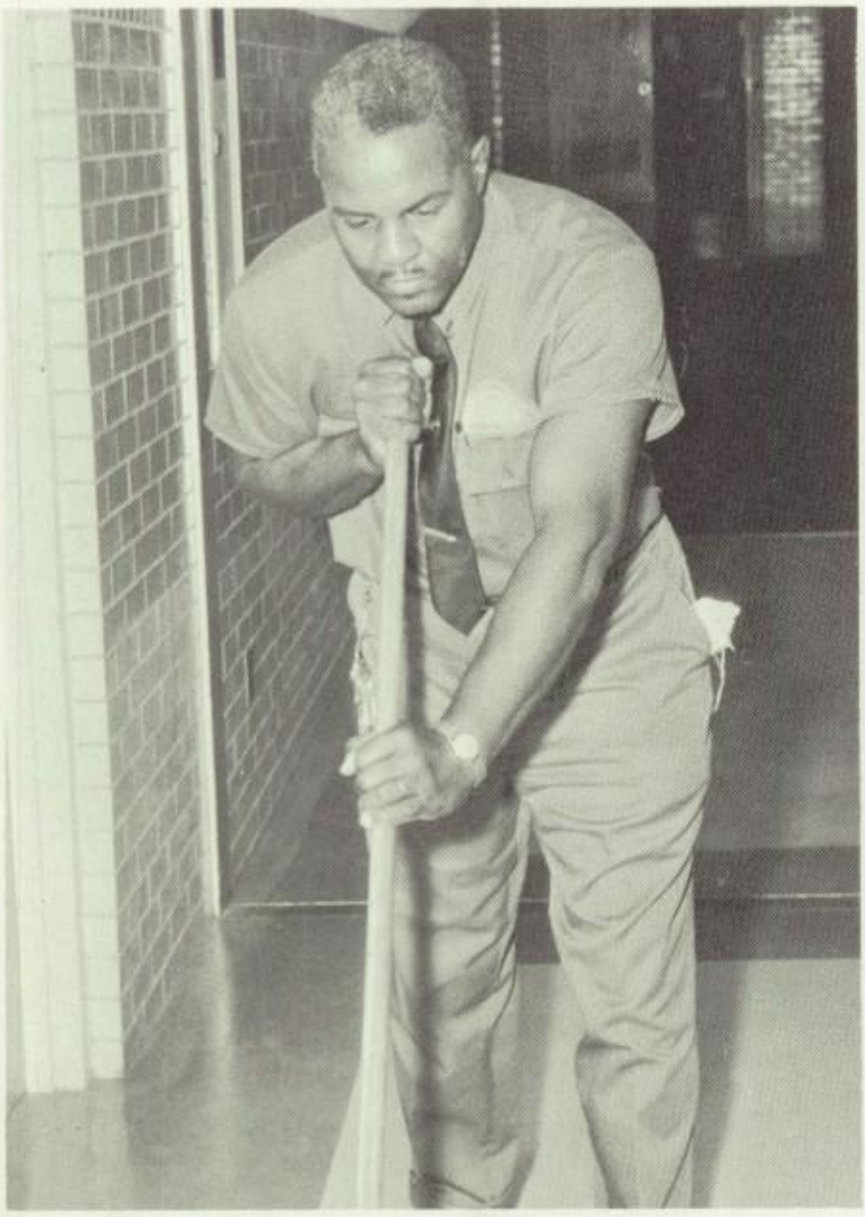
Mrs. Margaret Cassidy enjoys her work as a counselor to Riley students.

SPECIALISTS

Mr. Marvin Wallace, engineer, checks into some machinery.

Maintenance men, Louis Pecsi, Ernest Smith, Robert Woodard, Bill Wolfe, Andy Hatala, and Joe Taylor take time out from their busy schedule to pose for our photographers.

IN SERVICES



Mr. Robert Woodard, head custodian, makes sure that our building is spotless.

The cafeteria ladies take their lunch break. Mrs. Elizabeth Berger is the cafeteria supervisor.

HOME ECONOMICS

The men of tomorrow, debating . . . Are the rolls too done or not enough?

Emily Coffey caught in a fix, yields to a helping hand from Marsha Adams. As future homemakers they recognize the importance of fashion know-how.

Lesson plans for Mrs. Martha Terlisner often include lists of groceries to buy or fashion ads to clip before class.

Mrs. Joan Nibbelink poses an interesting home problem for her Family Living class.

Mrs. Mary Dentino pauses for a moment to contemplate the day's activity.

Mrs. Marlene Amoruso finds her job as head of Home Economics most enjoyable.

Skilled hands and close attention help this creative seamstress.

The Home Economics Department strives to prepare Riley's students for their future homemaking duties. The whirring of the beaters mixing cookie dough or the hum of a sewing machine creating a new dress are sounds most often heard coming from the Home Economics rooms. The students leave these classes with minds expanded and stomachs full.

INDUSTRIAL ARTS . . .

Mr. Verne Ferris offers helpful advice.

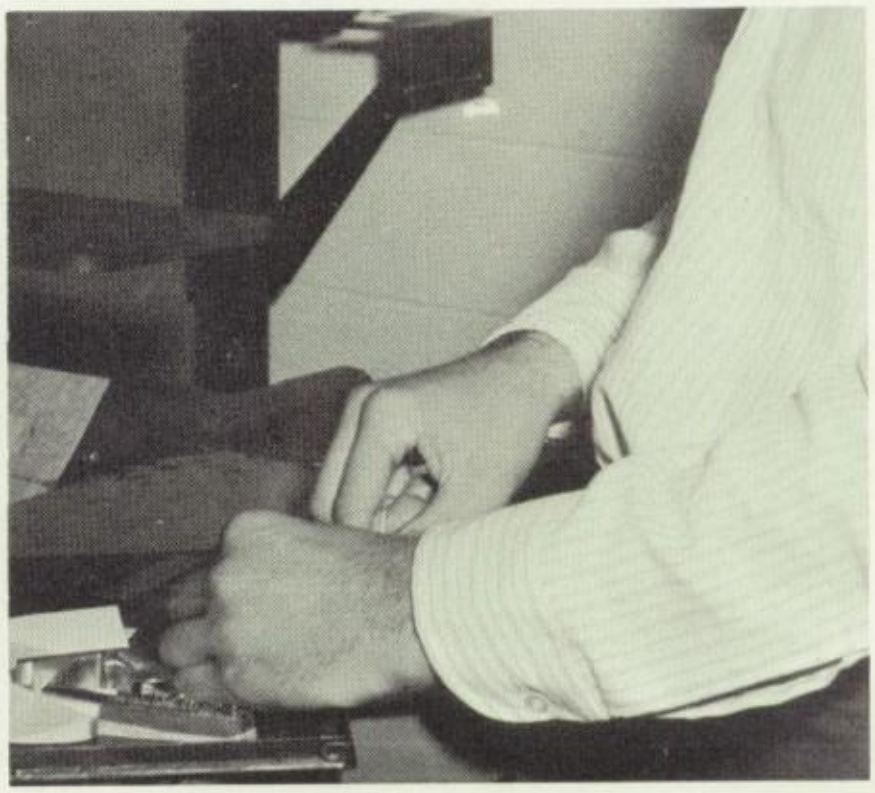
In the industrial arts, a student seeks beyond the boundaries of theory to gain experience and knowledge for the future. He encounters problems and challenges, and learns to overcome them. The clang of tools and the roar of the reverberating press is a daily part of his life.

Mr. Tom Emmons and Mr. Ralph Pieniazkiewicz pool their talents to get things done.

Mr. Robert Mammolenti is always willing to observe and advise as work progresses in the printing shop.

Mr. Robert Saunders watches over two of his students performing an electronics experiment.

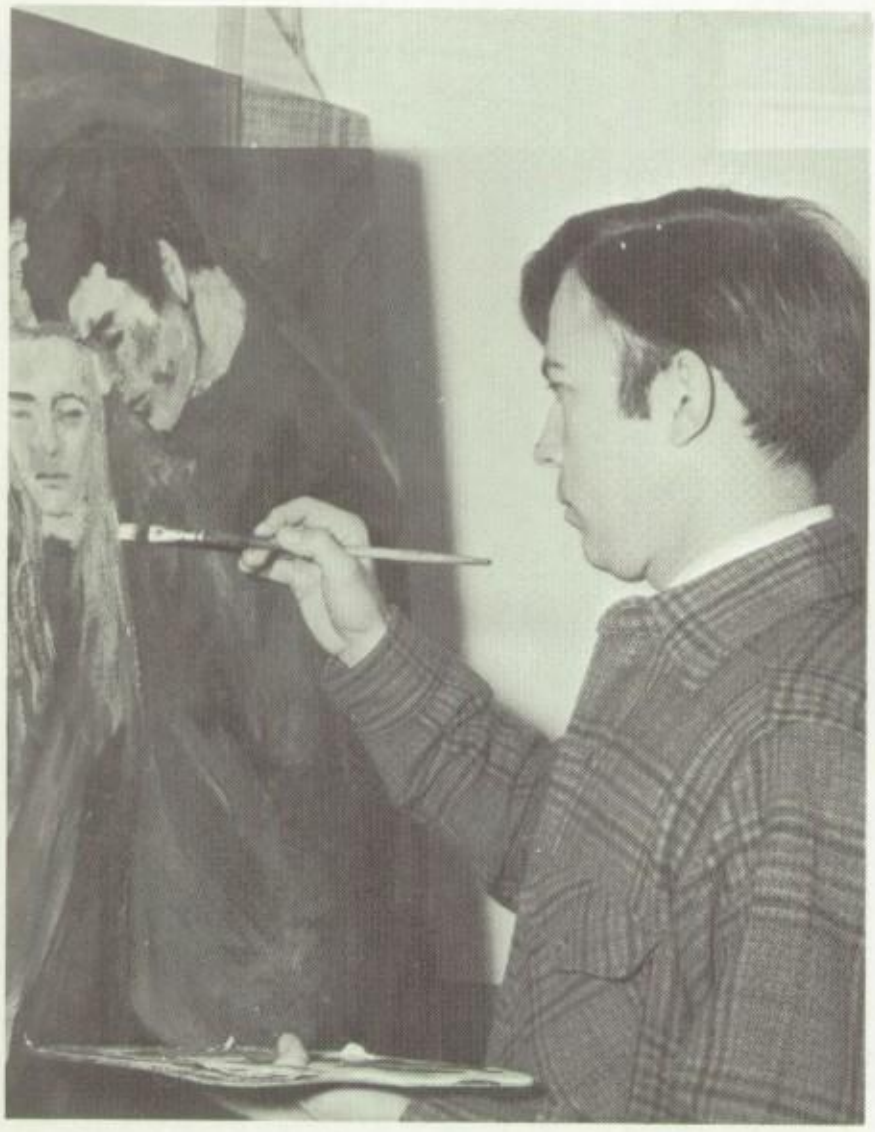
Mr. Homer Morris is an outstanding consultant in the field of industrial arts.



Hands, man's first tools, work for the present and the future.

. . . THE ART OF DOING

SWISHING BRUSHES

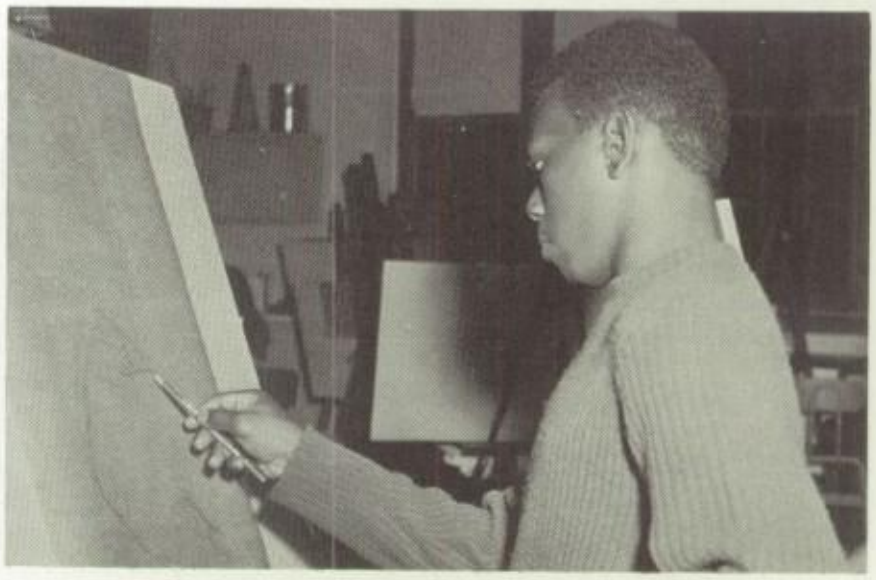


Mr. Roman Sysyn, a creator as well as a teacher, adds finishing touches to his work.

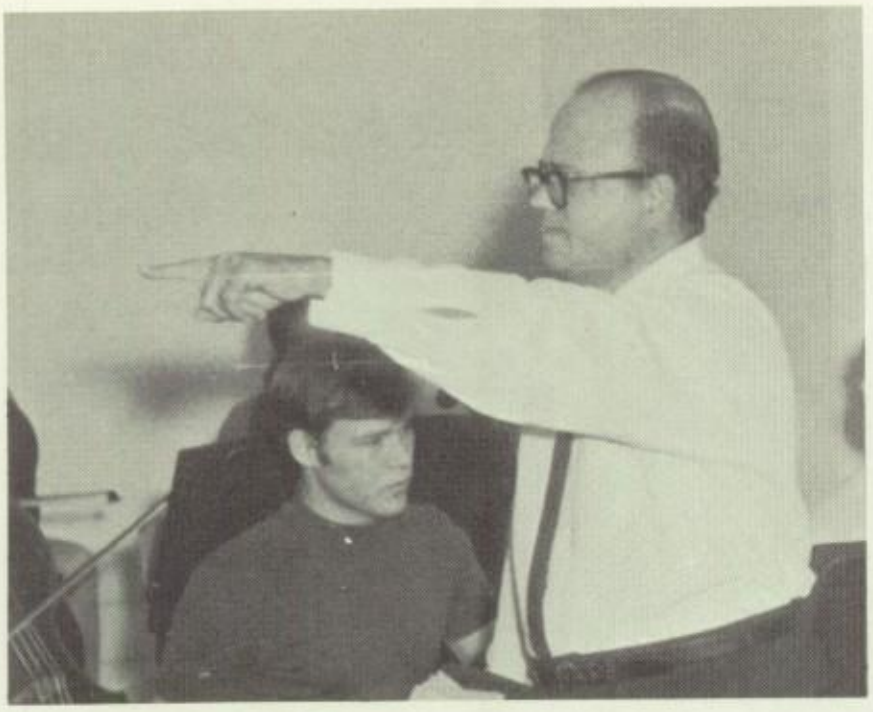
Mr. Todd Hoover, especially talented in the field of ceramics, instructs and heads the Art department.

SCRAPING CHALK

Skill and concentration make a fine drawing.



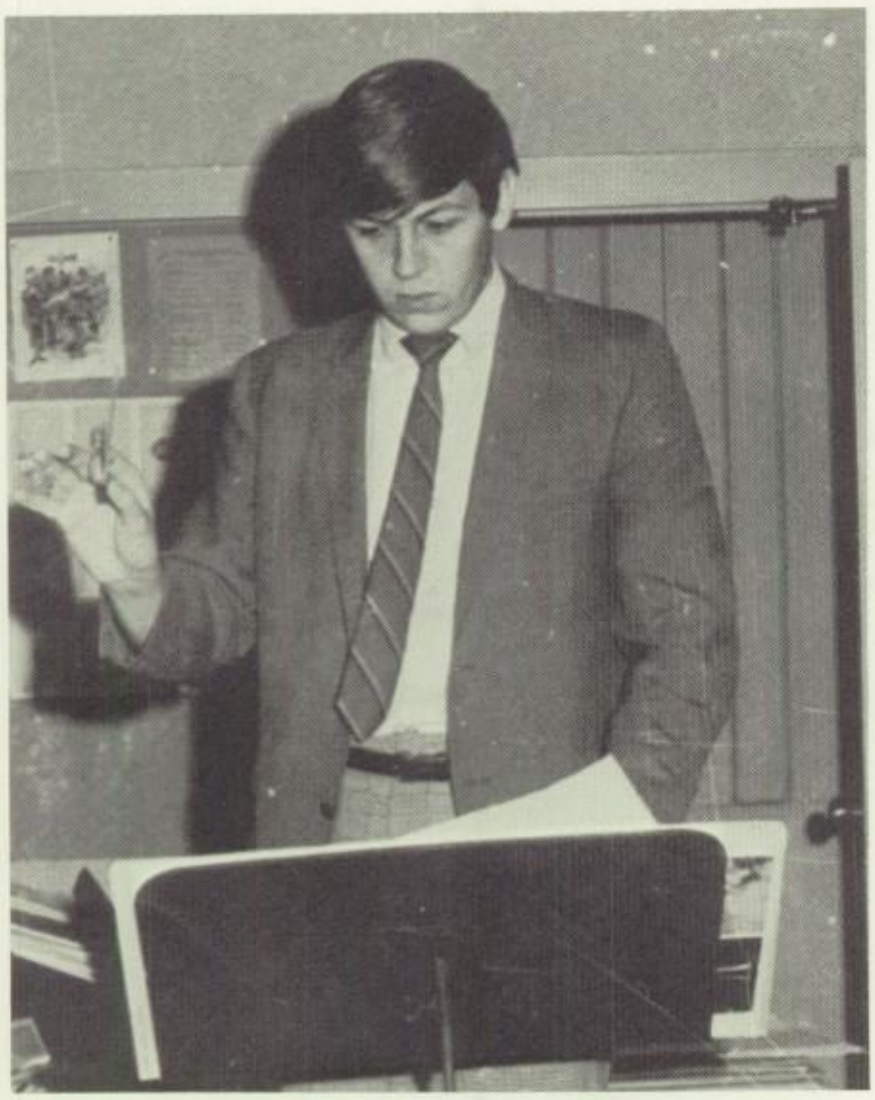
McCullough Tabb begins a new drawing with proper artist's stance.



Mr. Rocco Germano: "Now . . . now . . . let's hear that bar again, please! A little more tempo."

SOUNDS OF MUSIC

Mr. Lewis Habegger: "The musical tunes which Riley's band produces are simply the best."



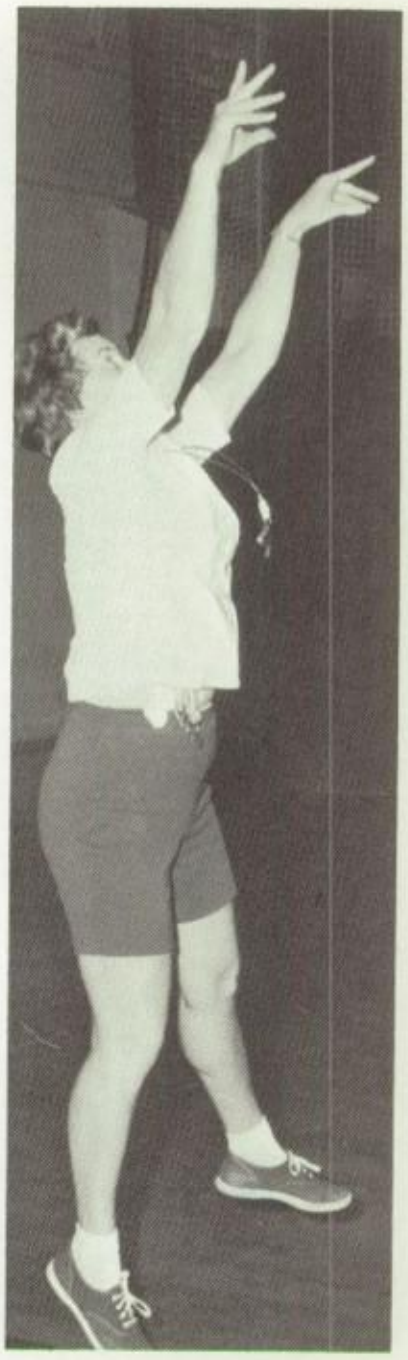
Mr. DeLoss Schurtz: "Six flats! We'd better transpose."

Voices and instruments blend into perfect harmony after constant practice sessions for members of Band, Orchestra, and Glee Club. From September until June, the members of the band, under the skillful guidance of Mr. Lewis G. Habegger and Mr. DeLoss Shurtz, strive for complete balance between the boom of drums and the toot of horns. The stringed instruments, woodwinds, brass, and percussion instruments, which compose Riley's Orchestra, under the direction of Mr. Rocco Germano, aim for flawless performance. The members of the Glee Club, despite their early morning class, are wide awake and ready to sing. Music is an interesting and important part of Riley life for many students.

Miss Lee Ann McNeal: "What do you mean you're a land lubber?"

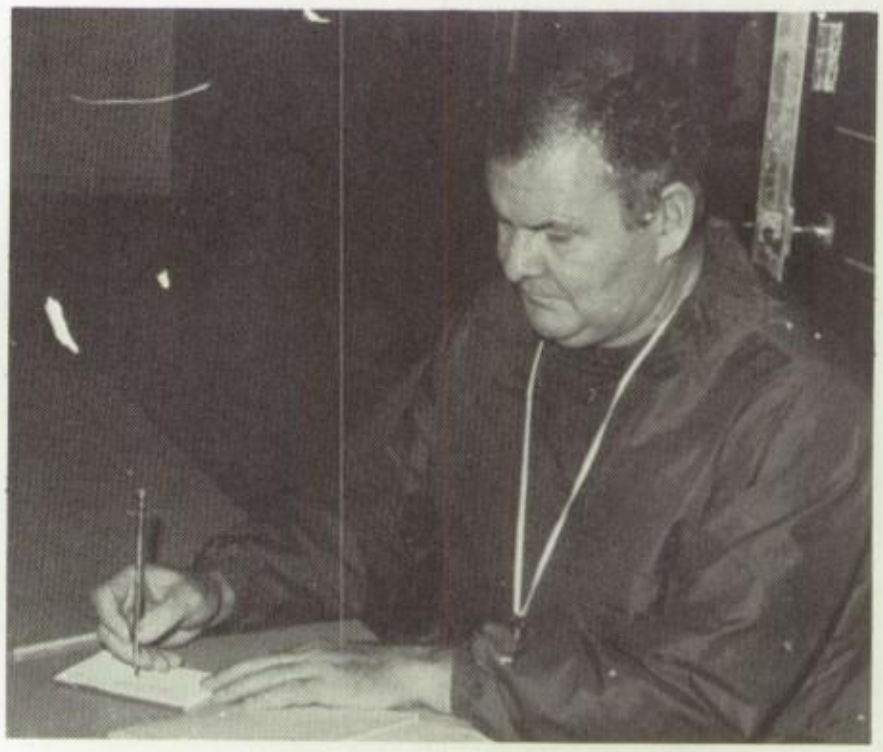
Mr. Steve Horvath, overseer of the basketball court and Riley's physical education program.

Stretch . . .



Miss Mary Lauer gets in the act.

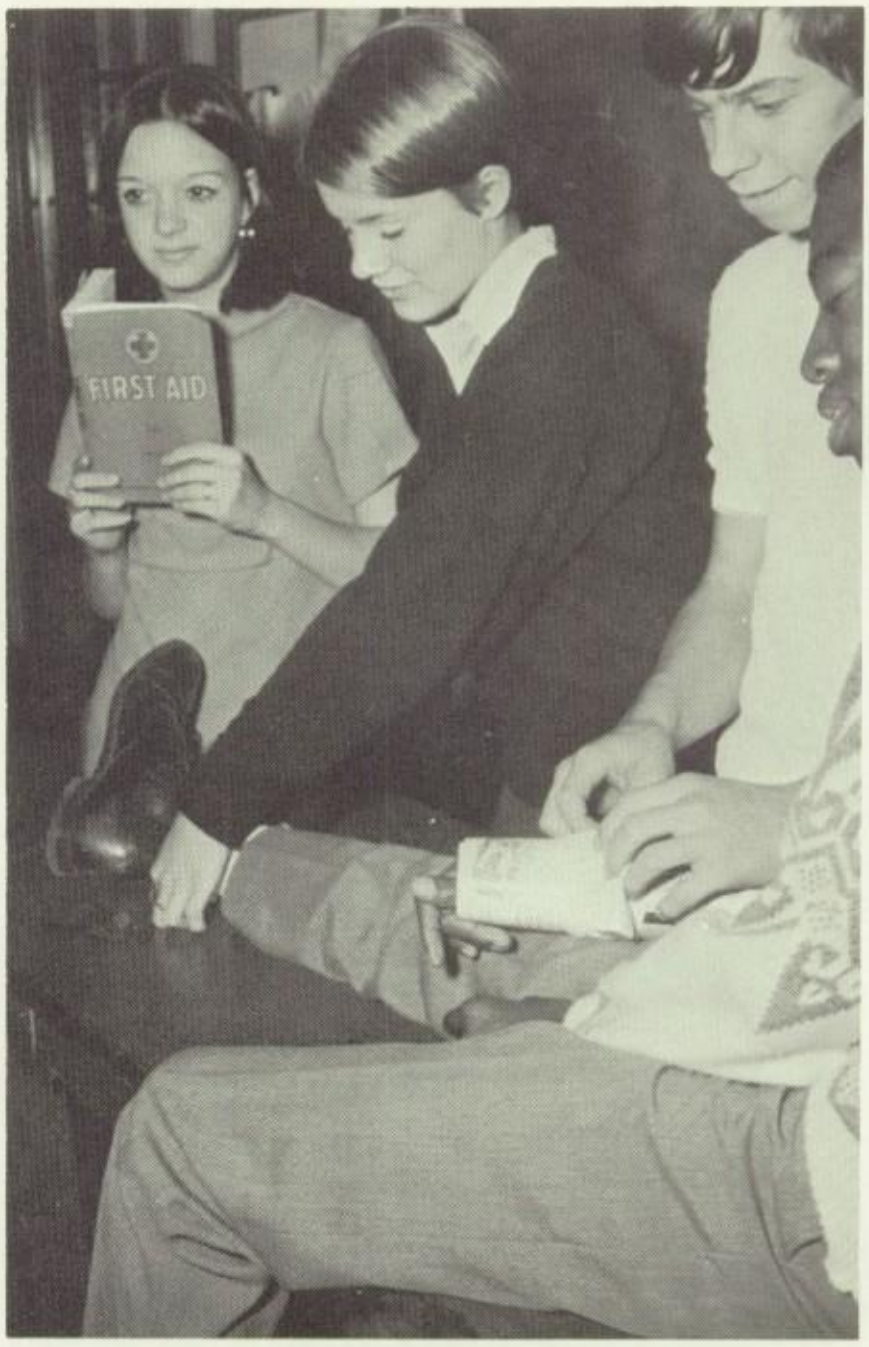
Reach for that ball!



Coach William Echard splashes his energies onto paper.

Mr. James Whitmer supervises students learning vital health aids.

Mr. Michael Mondovics observes a panel at work.



Students practice first aid.

HEALTH FOR THE BODY: HEALTH FOR THE MIND

Mr. Gregory Parker instructs his

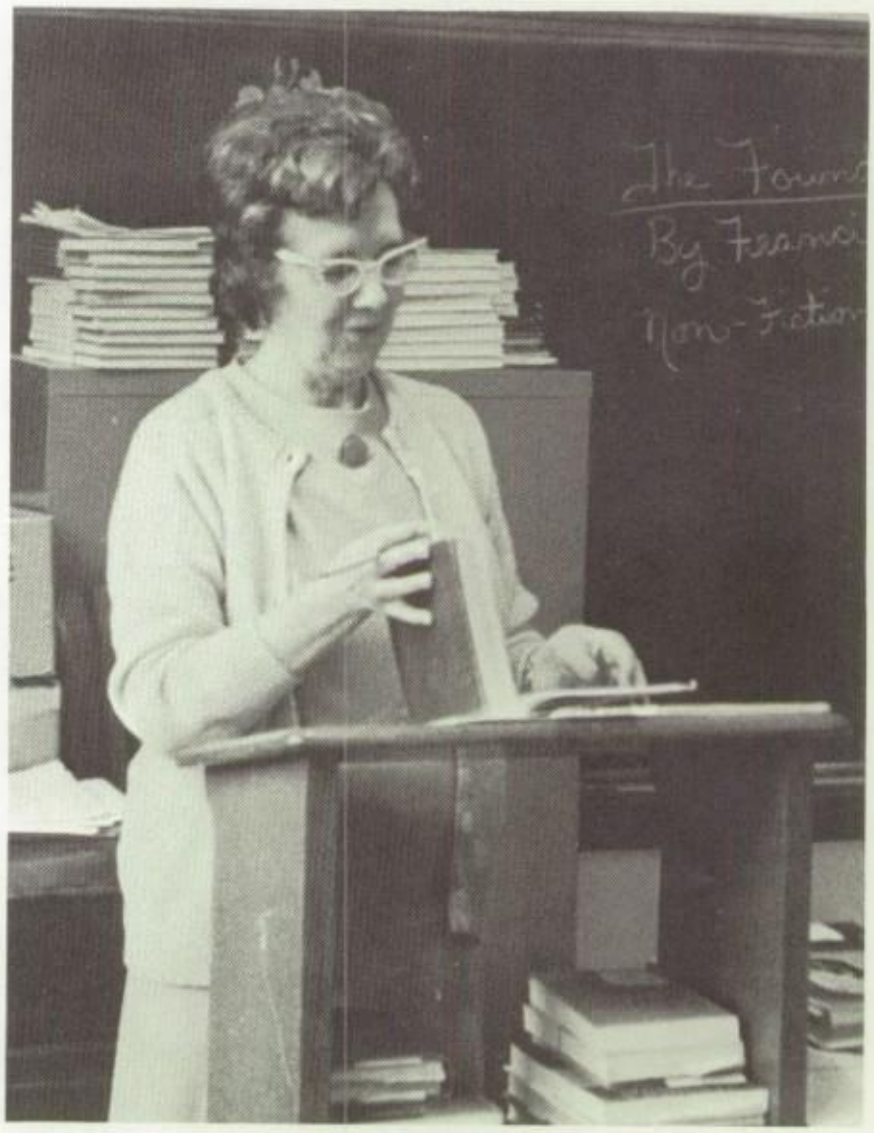
Julie Boyce passed her hearing test with flying colors . . . but she didn't hear the cameraman!

The prospect of food seems to make Mrs. Emilieann Vargo very happy.

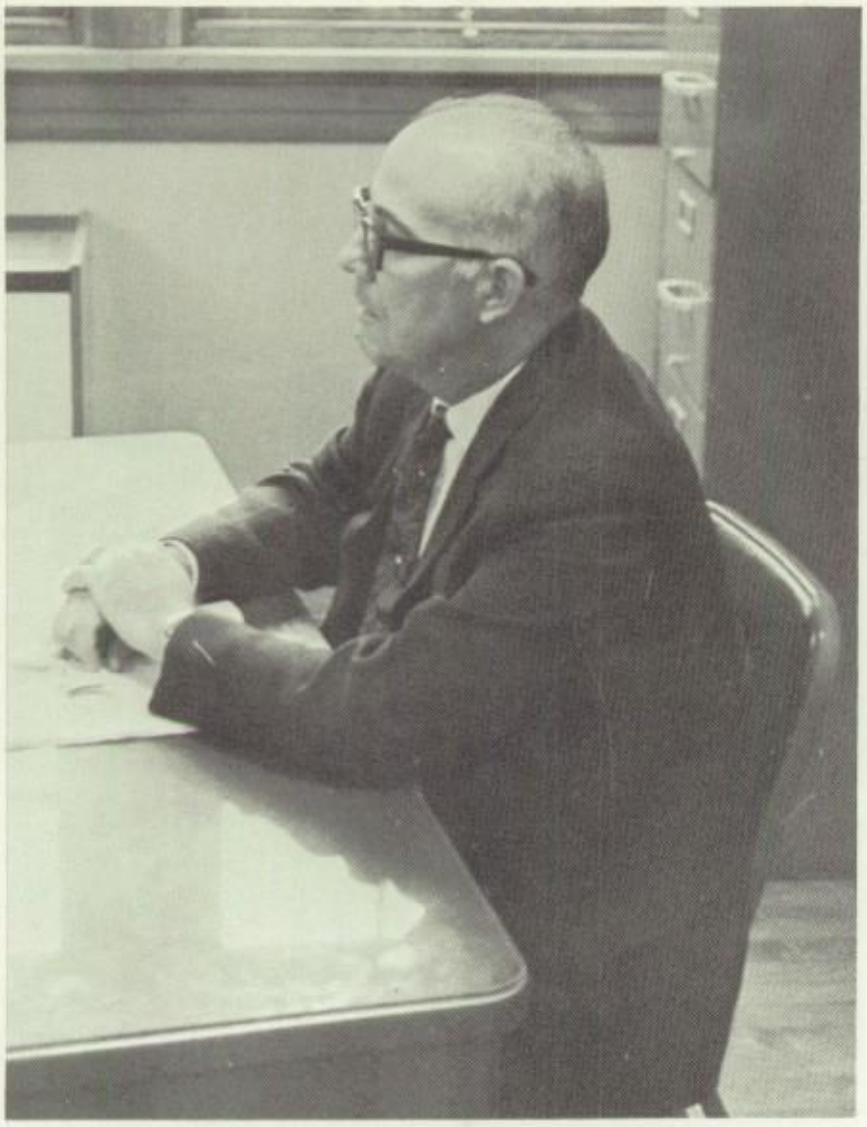
Mrs. Frieda Fuchs leads her class in a discussion of their reading material.

ENGLISH: THE KEY TO COMMUNICATION

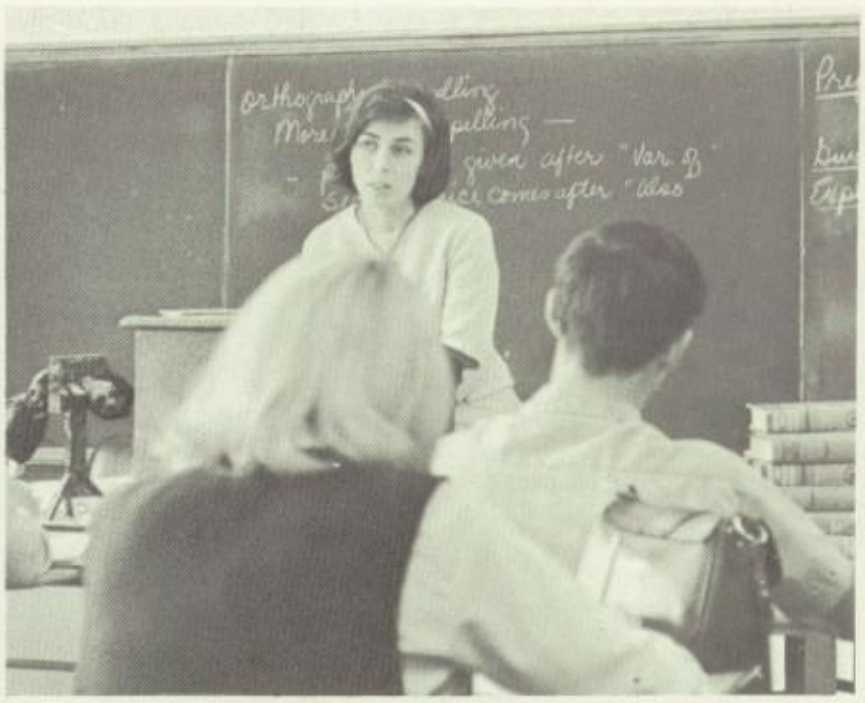
A busy Mrs. Phyllis Keays looks up from her desk full of work.



Mrs. Frances McMillan introduces her students to the great literature of the world.

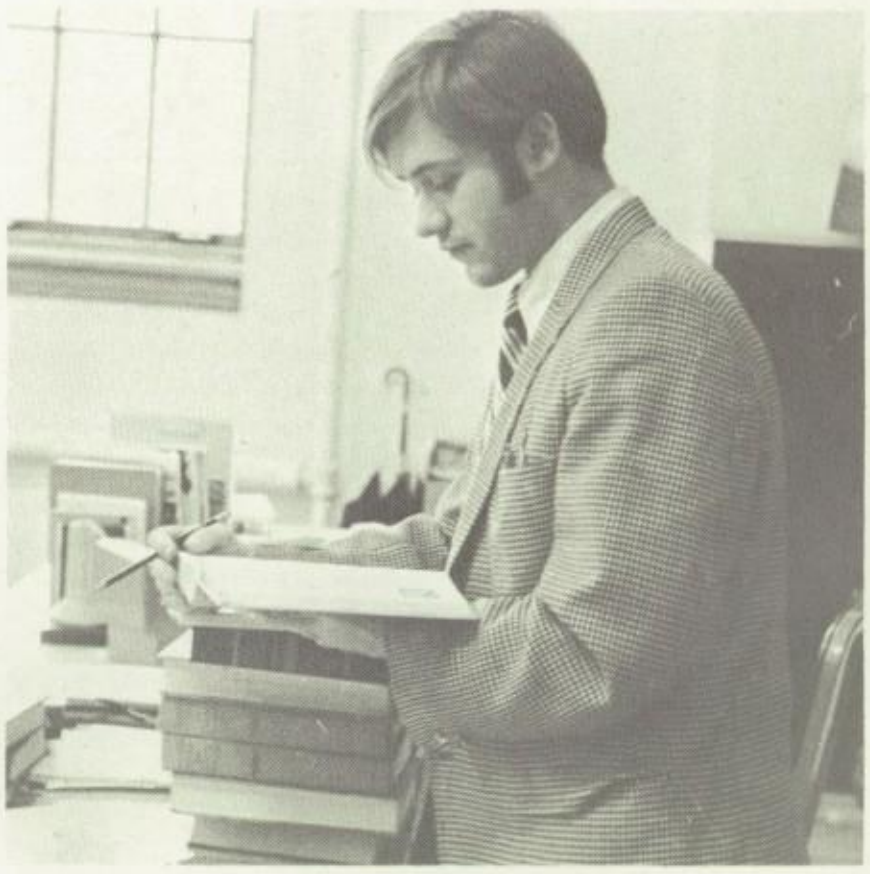


A TALE OF TWO CITIES? OLIVER TWIST? What is Mr. Robert Bilby pondering for his students?



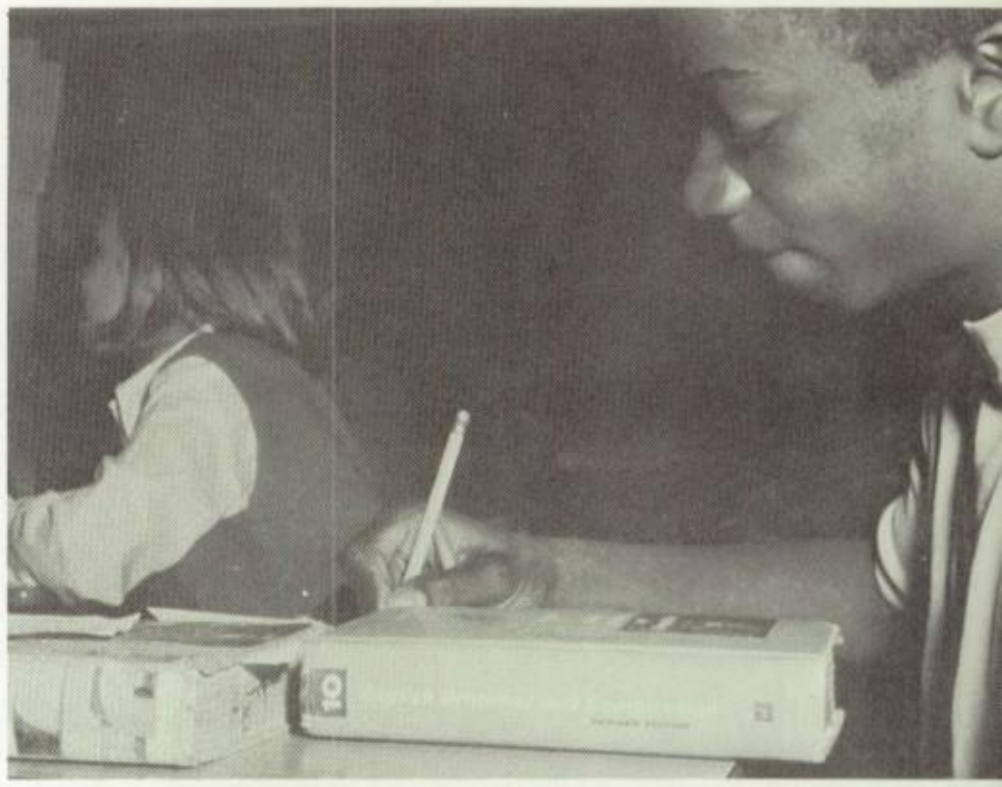
Mrs. Sandra Hojnacki engages in serious discussion of the day's reading assignment.

Mrs. Melvan Martin reminds her student that some books are not proper literature for English class.

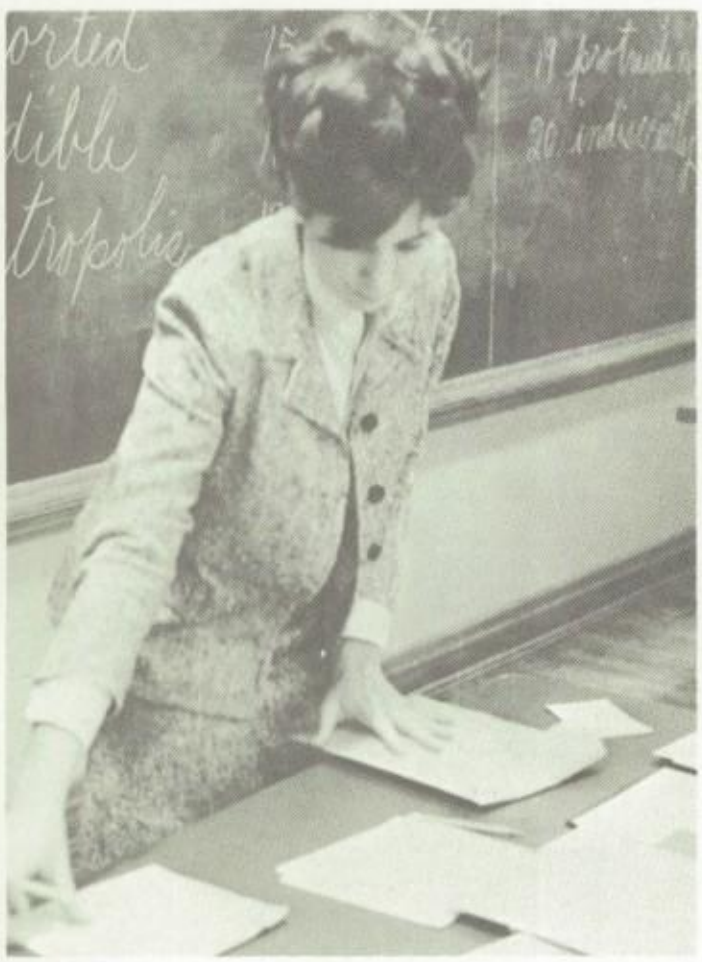


Mr. Dennis Wielgos reviews his preparations for the day.

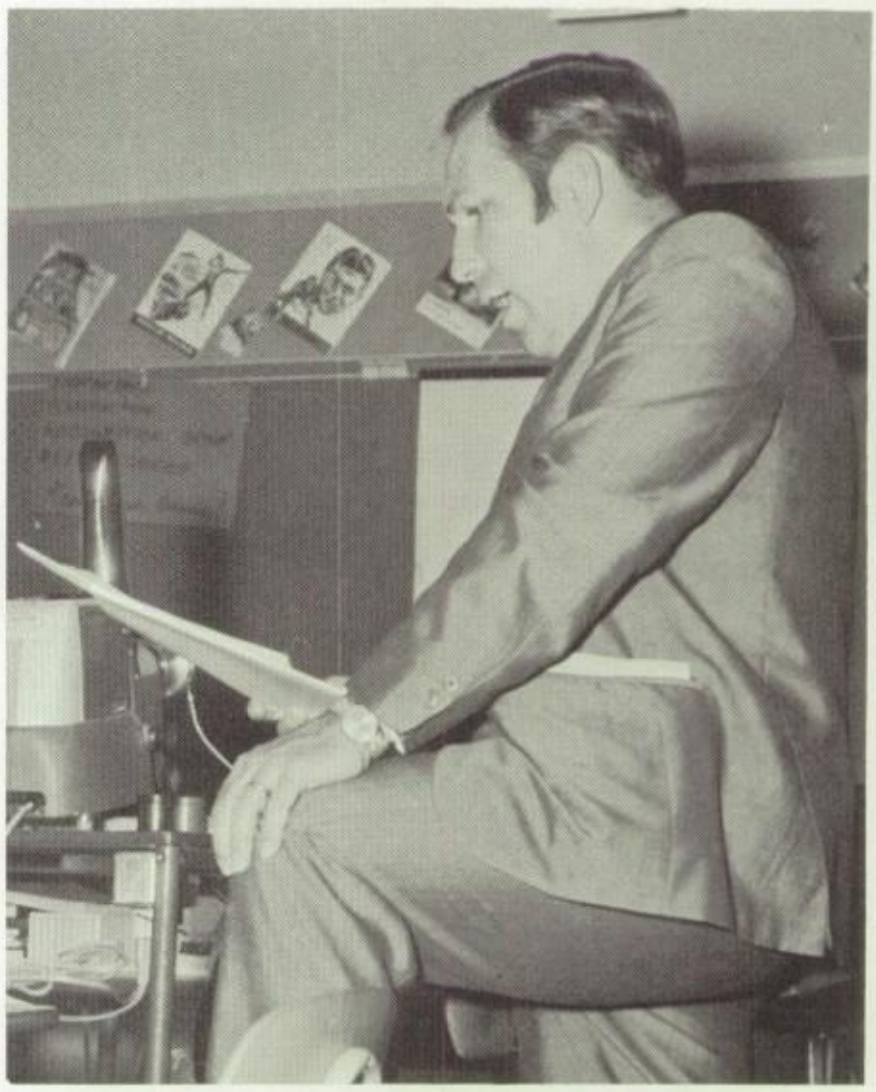
Mr. James Casady, on his way to the Riley stage, always makes time for a courteous greeting.



Learning about grammar and composition requires concentration.



Miss Mary Majewski, who student taught in English here, became a full time Riley teacher this year.

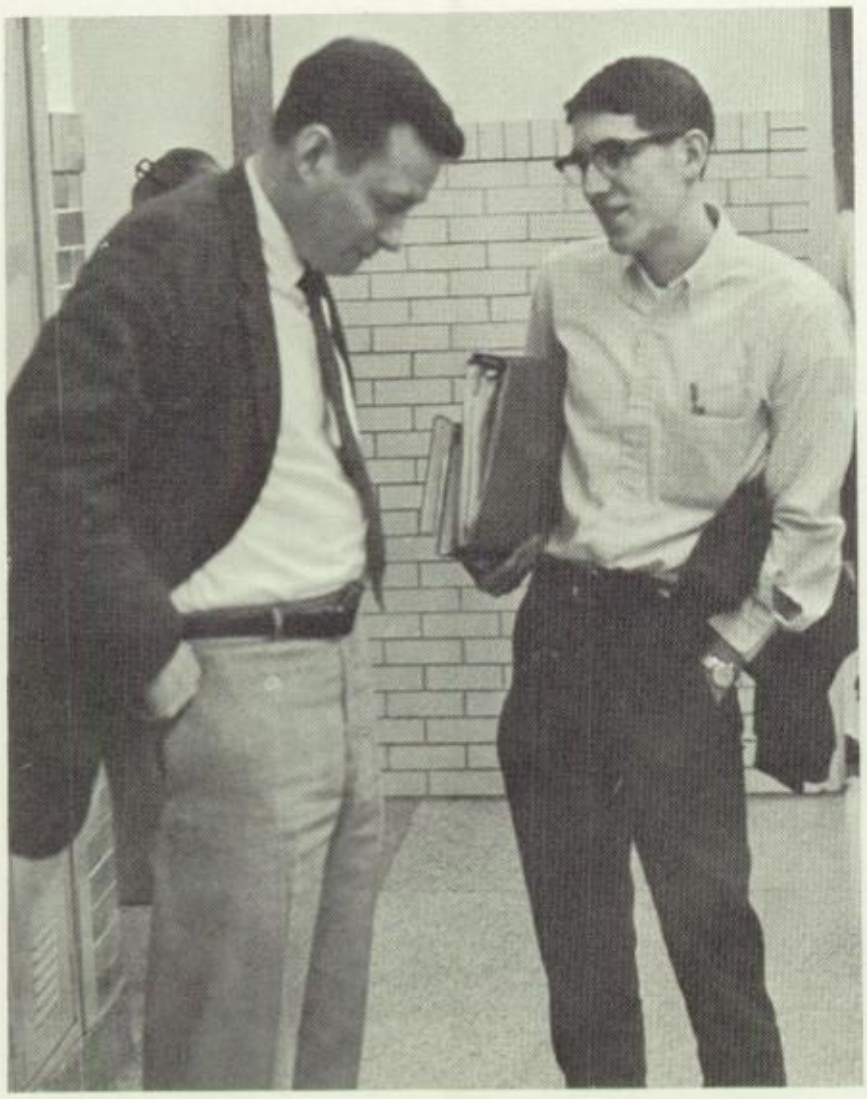


Mr. Thomas Black lectures about Corrective Reading and uses all available testing devices to help students improve their reading ability.

Creativity is stressed in all English courses at Riley. After learning the principles of good grammar, students face the task of developing originality in essays, themes, and poetry. Knowing the structural forms of writing and employing all rules of correct English is of great importance to the serious English student. Recognizing language as part of life, Riley teachers demand much of their pupils.

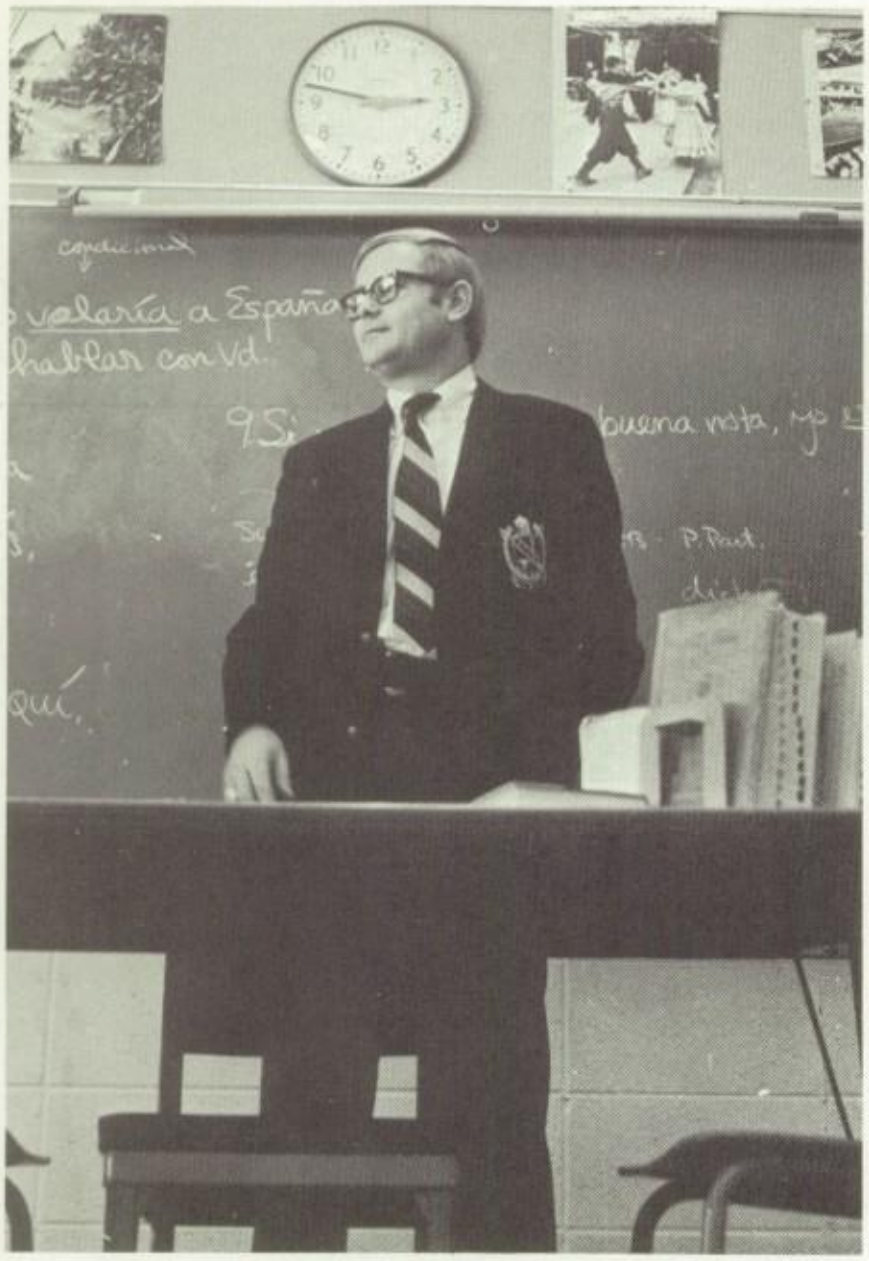
Creative Writing, Journalism I, and Journalism II are three additional courses in the Riley English Department. These three courses further develop potential writing talent and provide opportunities for varied means of expression.

Mrs. Louise Miller is caught by the camera before entering the bookstore.



Mr. Charles Goodman discusses past and coming events of the Debate Team with Arthur Diamond.

The English Department Chairman, Miss June Waterman, accepts reams of paperwork as part of her daily schedule.



Mr. Garry Smith in deep meditation.

Mr. Dennis Kielton leisurely discusses concepts of Spanish.

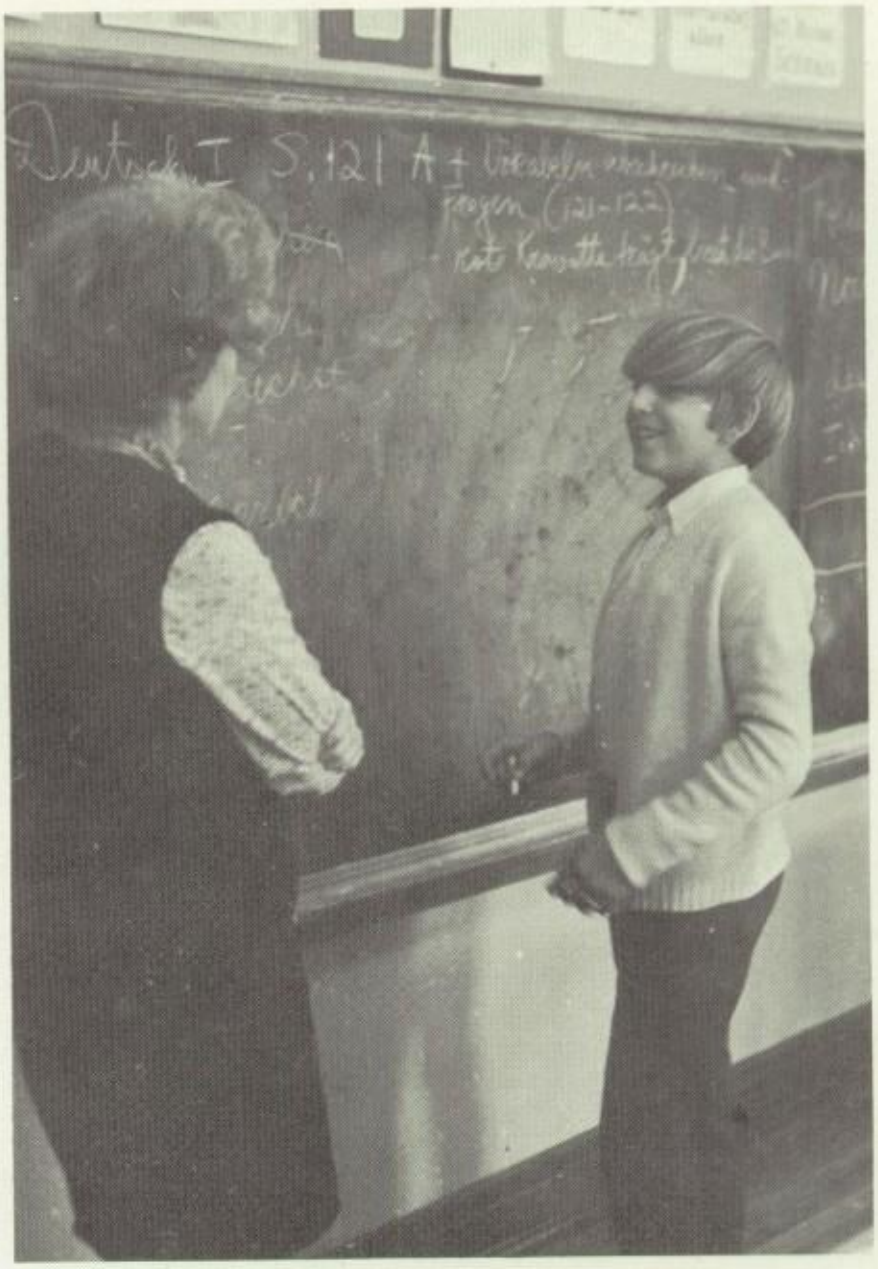
VOICES OF . . .

Singing the traditional German melodies is a pleasant part of Mrs. Doris Goldsmith's class.

Students at Riley find the study of foreign language a challenge to the mind. Speaking the language fluently is a difficult chore at times, but devoted students soon master the vocabularies. Engrossed beginners are caught in the halls uttering such phrases as "Guten Morgen" or "Buenos Dias."

Icy patterns at the window may detract from Miss Mary Schlater's explanation.

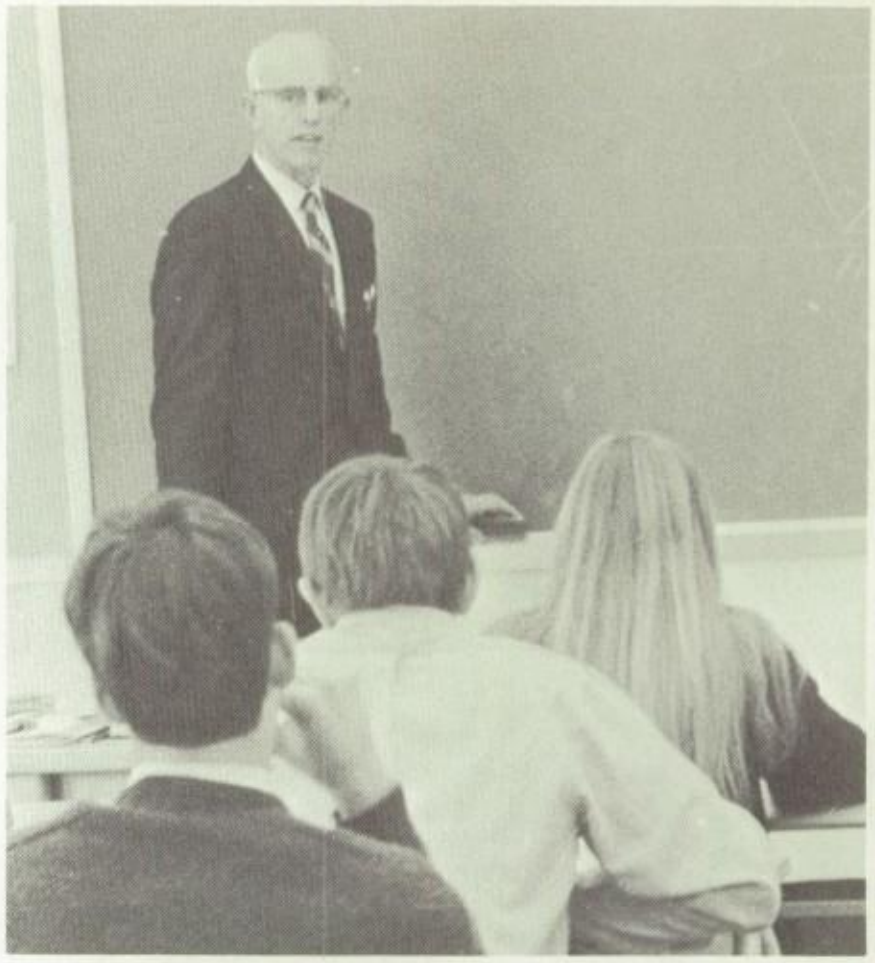
DIFFERENT LANGUAGES



Tony Huszar proves himself at the blackboard.

Miss Violet Rohrer is surrounded by books and statues of the Latin culture.

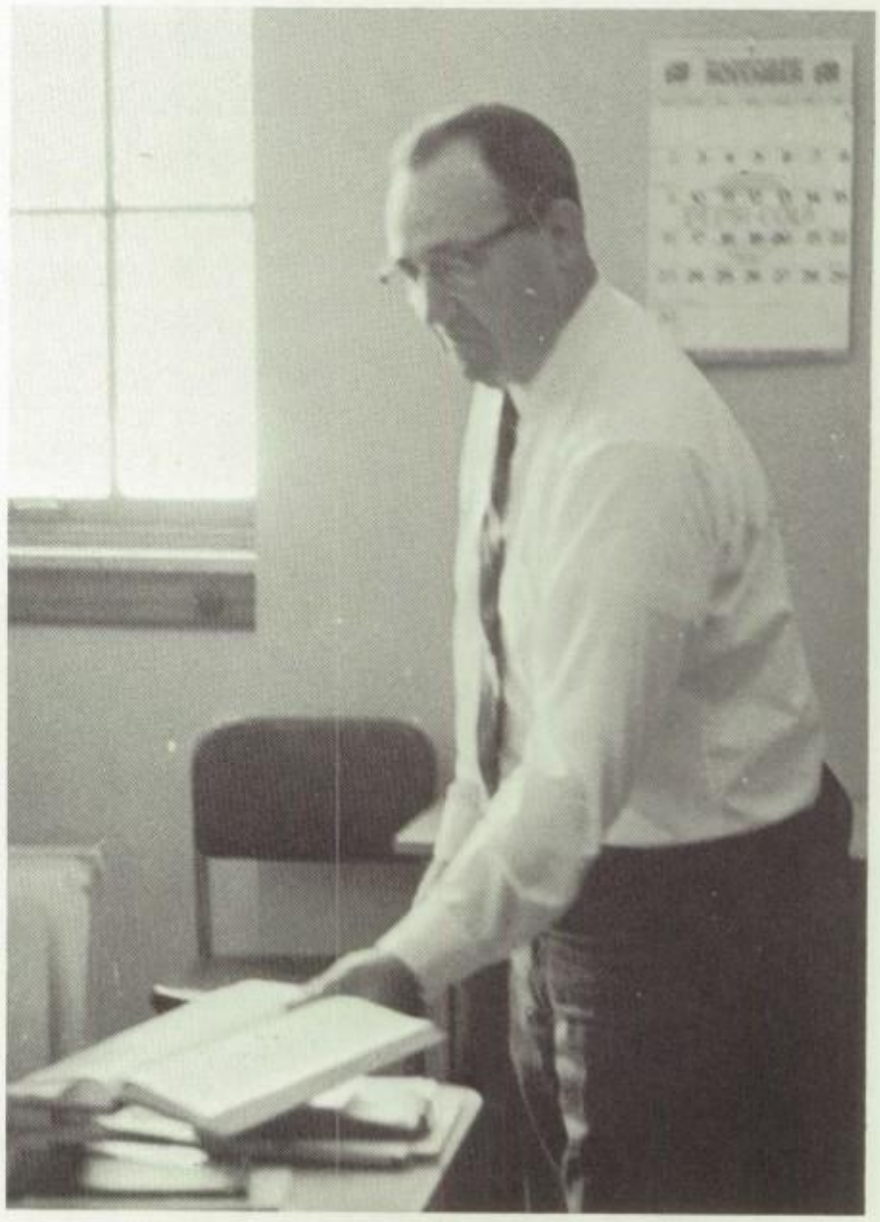
The endless chore of grading papers occupies Mr. David Freel.



In his geometry classes, Mr. Charles Stewart shares his knowledge of proofs and postulates.

From decimals to double values, from simple numbers to a symphony of symbols, the mathematics curriculum in the modern high school offers challenge and stimulus to students whose days are "numbered." All students are required to take one year of some basic mathematics course, and many choose to progress through Algebra-Trigonometry to Analytical Calculus for a four-year major in math. Riley's Mathematics department offers a full spectrum of courses to meet the needs and interests of the students.

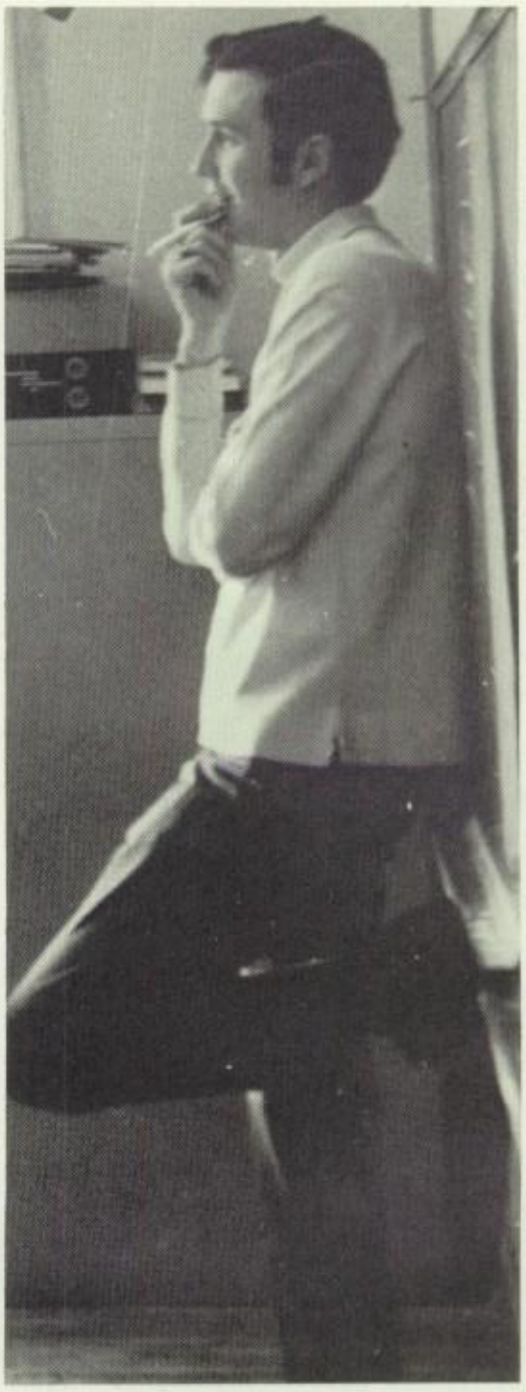
Miss Elizabeth Murphy looks up as she prepares the next day's assignment.



Mr. Markwood Edison relies more upon his vast knowledge of the subject than the text.

MATHEMATICS MOTIVATES THE MIND

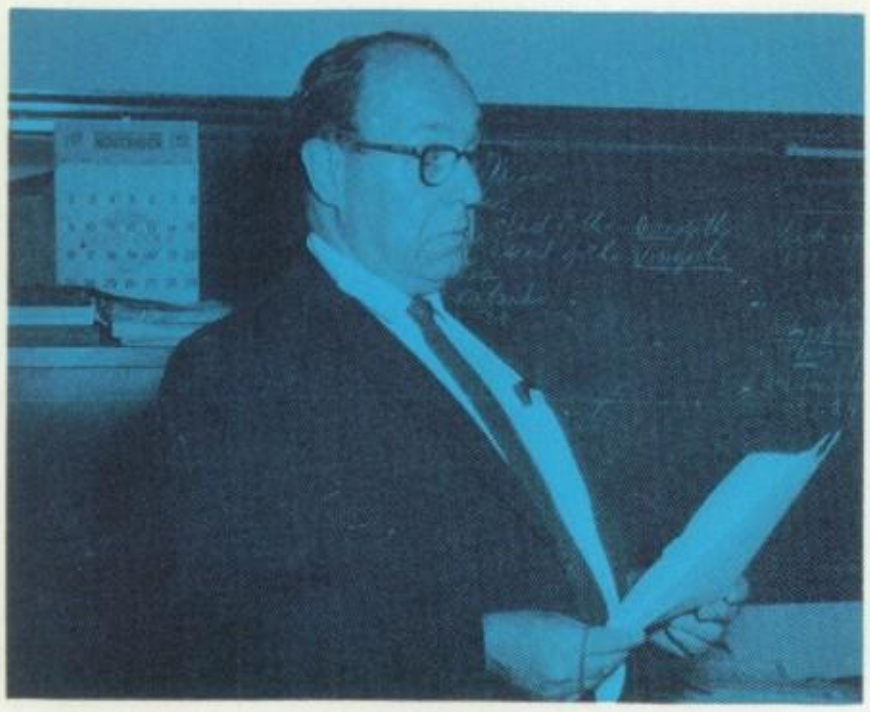
Miss Violet Rohrer demonstrates skill at mathematics in her elementary algebra class.



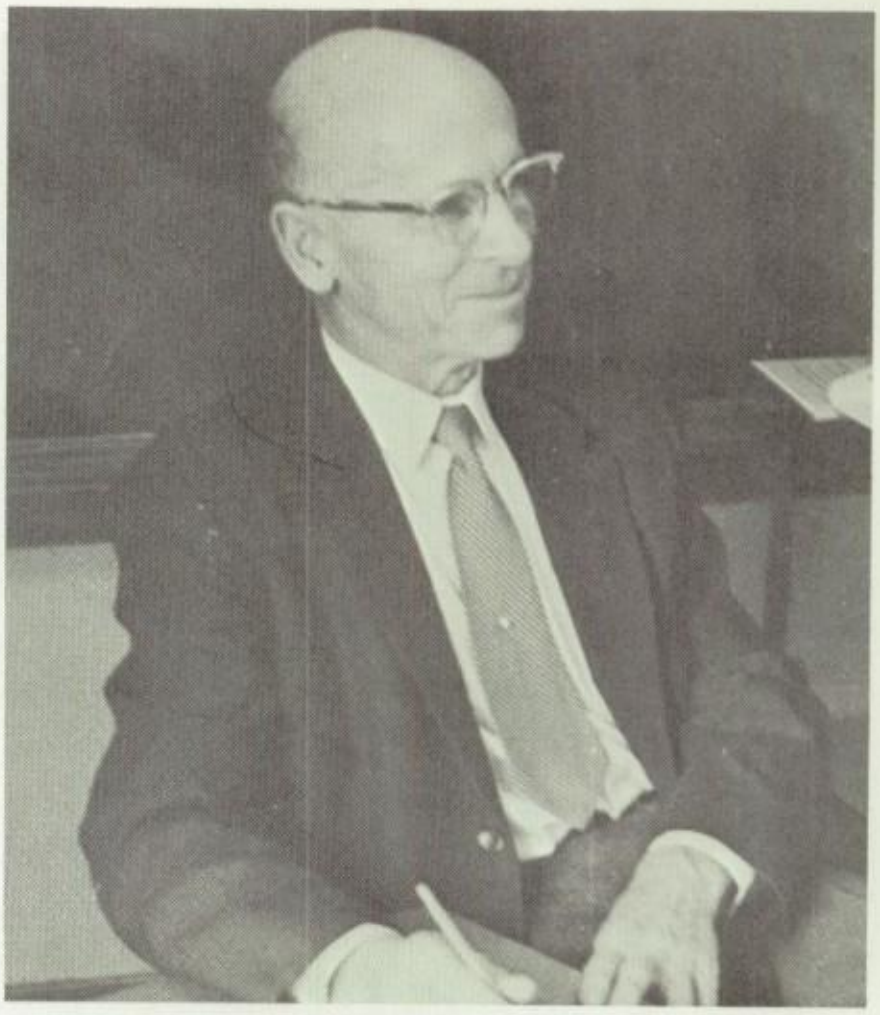
Mr. Julian Penny ponders a question posed by one of his students.

Mr. Frances Hoffer relates his interpretation to interested students.

Mrs. Joan Marie Durant enlightens the class on a perplexing problem.



Mr. John Pierson is surprised at a student's answer.



Mr. Ernest Horn teaches Government-Sociology to seniors, and is the Social Studies department chairman.

Mr. Burton Brenneman listens attentively to a report being given on the Factory System.

SOCIAL STUDIES

Mr. Richard Harper lectures his class in the fundamentals of war between two countries.

Mr. James Krider enjoys a conversational exchange with the students.

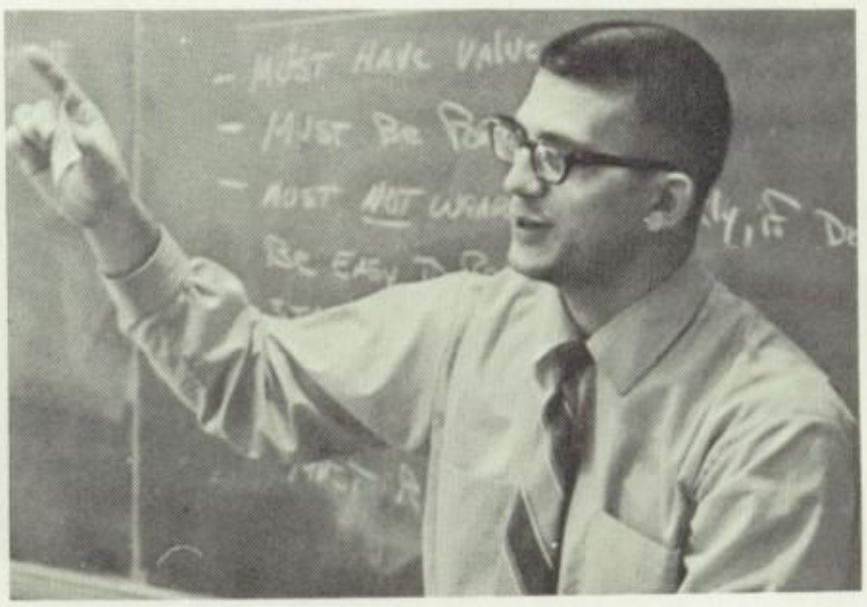
Materials organized and ideas prepared, Mr. Joseph Callahan awaits the arrival of his class.

Social Studies serves as a bridge to a broader understanding of the complex society of today. As freshmen, Riley students are exposed to new ideas through Introduction to Social Studies. World History and U.S. History give sophomores and juniors a background of past events. Seniors are prepared for life in a democratic society through the study of Government and Sociology. A new course, Contemporary Society, has been developed this year by Mr. Simpson and Mr. Krider. This course combines the curriculum of senior courses and attempts to deal with today clearly and honestly. A resource center adjacent to the team-teaching classroom is a boon to curious students.

Trying to grade tests while his students anxiously await the results is a hard task, as Mr. Thomas Hess can tell you.

Mr. Doug Simpson enjoys his Contemporary Society class . . . and he shows it.

Mr. Gary Fry, caught by surprise, takes a second look at his class.



Mr. Thomas Connelly emphasizes his point with the real "green".

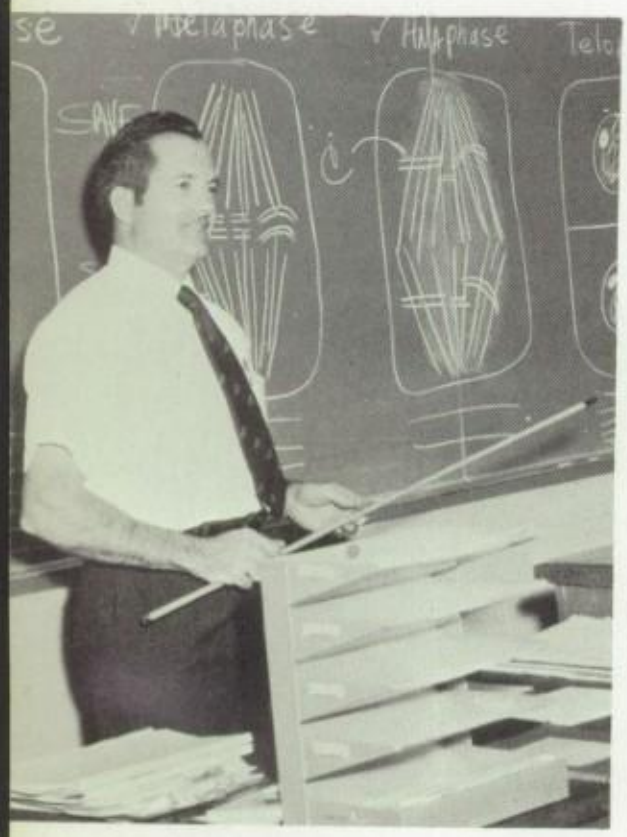
Mr. Allen Rogers' good nature and smiling face enhance his teaching methods.

Miss Maureen Wolfe ponders the complexities of Biology.

Mr. John Marker reviews the procedure for using the microscope.

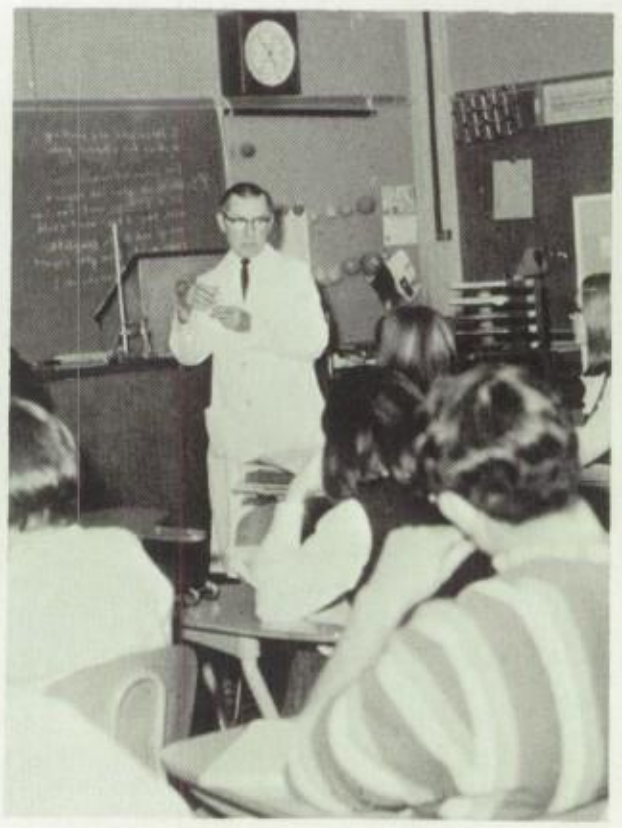
SCIENCE

Through science, students gain an insight into similarities and distinctions between all forms of life, the different elements that make up the universe. Experiences are provided in laboratories and classrooms for Biology, Physics, and Chemistry that meet and surpass the college entrance requirements of the future scientists. To the unitiated, Riley science courses often open doors to lifetime interests in the scope and sweep of science.



Mr. Paul Frazier depends on the chalkboard as a visual aid in his lecture.

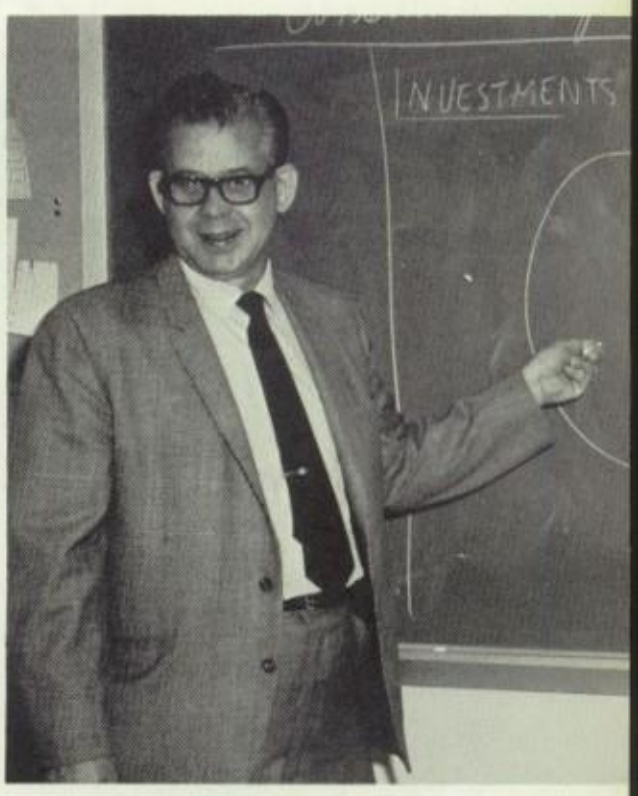
Mr. Dale Wiand pauses a moment to organize his thoughts.



Mr. Felix Wiatrowski explains laboratory procedure to his students.

Mr. Lionel Martin discusses the goals of a typing test with his class.

Willingness to help her students at all times is a trait of Miss Diana Timmons.



Mr. Joseph Fross talks of the aspects of investments.

The business of teaching the skills needed for typing, shorthand, and general office procedures, as well as marketing concepts, is handled efficiently at Riley by an experienced group of teachers, each a specialist in his field. Many students with majors in this subject area go directly to positions in the business world upon graduation.

BUSINESS

Mr. Paul Swanson concentrates as he plans for tomorrow's lesson.

Mrs. Florence Whiteford and Mrs. Nancy Wiand compare their views on occupational training.

Mr. Don Coddens displays great patience with his Introduction to Business class.

VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Nancy Jeronik answers phones and talks to customers of Oberlin Realty Company every afternoon.

Janet Gundt practices her filing while working in Riley's Guidance office.

Mr. Roger Katterheinrich utilizes modern business equipment for the benefit of his class in Distributive Education.

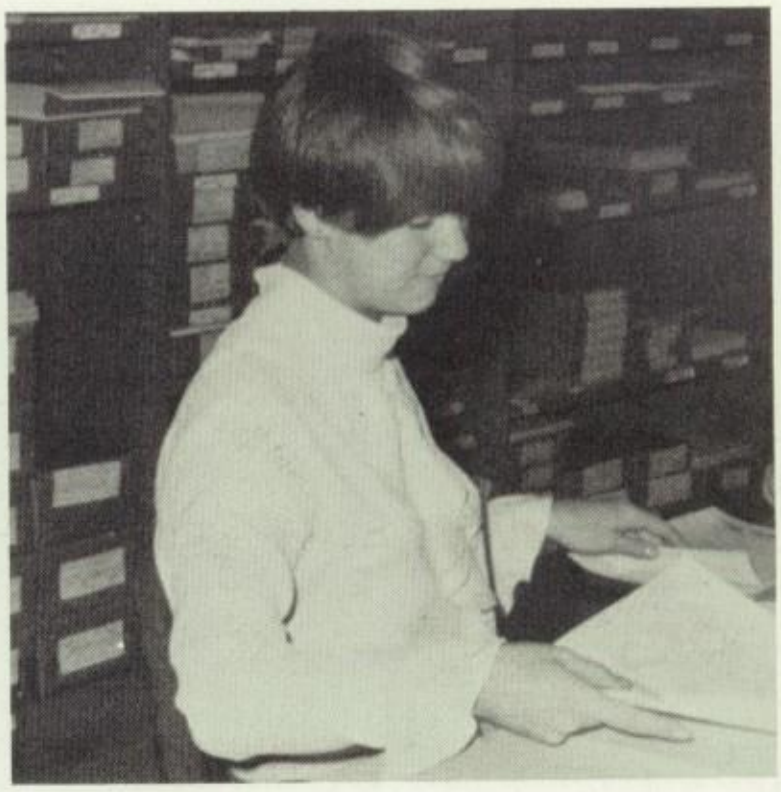
Vocational education in South Bend is part of a larger program which functions at state and national levels. It deals with on the job — earn as you learn occupational training. The three participating programs at Riley are Industrial Cooperative Training (I.C.T.), Distributive Education (D.E.), and Cooperative Office Education (C.O.E.). Enrollees in these class programs spend at least an hour each morning with the teacher-coordinators, attend required classes, and report to work in the afternoon or evening.

In addition, each class is organized as a club under the auspices of Vocational Industrial Clubs of America (V.I.C.A.). Club activities are planned primarily to develop leadership qualities through contests, fund raising projects, elections, and participation in V.I.C.A. with other students throughout the country.

Sue Duff, left, state treasurer of the Office Education Association of Indiana, and Dawn Peters, state president of V.I.C.A., discuss the minutes of the last meeting.



Kathy Anderson performs her tasks at Chevrolet Motor Division.

Awards and certificates won by the members of Riley's vocational education clubs in state and national competition during the past year.

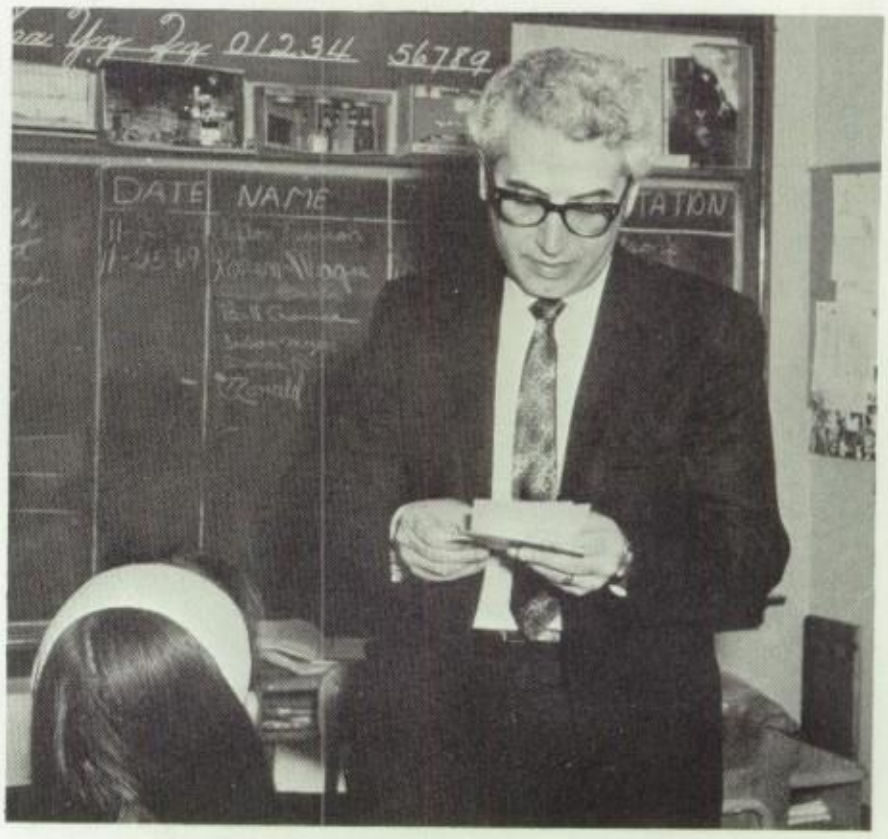
PRE-VOCATIONAL EDUCATION

Surrounded by books, Mrs. Lillian Moss works dilligently at her desk.



Mr. George Orfanos examines a student's notes.

Riley's Pre-Vocational Education program is conducted jointly by teacher-counselors, Mr. George Orfanos and Mrs. Lillian Moss. The program here, which provides varied work and experiences for boys and girls, is a prototype for similar programs in 18 other Indiana schools and in 13 other states as well. The P.V.E. program at Riley is in its third year.

IN MEMORY

Miss Catherine Wolf, once selected one of the 12 top professional women tennis players in the United States came to Riley in 1956. Known to most Riley students as a Health teacher, Miss Wolf began her teaching career as a Physical Education instructor. A dedicated teacher, she won the respect and admiration of her students and peers. Death came as she competed in a championship tennis match during the summer of 1969.

Adding color and interest to the bands are the "golden girls", Judy Gibbs and Donna Kruszewski.

The Riley High School Bands have added much to school life. Each month the bands have had specific important projects and each member has accepted these responsibilities with vigor and enthusiasm. During September and October band members gave much in time and energy to produce sparkling halftime football shows. In November and May concerts were given at the Indiana University Auditorium. December and January were spent in preparation for the Solo and Ensemble contests. February, March and April were spent preparing for the Spring Concert and Spring Musical in cooperation with the Vocal Music and Drama Departments.

The band not only supports Riley school life, but participates in parades in the fall, winter and spring to help promote civic pride. The Riley band was honored to play for the dedication of the new City-County Building.

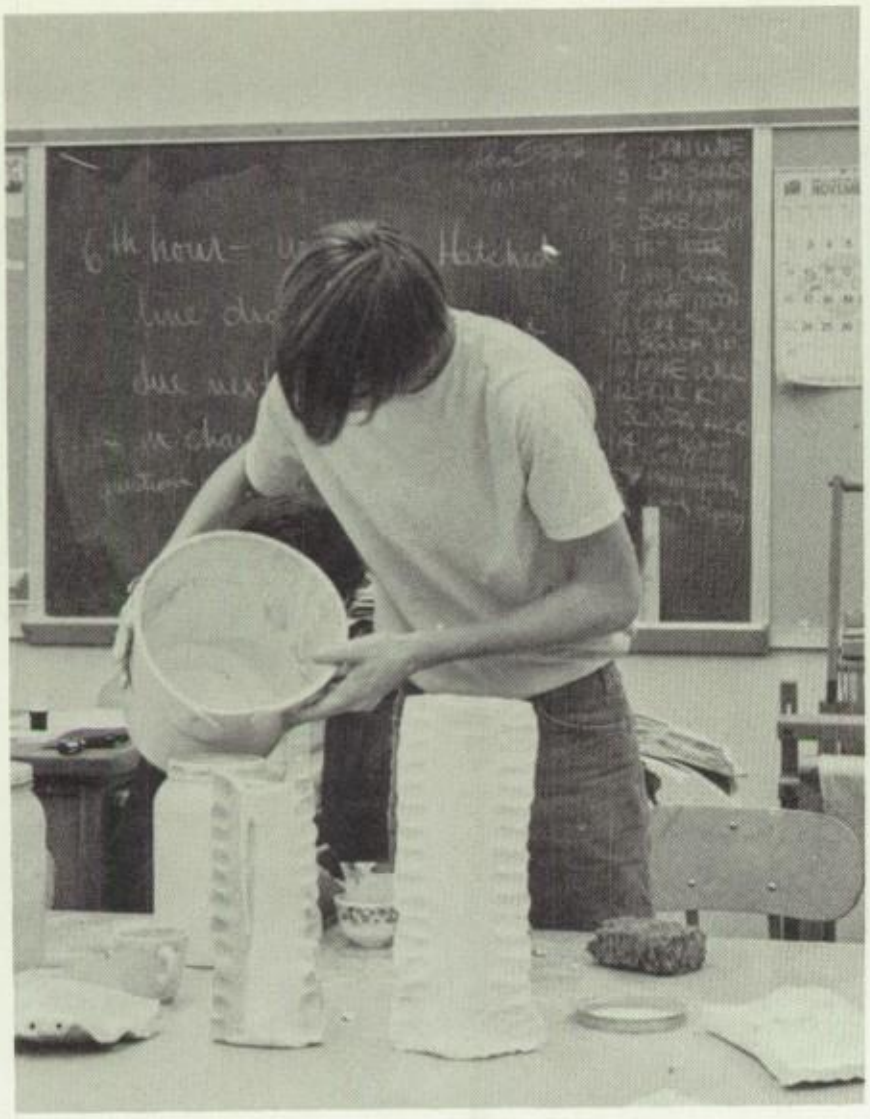
ART CLUB



Membership in the Art Club enables Dan Wolfe to pursue creative challenges.

Two enthusiastic members of the Art Club are Mitzie Beslac and Gwen Rector.

The Art Club meets weekly to provide interested students with special instruction by Mr. Todd Hoover, who as the sponsor, enthusiastically endorses the creative goals of the group.

MEDICAL CLUB

USHERS CLUB

The Riley Ushers, sponsored by Mr. Allen Rogers, are a familiar part of all school functions. Their importance cannot be deemphasized. These dedicated boys serve at wrestling matches, basketball games, football games and dramatic productions. Boys in the Ushers Club, while serving the school, have a great opportunity to meet and serve the public.

LIBRARY CLUB

Riley's Library Club members are students willing to give up a free hour to assist their teachers and fellow students by making helpful information available. This year Riley has two new librarians and an almost completely new staff. Mrs. Kramer and Mrs. Shelley show the new members how to do carding, slipping, and book arranging. Along with the librarians, these students deserve credit for the efficiently organized library.

TOP ROW: Mrs. Kramer, Sara Tuttle, Kathy Rose, Jane Goldsberry, Betty Lacy, Bob McMillan, Mrs. Shelley. 2nd ROW: Becky Griffey, Kathy Thompson, Sally Natharius, Mary DuBois, Cindy Miller, Vicki Lindbergh, Linda Moore, Ruth Kraus, Cindy Ackelson. BOTTOM ROW: Lillian Sarno, Peggy Faulk, Mary Donohue, Barbara Warren, Senora Chatman, Kathy Correll, Klaudette Jones.

"Please! Only one at a time."

RILEY BOWLERS STRIKE AGAIN

It's a strike! Crashing pins prove this bowler hit his mark.

DRAMA CLUB

Some "characters" from "Barbarine": McCullough Tabb, Dave Beveridge, Suzy Szenkendi and Wally Jessup.

The general purpose of the Drama Department, under the direction of James Lewis Casady, is to promote the dramatic activities at Riley. Everyone in the club is sounding a role of his own. Each member is assigned to work on a committee such as props, lighting, wardrobe or choreography in an effort to improve the quality of the drama productions. Working as a team, these people have been able to produce outstanding dramas.

DEBATE TEAM

Sound logic and reasoning, ease in delivery, and organization of evidence and arguments are the earmarks of a good debater. The impressive display of trophies won by Riley debate teams of other years is one of the many challenges that faced this year's varsity. Throughout the year the Debate Team varsity members have opportunities to compete in debate invitational contests over the state, culminating in the contests and activities of the Indiana High School Forensic Association, the St. Joe Valley Forensic League, and the National Forensic League. The school can be proud of the fine work Mr. Charles Goodman and his teams continue to do.

Mr. Goodman stands behind members of the Varsity Debate team, LEFT TO RIGHT: Terry Crone, Fred Sulok, Dennis Lieberman and team captain Arthur Diamond. Alternates are Jim Lerman and Richard Greulich.

FRENCH CLUB

GERMAN CLUB

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB

Seated with the officers of the Home Ec Club is Mrs. Amoruso. Officers are: Deanne Aker, President; Jennifer Thornton, Vice President; Patty Adamson, Secretary.

Other members are, LEFT TO RIGHT: Cathy Goralski, Paula Hartman, Laurene Hostetler, Brenda Craft, Connie Witter, Kathy Riggs, Peggy Faulk.

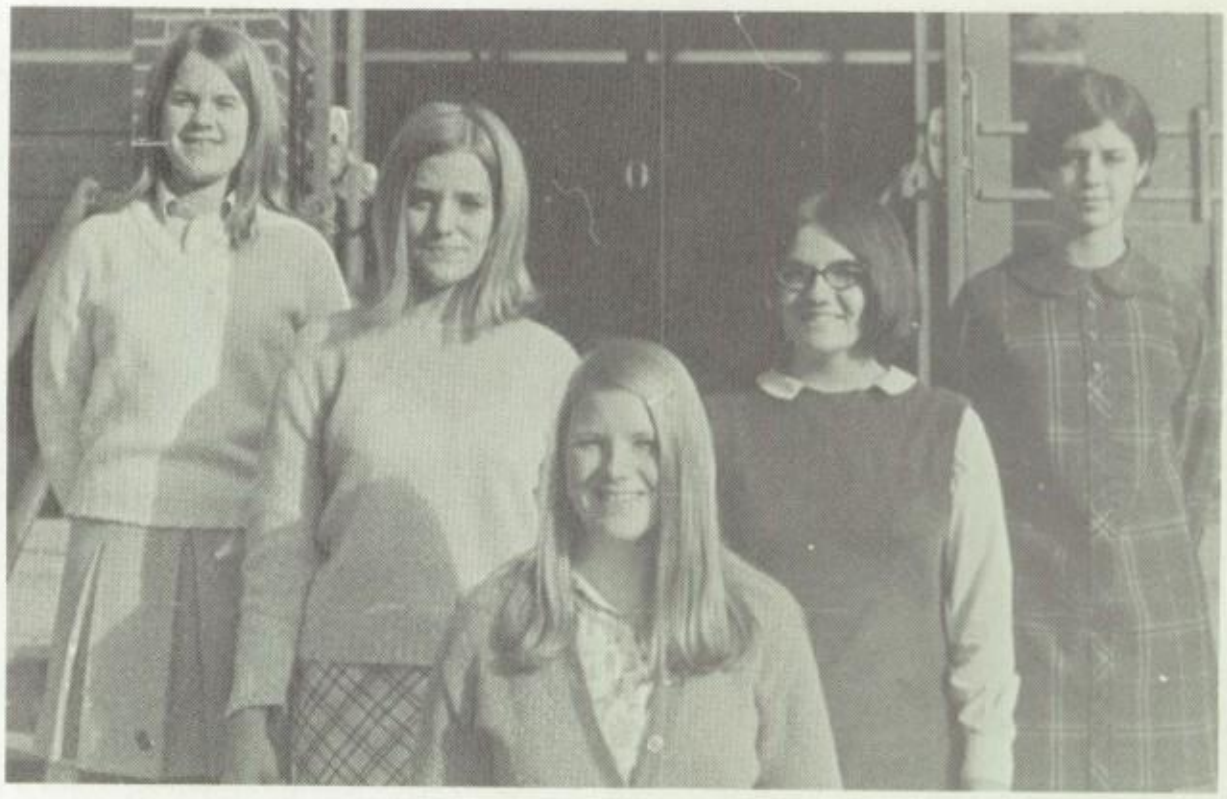
AUDIO VISUAL CLUB

Jim Sanders, Jim Ward and Wayne Liszewski help to keep the A-V Club "rolling".

The Audio Visual Club, sponsered by Mr. Wiatrowski, is responsible for the distribution of audio visual aids to the students and teachers. The members of Audio Visual Club are: Garry Virga, Mark Hoggatt, Phil Ridenour, Jon Viehe, Alan Sorberg, Kenny VanHulle, Don DeCook, Lynn Lively, Sam Kambol, Alan DeCook, Mike Fetters, Ron Lusk, Wayne Liszewski, Tom Kring and Chris Hanna.

G.A.A.

The Girls' Athletic Association, under the supervision of Miss Mary Lauer, gives interested girls an opportunity to develop new and better skills in gymnastics, bowling, volleyball and other athletic activities. By the end of the school year, the GAA membership, open to any girl interested in one of the many activities GAA has to offer, includes over 200 girls.



Officers are, LEFT TO RIGHT: Mindy Craven, Reporter; Margaret Piller, Treasurer; Marsha Farrar, President; Ann Grunwald, Secretary; and Alice Lawson, Vice-President.

Marsha Farrar, President, and hard working G.A.A. members worked weeks before the beginning of school to produce the float that placed first in the annual Miami Street Parade. The parade, as always, was a great success.

SYNCHRONETTES

Pam Downey and Wendy Moeller, narrators of Synchronettes' 1969 production, "Futura 13."

Every Wednesday night the Riley pool resounds with the cries and splashes of over sixty Synchronettes. These talented girls work diligently with their sponsor, Miss McNeal, to learn stunts and routines in preparation for the annual Synchronettes water show. This production is the culmination of a year's efforts and has been presented each spring at Riley since our pool was built.

As we push off for the future, we realize that the start of our academic, social, aesthetic and athletic endeavors are anchored here at Riley.

BAND BLARES ENCOURAGEMENT

From the Miami Street Parade to the last football game, the Riley Marching Band led by drum majors Randy Martin and Loren Felabom, has a task that is second to none. The members of the band invest much of their time, practicing every morning before school. They are responsible for the football halftime shows and add an extra spirit-boost to our football team with their musical additions to the yells. The rhythmic pounding of the drums and the lone trumpet which signals "charge" are known to Riley students as battle cries for victory.

Band Director, Mr. Lewis Habeggar, puts the marching band through its early morning paces, come rain, mud, snow, or sun.

"The drums go bang, and the cymbals clang, and the horns they blaze away . . . " Hours of work and practice are requirements for the proud wearers of the Riley band uniform.

CHEERLEADERS AROUSE SPIRIT

Varsity cheerleaders are TOP TO BOTTOM: Susie Kern, Carol Habegger, Sue Hiles, Cindy Abel, and Carolyn Reed.

Cheerleaders huddle, deciding their next plan of action.

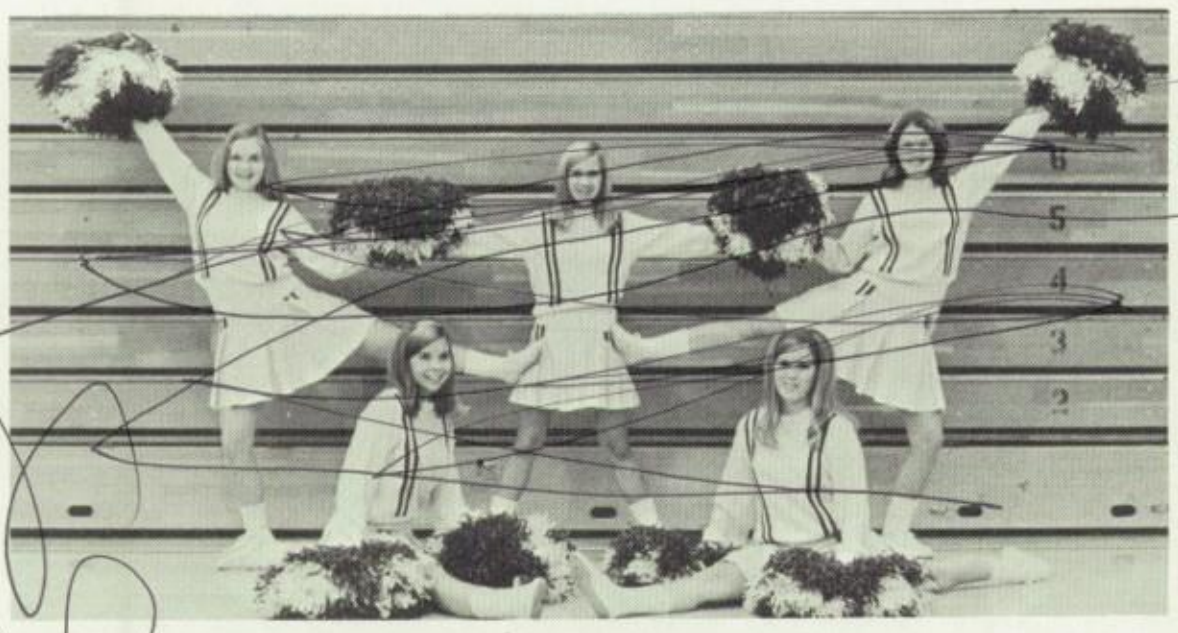
Cheerleaders cross the lines of school rivalry to ham it up for the camera with the Adams cheerleaders.

The sounds of the Riley cheerleaders have become as much a part of our athletic contests as the tap-tap of a dribbled ball or the crashing of helmets and hip pads. How strange a game would seem without their constant bursts of enthusiasm and encouragement. Their contribution to the school is one all can appreciate, for the cheerleaders not only arouse spirit in the teams, but in the crowds also, making it possible for them to feel a part of the game.

Freshman cheerleaders are: Marcie Kamp, Carol Lanko, Pam Gay, Mary Lou Frietag, Kelly Tyler.

Tammy Kil feels that the only place to cheer is near the team.

The B-team cheerleaders try to rouse some spirit in these Riley spectators.



B-team cheerleaders are: Johnell Haas, Bonnie Biggs, Debbie Ritter, Tammy Kil, and Cindy Szucs.

Nadina, Sue Nimtz, sings her song, "My Hero."

THE CHOCOLATE SOLDIER

Last spring the Riley auditorium resounded with the roar of a Bulgarian-Serbian war when the Drama Department staged Oscar Strauss's musical, "The Chocolate Soldier." The play was produced by James Lewis Casaday in collaboration with Rocco Germano, musical director.

The girls try to help the Chocolate Soldier, Paul Jones, recover and escape.

This year's annual fall drama production, presented by Mr. James Lewis Casaday, was Alfred de Musset's comedy, "Barberine." The story of a woman's fidelity was staged by Riley's talented drama students for two nights in October. During the long hours of rehearsals, the players gave of their time and energy, striving to become different people. As the hours passed and the time for the production drew near, the players transformed into romantic sixteenth century characters.

Dave Beveridge welcomes Wally Jessup to his castle.

A traditional backstage scene: the cast presents a gift to Mr. Casaday.

Count Ulrich, Mark Olson, awaits the entrance of his rival.

VOICES AND VIOLINS VIBRATE . . .

The result of hours of rehearsal is demonstrated at the Fall Concert by the Riley Glee Club.

Every morning at 7:10, Riley High School is awakened by the harmonious sounds of the Glee Club. Under the direction of Mr. Rocco Germano, a widely known and highly respected musician and conductor, the group has presented many fine performances. Riley is fortunate to have the devotion of many fine students of music.

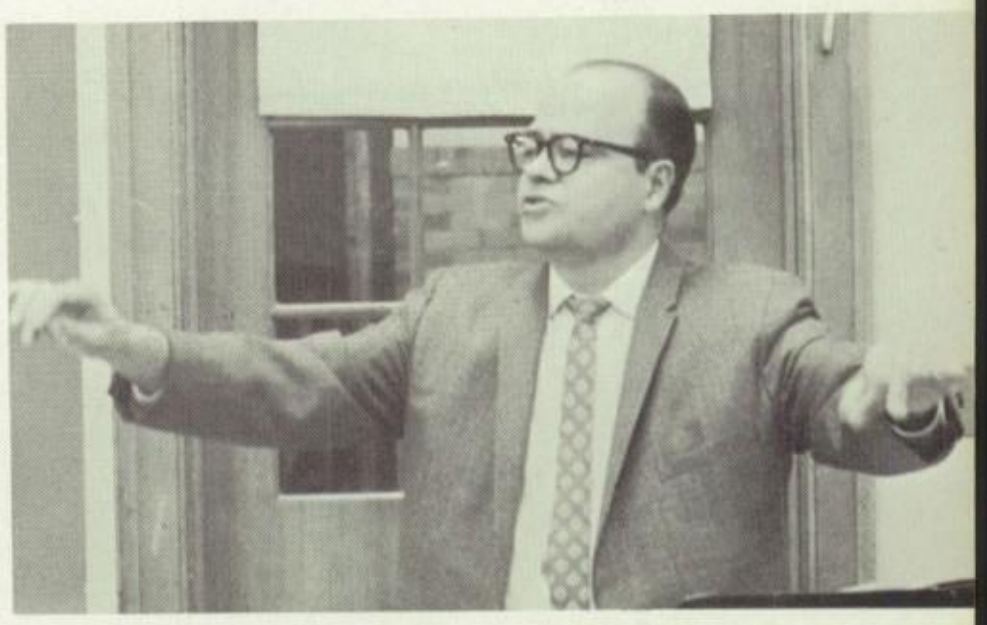
Mr. Germano's view of the group at 7 a.m. is somewhat blurred.



The students' view of Mr. Germano is no more clear, but does provide an optimistic beginning for their day.

The officers of the Glee Club discuss matters of policy with Mr. Germano. The officers are: Bruce Kayser, Paul Jones, Jeanne Deitel, Marilyn Shrote, Sue Nimtz, Randy Martin, and Debbie Wysong.

. . . AS STUDENTS REHEARSE

The Riley Orchestra is dedicated to the perfection of melody, rhythm and deep-toned harmony. Each day during first hour, members learn and practice new scores with the helpful aid of Mr. Rocco Germano. One hour a day is hardly enough time for the great amount of work which is done by this organization.

NEWS TO SCHOOL FROM HI-TIMES

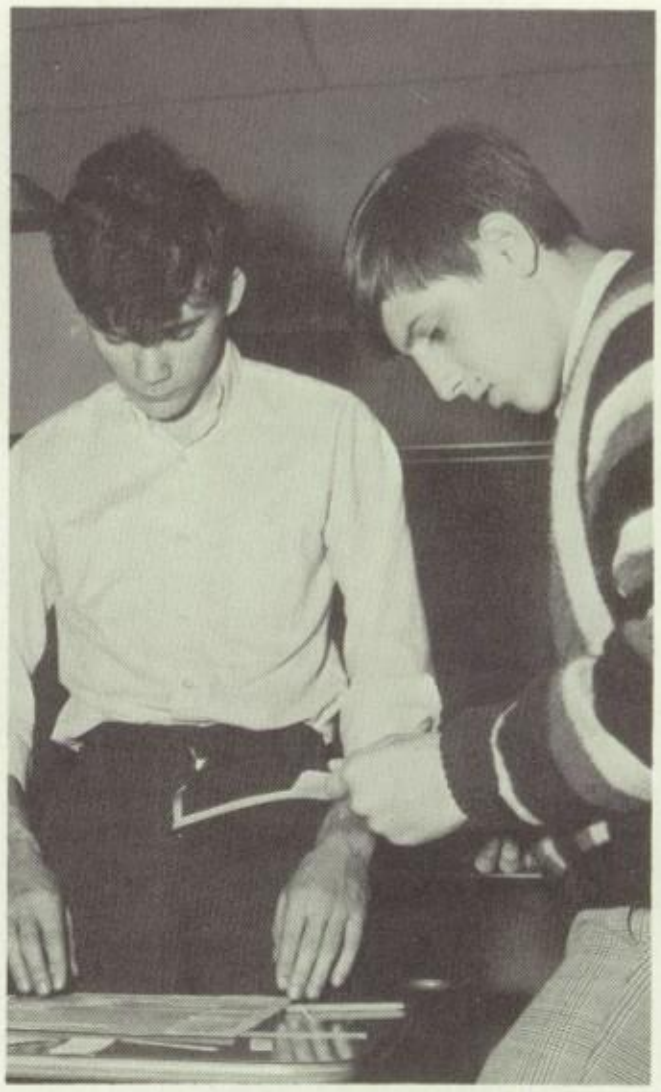
This year's editors of the HI-TIMES are Randy Martin and Marti Oler.

The flashing of cameras and clicking of typewriters are familiar sights and sounds to the members of the HI-TIMES staff. Each day the paper is challenged with the task of keeping students abreast of activities and news in the school. Countless interviews take place, hundreds of articles are written. Hours of work go into the paper, yet the job is never done. Even before one paper is sold, another issue is born and growing. The job is hard, but the staff gains great satisfaction and knowledge publishing the HI-TIMES.

Andy Chmiel, Annette Zehender, and Landy Gardner debate over what to put where.

Dave Pyclik and Greg Banicki instill school spirit in the way of an informative sports page.

Nick Medich masters the art of pasting up a column as Mike Burnette looks on . . .



. . . then supervises as Arpi Pocza tries his hand.

Sue Brambert helps with the distribution of the HI-TIMES during homeroom.

The finished product is read with interest by the students. Mrs. Louise Miller is the faculty sponsor for the HI-TIMES.

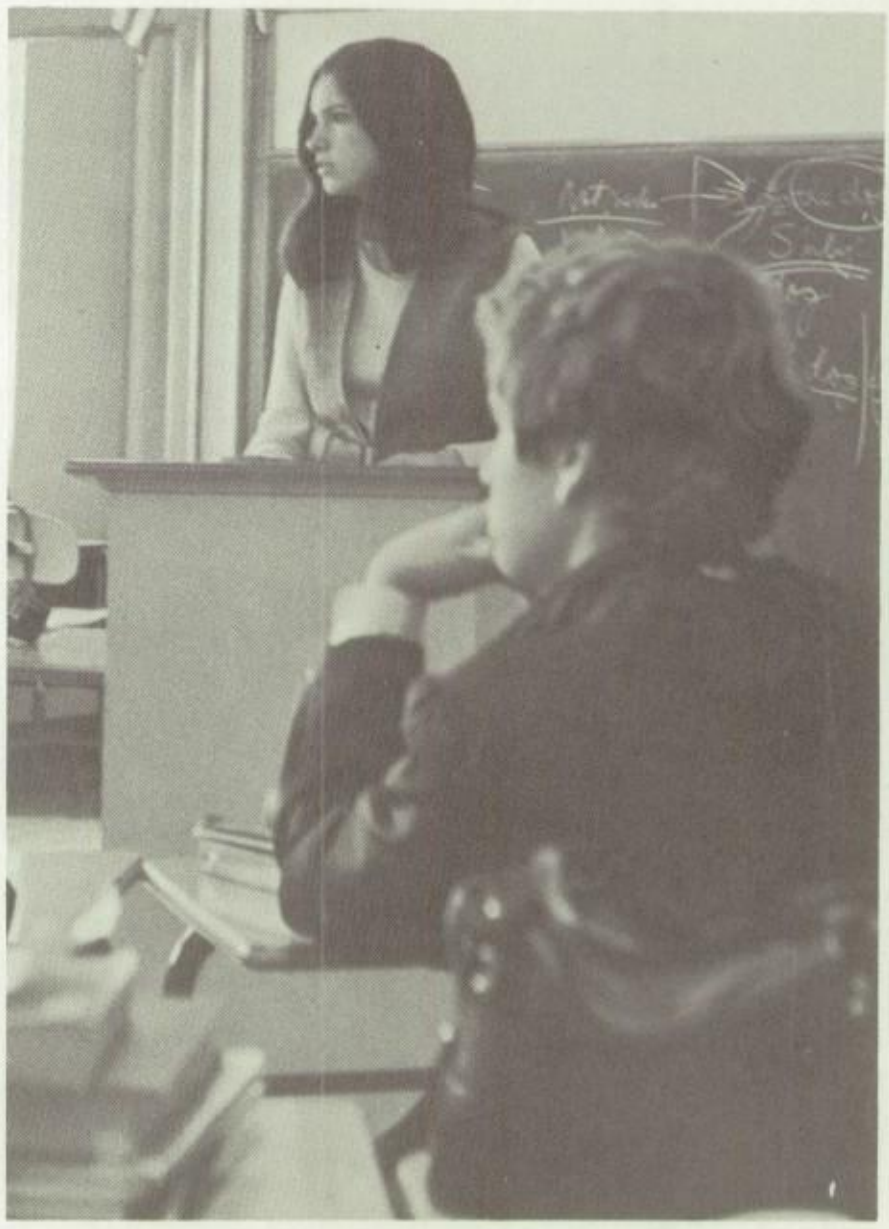
HERE MEMORIES ARE IN THE MAKING

Sally Stefaniak skillfully applies ink to her division page design.

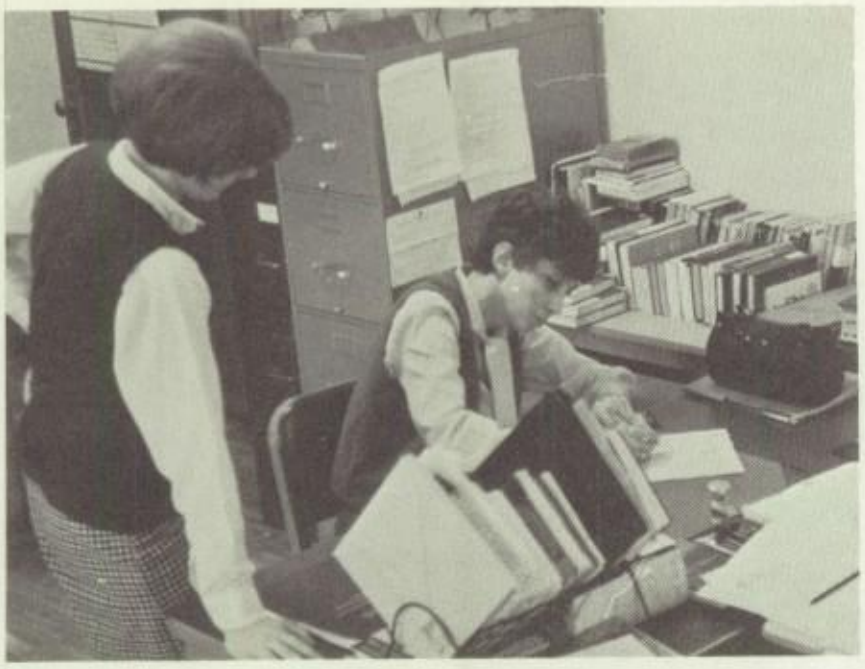
Hurrying to meet deadlines, anxiously awaiting the return of photos, and wracking tired brains for copy to write are all parts of producing a yearbook. The HOOSIER POET staff has worked long hours to create an entirely new and better yearbook for Riley students. Fresh ideas have been incorporated into the HOOSIER POET, such as a new technique in cover design, a different advertising format, the addition of the Student Life section, and a closing section.

Many of the innovative ideas for 1970 have come from the Yearbook Workshop class, taught by Mrs. Phyllis Keays who also sponsors the HOOSIER POET. In the class, members of the staff have learned the basics of yearbook production.

Business Manager Tom Haas receives some helpful guidance from Gwen Finger as he types copy



Part of Donna Surges' job as editor includes briefing the staff on matters concerning pages, deadlines and subject matter.



Collaborating on the proof-reading of yearbook pages are Mrs. Phyllis Keays, advisor, and Lori Simpson, assistant editor.

Noisy discussion about voting procedures . . .

. . . led to a vote taken in grim silence.

Student Council had no function when student government was discontinued in October. The officers were: Terry Crone, Vice President; Karol Holcomb, Secretary; Fred Sulok, Treasurer; Jim Barkley, President.

Student Council at Riley this year functioned turbulently and briefly, attempting to deal with problems that have upturned American society. We, too, were upturned.

The Football Court, elected but uncrowned: Lori Simpson, Cathie Hendricks, Gwen Finger, Julie Medich, Debbie Gentner, Vickie Howell, Donna Surges, and Karol Holcomb, with their escorts; Tom Haas, Neil Gershoffer, Ron Balaban, Scott Stuller, Mark Carleton, Kevin Mahoney. Missing are Charlie Cutler and Dick Chapman.

People full of hate
Accusing and damaging:
Loud cries and clenched fists,
Pushing, screaming, confusion.
Tragic bitterness.
It is real and so terrible.
Another battle
In a never-ending war.

Listen to these cries:
Now is the time to unite.
Black and white must work,
Strive for racial harmony.
The river is wide
Between the banks of our thoughts.
Let us build a bridge
For a confused society.

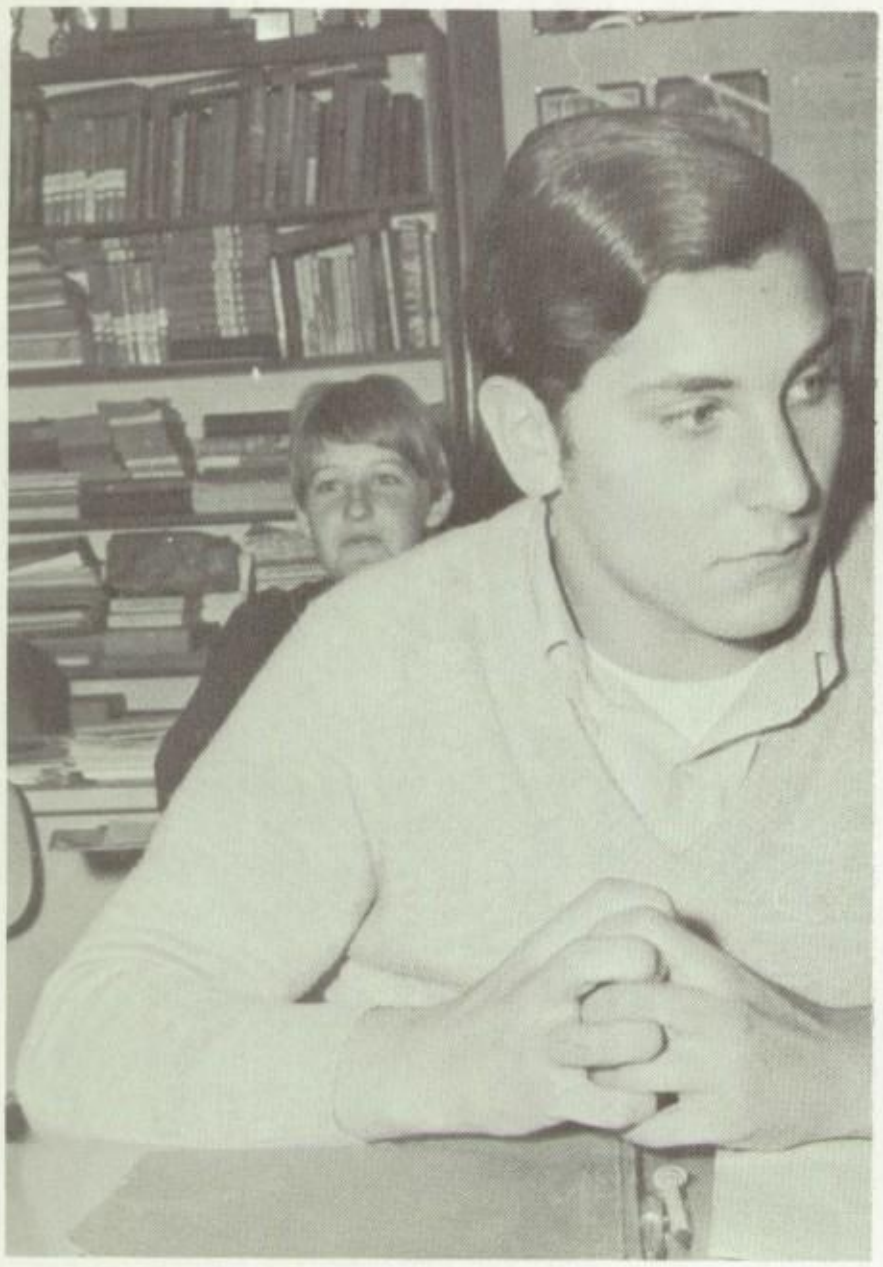
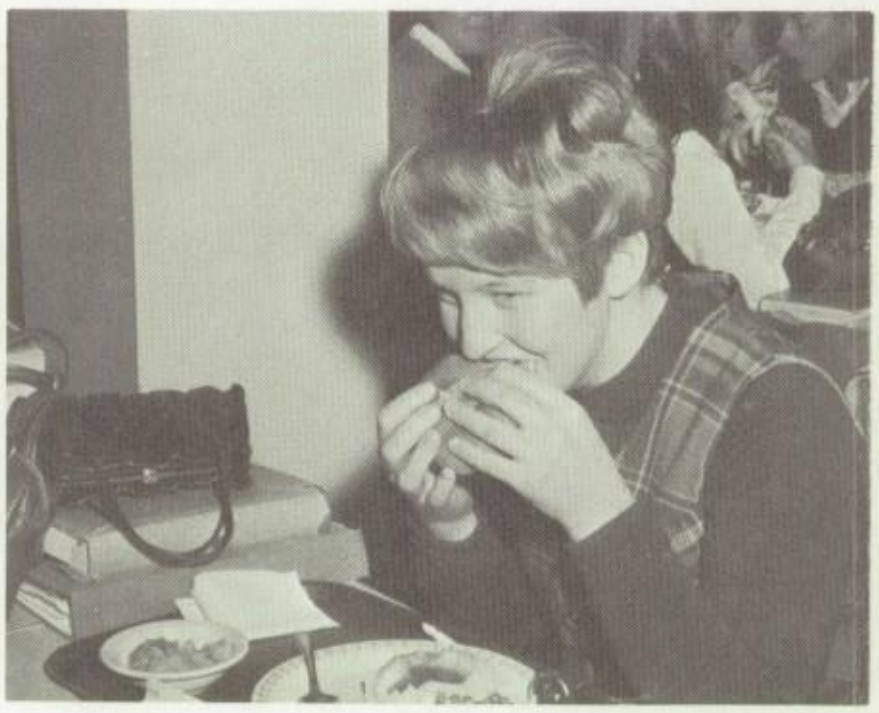
PAUL AND DOROTHY BRING NEW VOICES



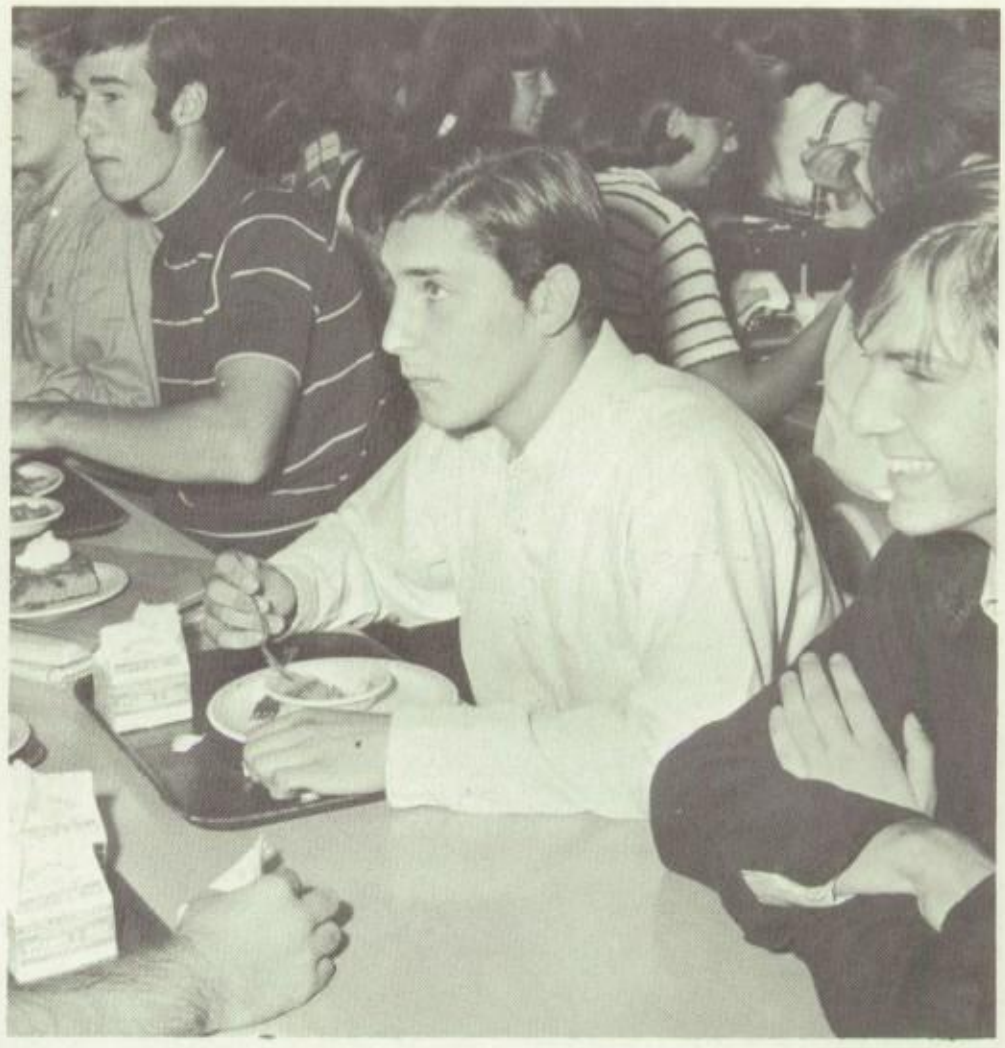
Our guests must make numerous speeches as representatives of the American Field Service, so they brush up on some techniques in speech class.

Paul receives some help with his homework from Vince Derdak.



Dorothy finds a Riley hamburger as filling as the Australian version she is more familiar with.

Riley was fortunate this year to have two foreign exchange students. Through the efforts of the American Field Service and Mrs. Margaret Cassidy, Riley's A.F.S. coordinator, our A.F.S. students quickly became a part of Riley life, and proved to be a source of learning for all students, just as Riley students helped them learn. Paul Barrenchea, from Argentina, quickly adapted to the ways of American boys by joining the football team. Using his previous experience as a soccer player, Paul kicked the extra points, soccer-style.



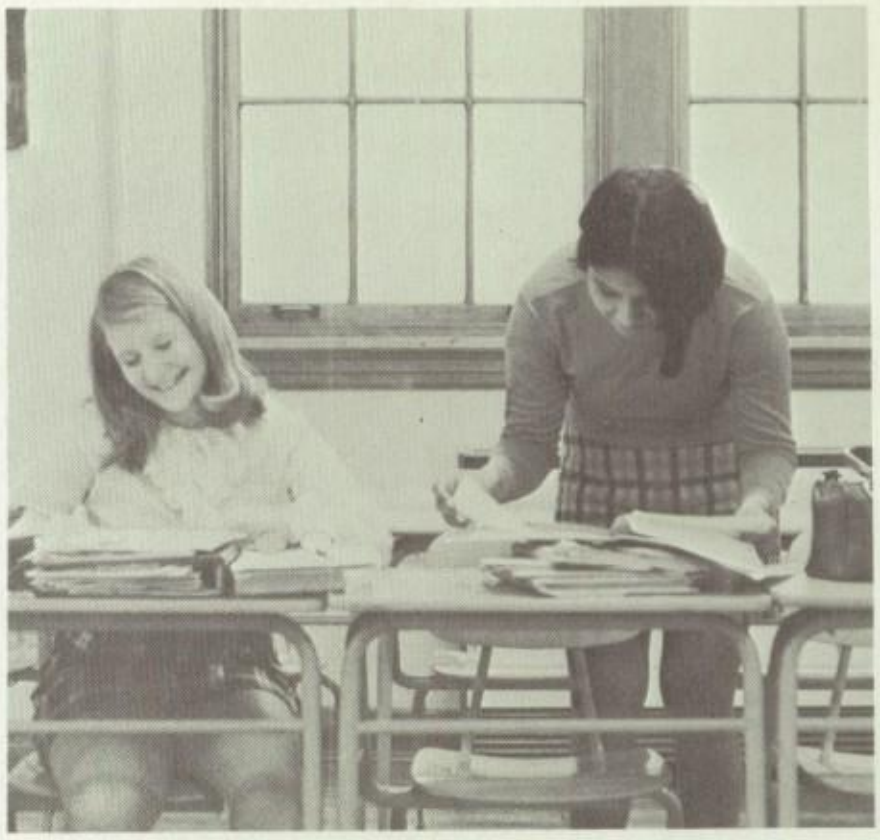
Food good enough to leave home for! Paul's glad he's here.

Dorothy became but another struggling Spanish student in the lab, although her accent was a little different from the flat midwestern twangs all around her.

Riley students soon ceased to regard Dorothy Sommerville's clipped, Australian accent as strange, for she became so much a part of the school that it was hardly noticed. Dorothy first became involved in school activities when she helped to make a float for the Miami Street Parade.

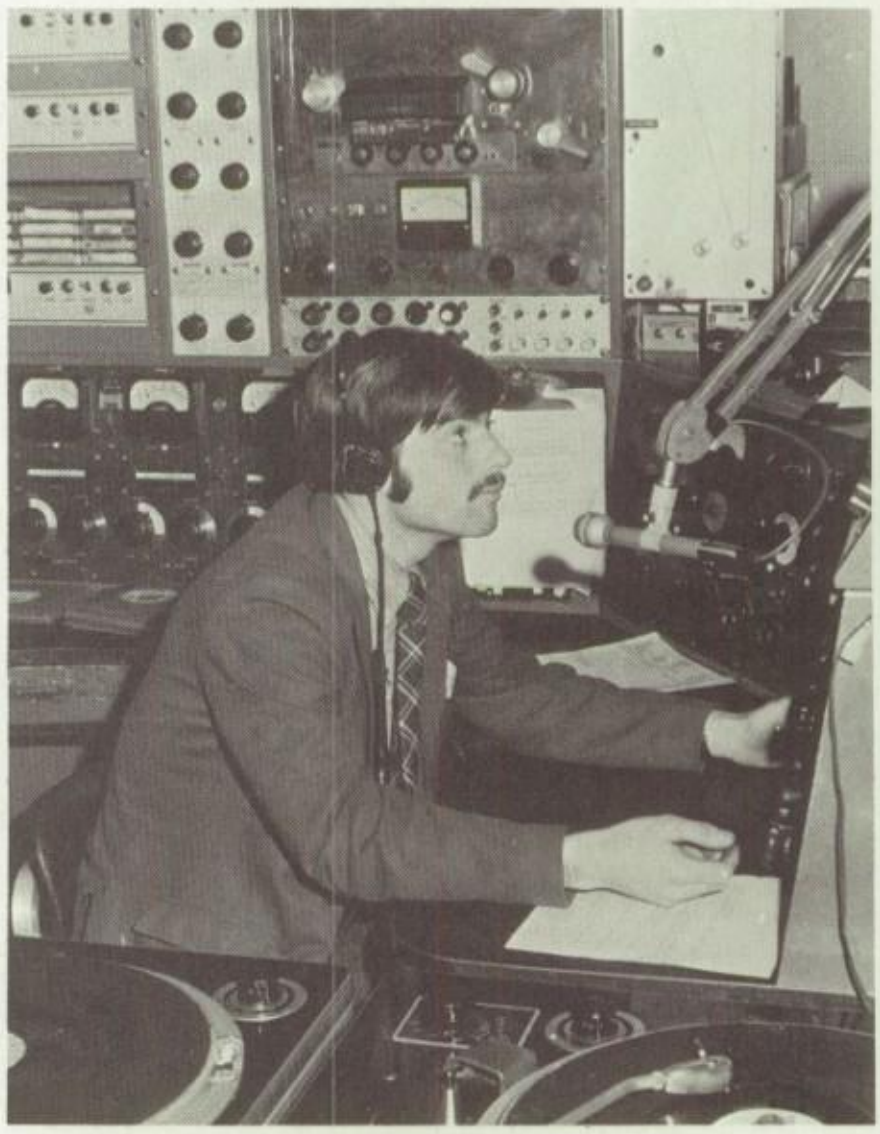
At least the letters are the same as they are down under!

Trick or treat!

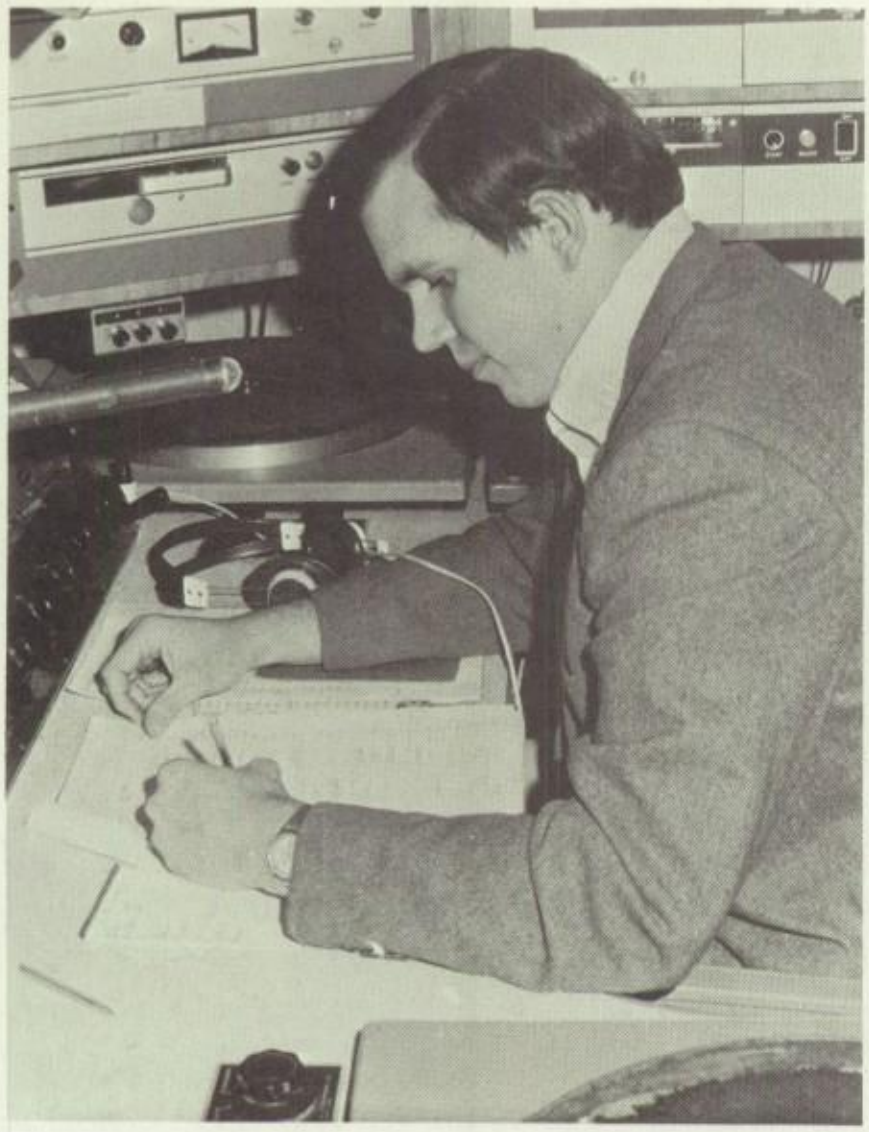


Not guests, but permanent residents of Riley; Brigit Forstinger from Austria and Margie Castro from Mexico.

Although much of students' time is spent in school, they still find time to pursue their interests, hobbies, and recreational activities. Whether it be reading, sewing, dancing, preparing for college, or just plain "goofing off," Riley students always manage to fit one more activity into an already busy schedule. Some students even find time for community service in such areas as Candy Striping, Red Cross, and neighborhood programs.

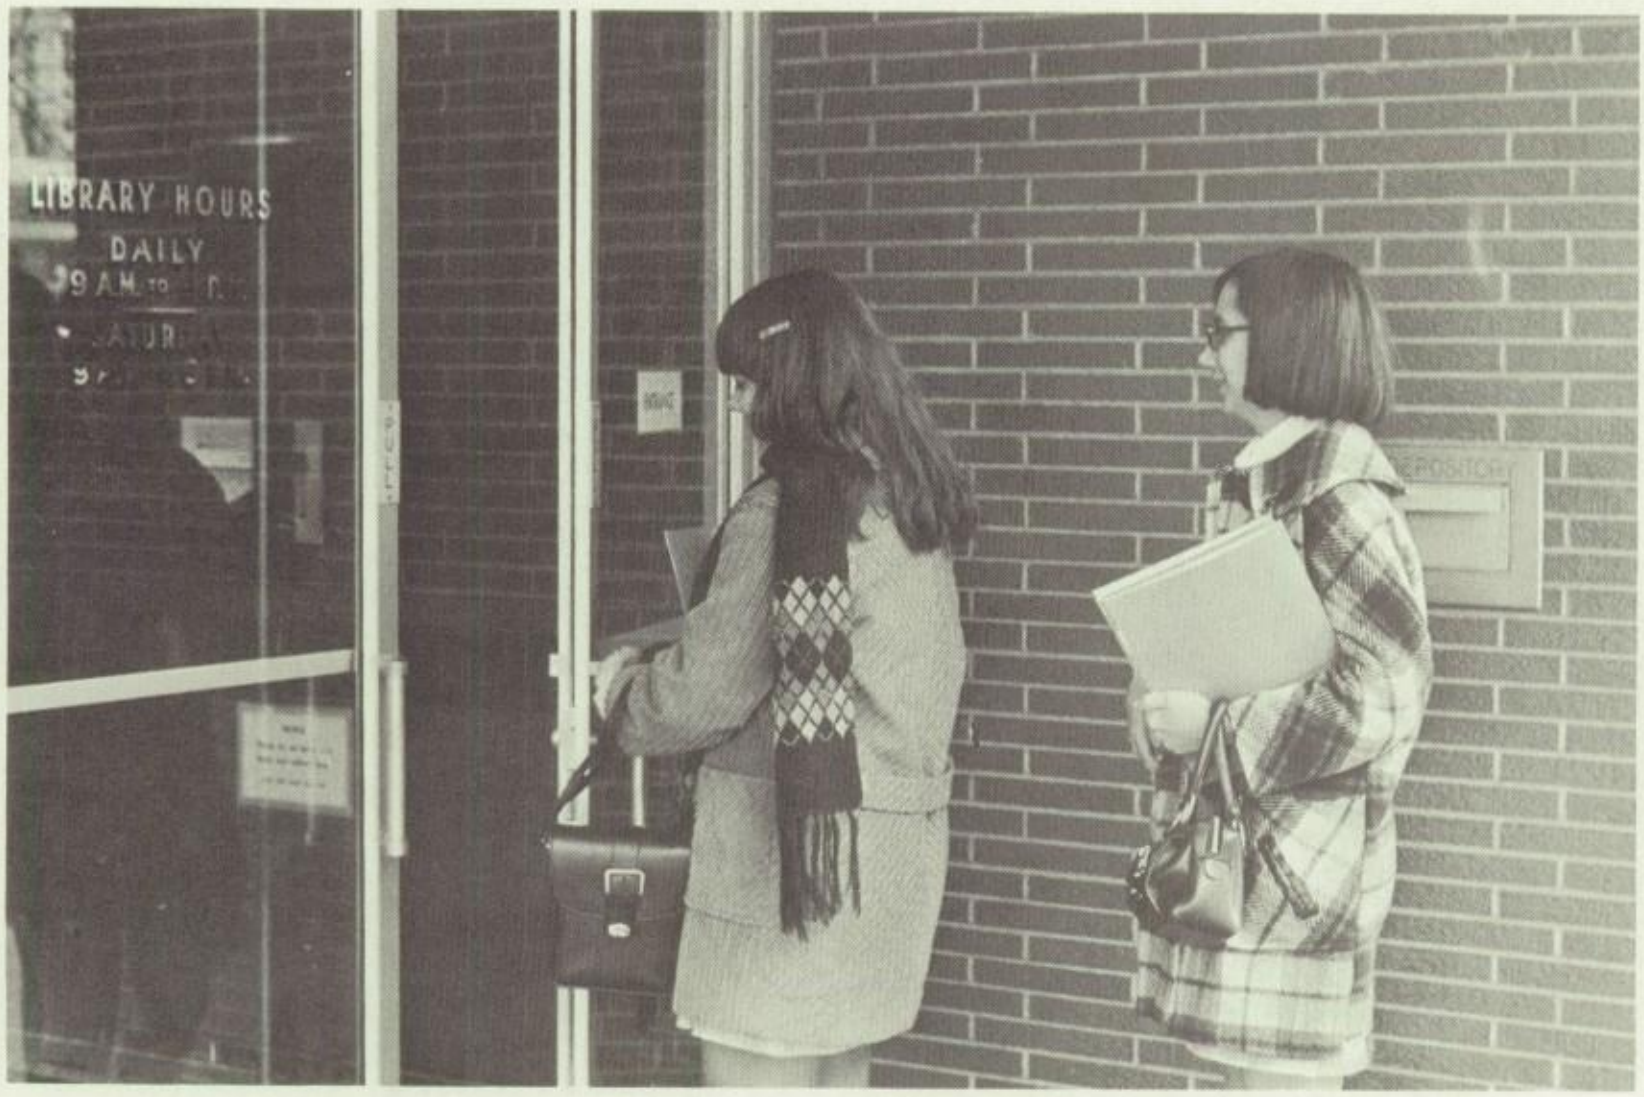


Dave Beveridge is surrounded by the sights and sounds of his job as a disc jockey.



Bob Soos, WNDU Radio: "Well, scratch another listener."

Pssst, your shoe is showing!

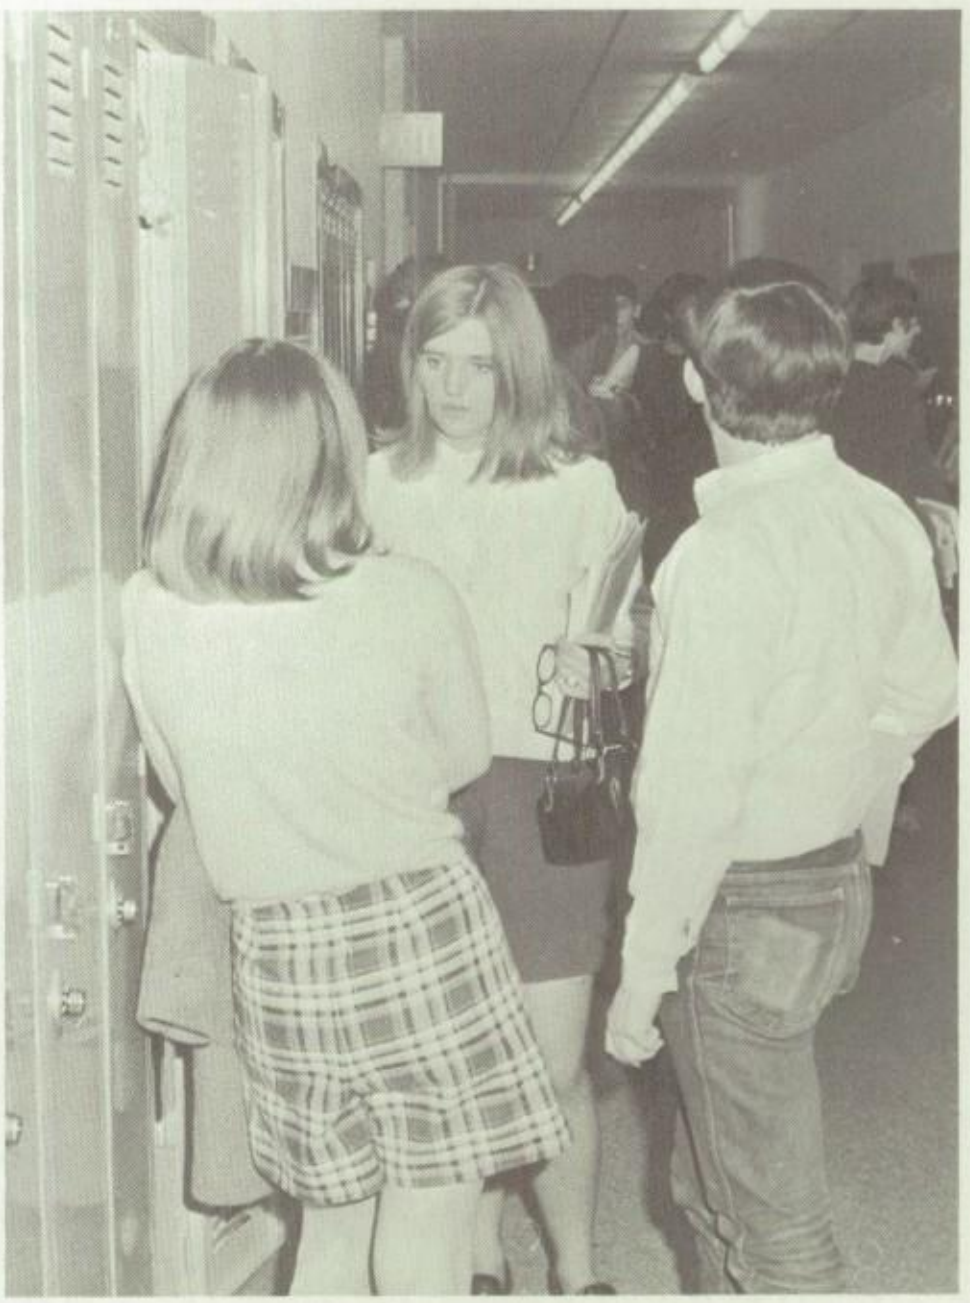


Nancy Mielcarek and Sue Ewald spend another precious Saturday working on term papers.

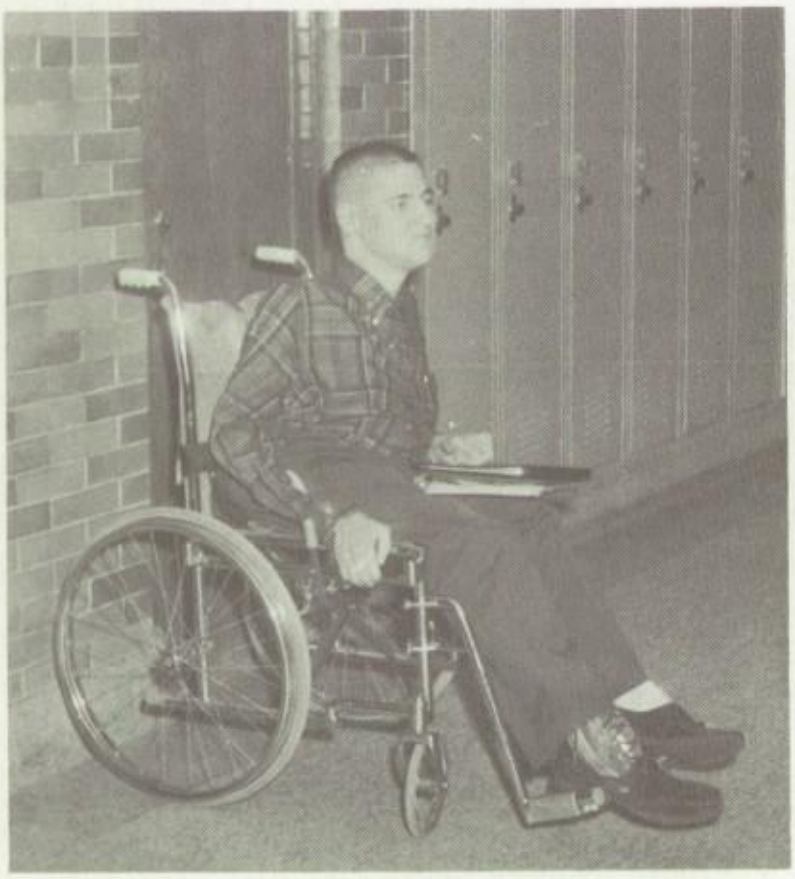
Who shook the tree?

If I had a hammer, I'd hammer in the morning.

The fans relax during halftime.

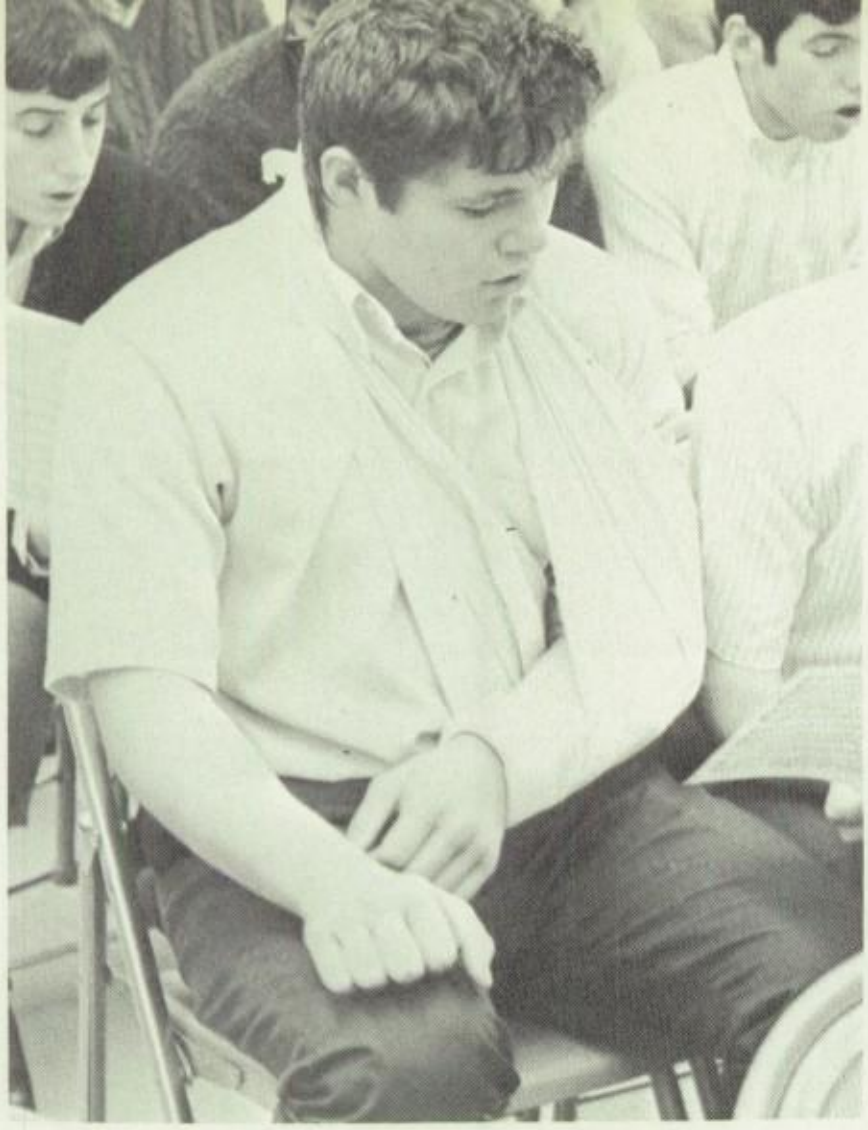


"He's not my boyfriend! I though he was yours!"

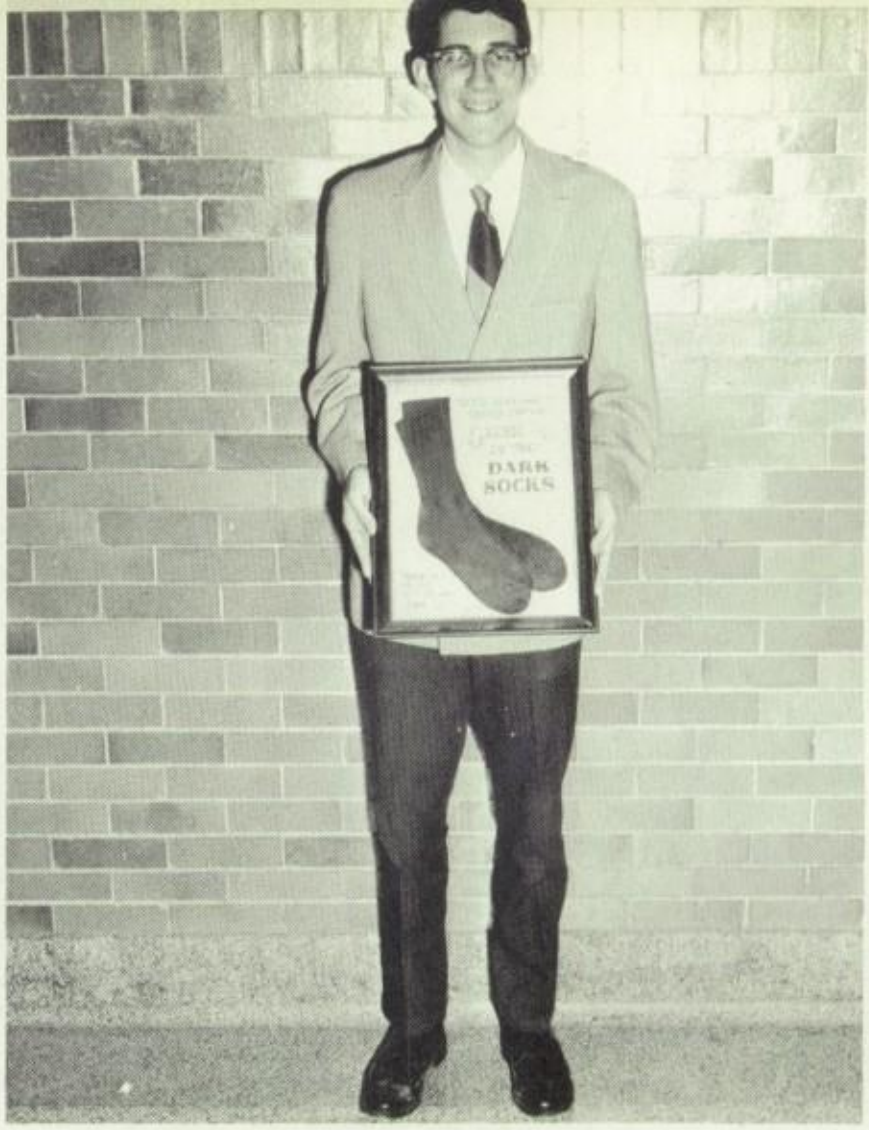


Bill Goldsberry cools his wheels.

STUDENTS

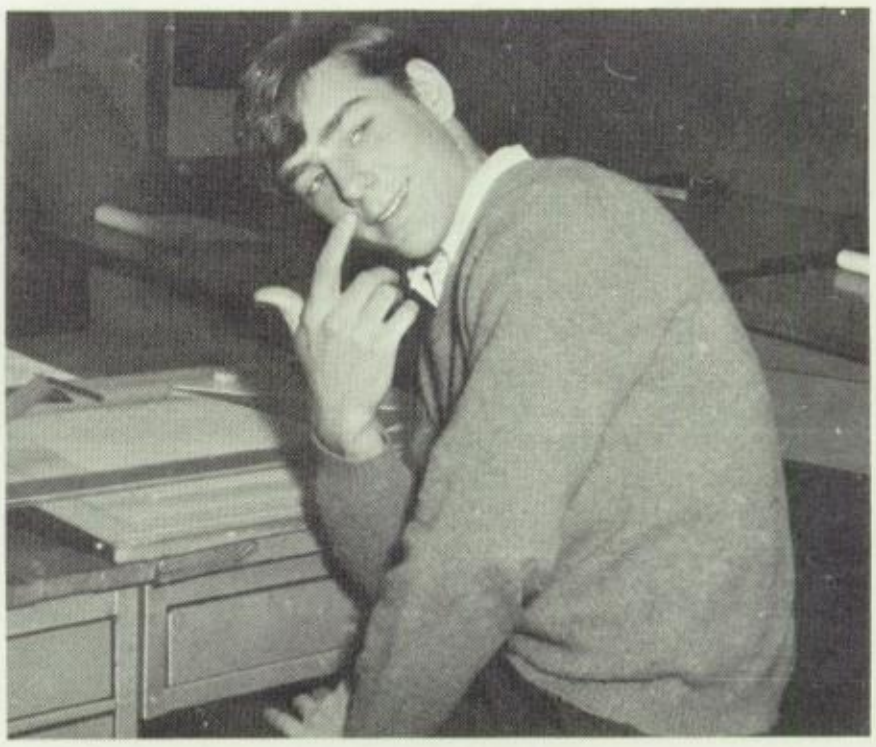


Don't let that broken wing fool you. Frank Bely sings like a bird!



Art Diamond proudly shows his first pair.

"Hold everything! That's my suit floating at the other end!"



"This is my RIGHT nostril."

"Oh boy, beans again."

CATS LEAVE THEIR TRACKS

The Riley track team placed second in the City Meet and fifth in the Regional, led by Terry Crone, who won the City 100 and 220 yard dashes and the Regional 100, and by Willie Lee, who won the City long jump. The 880 relay team of Terry Crone, Wally Jessup, Willie Lee, and Jim Taylor set a new school record on the way to a City and a Sectional championship.

A hushed crowd watches Terry Crone finish first.

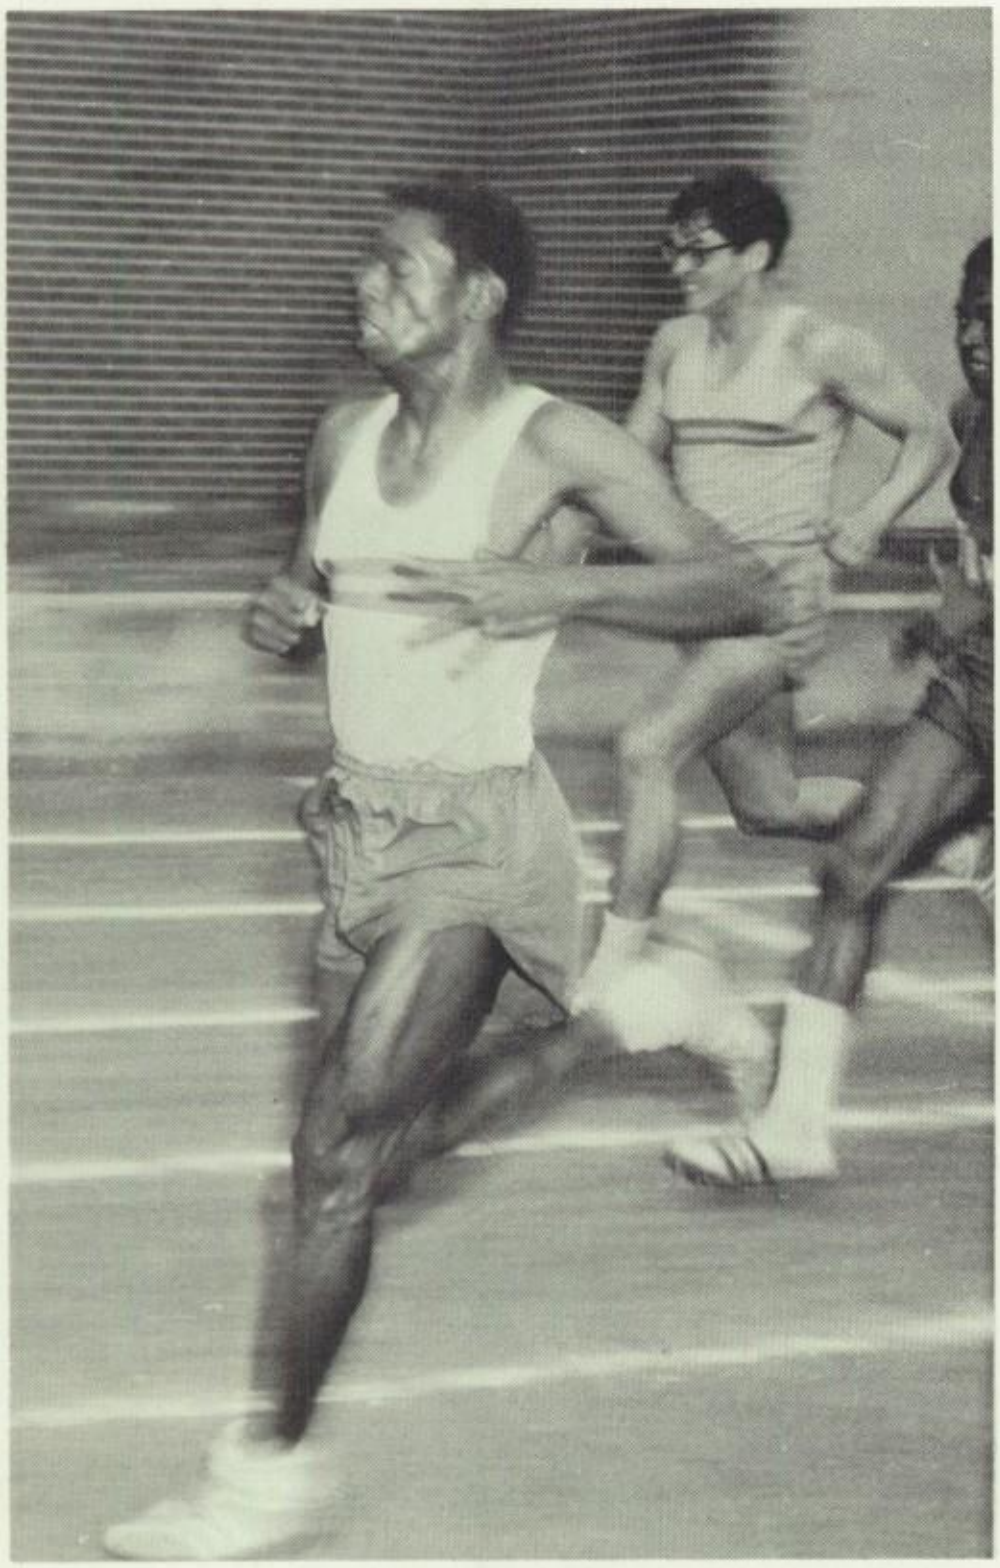
Bang! And they're off!



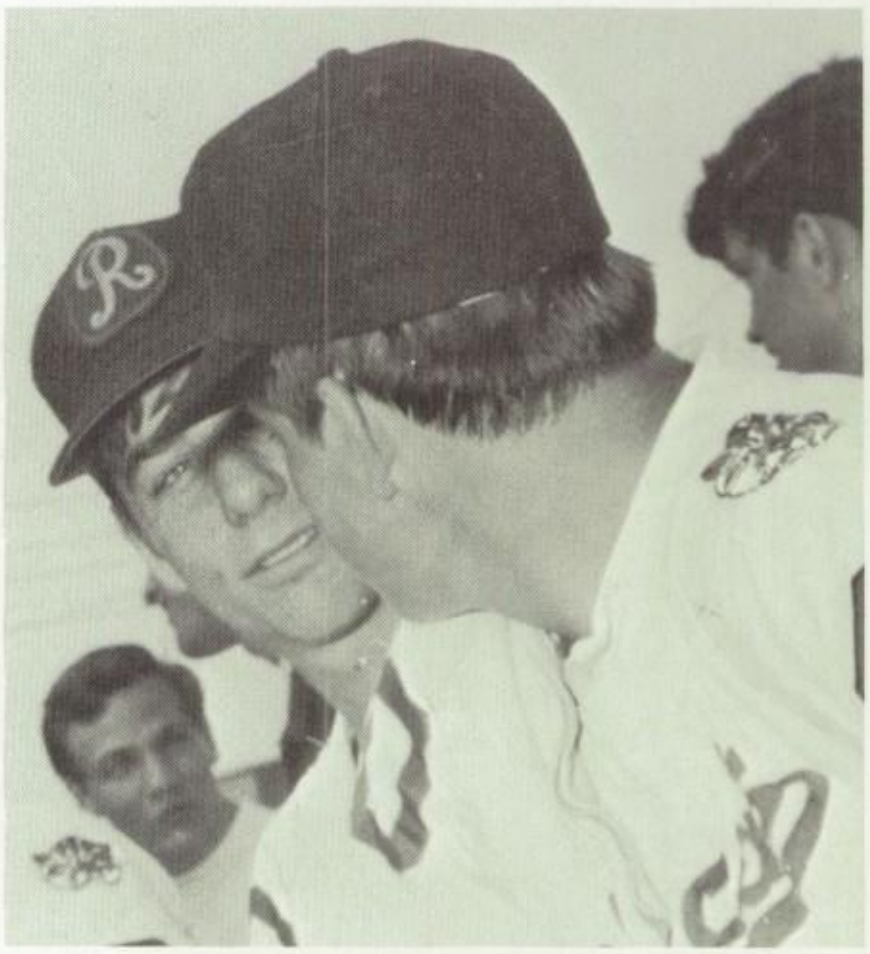
Jim Taylor strains to hit the tape.

Dan Hartup swings up and over.

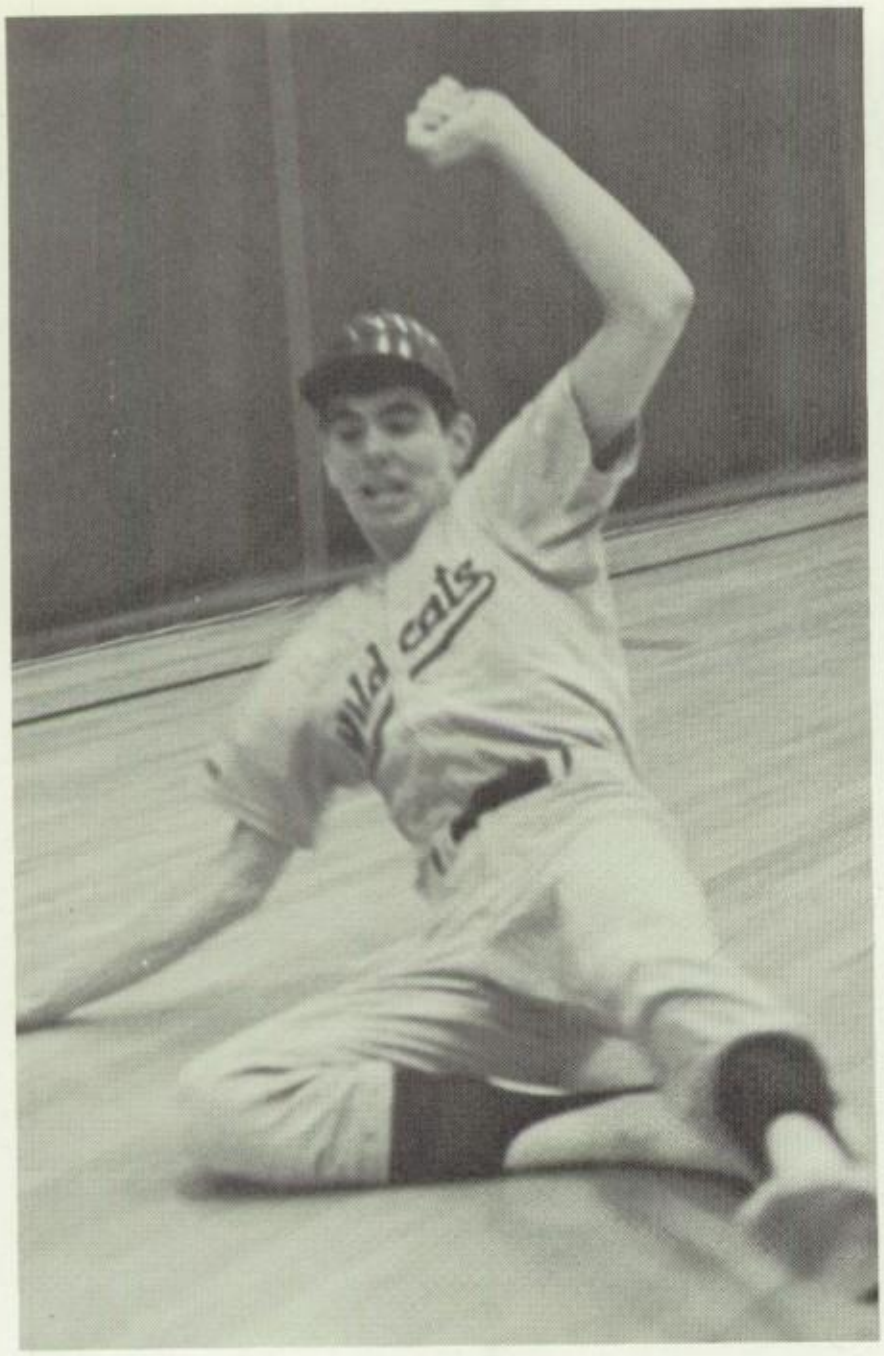
BATS CRACK FOR VICTORY

1969 Baseball team. TOP ROW: Rich Dodson, John Kupper, Dennis Leiberman, Kevin Mahoney, Joe Lach, Dane Hamilton, Charlie Cutler, Coach Ralph Pieniazkiewicz; SECOND ROW: Bob Kizer, Bob Portman, Chuck Przybylski, Randy Foster, Bob Foster, Jim Parsons, Dave Barrett, Rich Rogers; BOTTOM ROW: Jeff Clark, Greg Ellis, John Ulbrich, John Sanders, Jim Seitz.

Led by Captain Dave Barrett, and Most Valuable Player Jim Parsons, the Wildcat baseball team walloped their opponents to get into the sectional championship game. Unfortunately, the cracking of the bats stopped here, and the team ended their fine season with a 2-0 defeat at the hands of the St. Joseph Indians. Of the ten victories which we accumulated during the season, three were taken from our southeast rival, Adams, while two came from Washinton and Goshen. Many of the victories were ours because of the fine pitching of Jim Parsons and Joe Lach, along with the powerful hitting of Dave Barrett, Bob Foster and Charlie Cutler. Singled out for his sportsmanship was Charlie Cutler, who received the Student Booster Club Award; Joe Lach was named Most Improved Player; and Dave Barrett earned the Kiwanis Award for his showing both on and off the field.

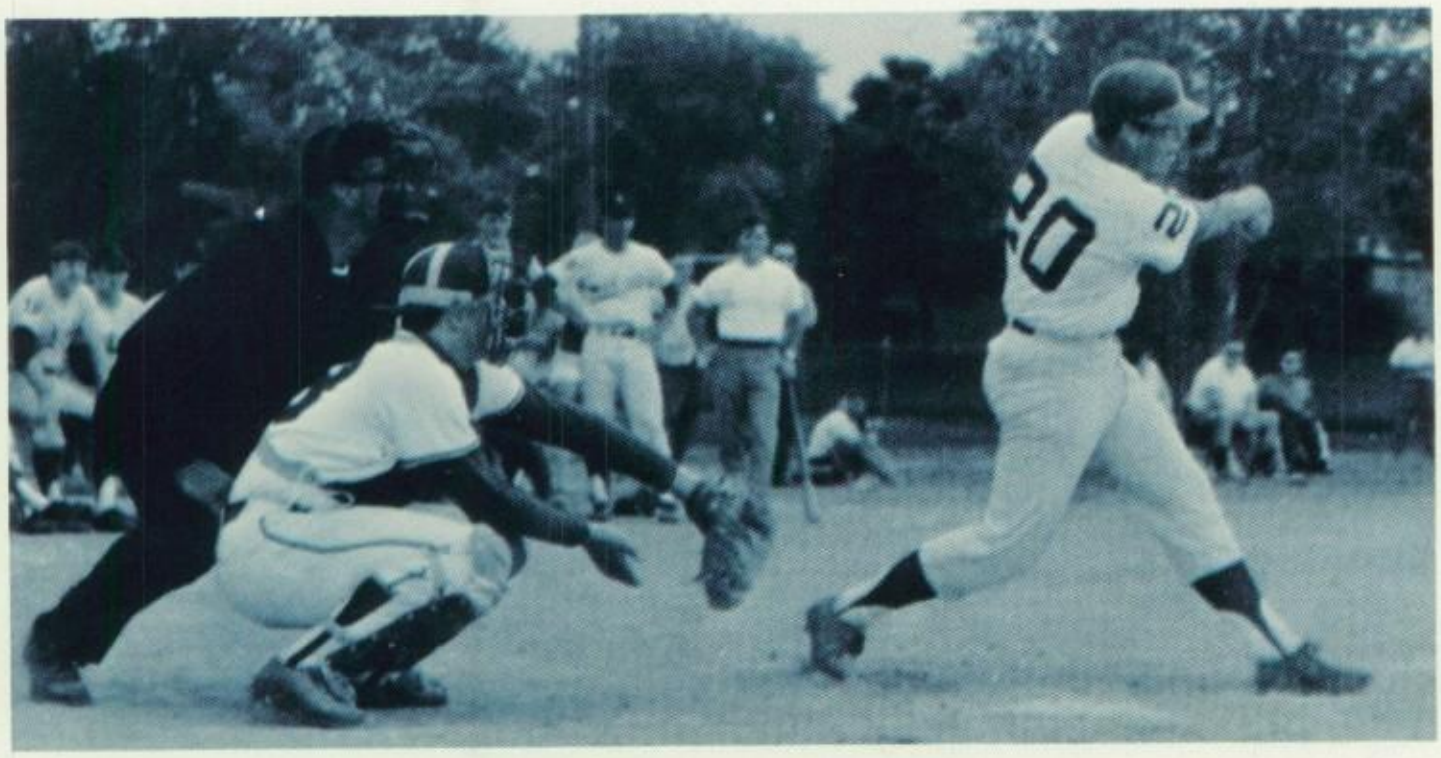


Charlie Cutler discusses the game with one of his teammates.



Bob Kizer slides into base.

Coach Pieniazkiewicz takes hold of the situation.



Jim Seitz wallops his grand slam of the season.

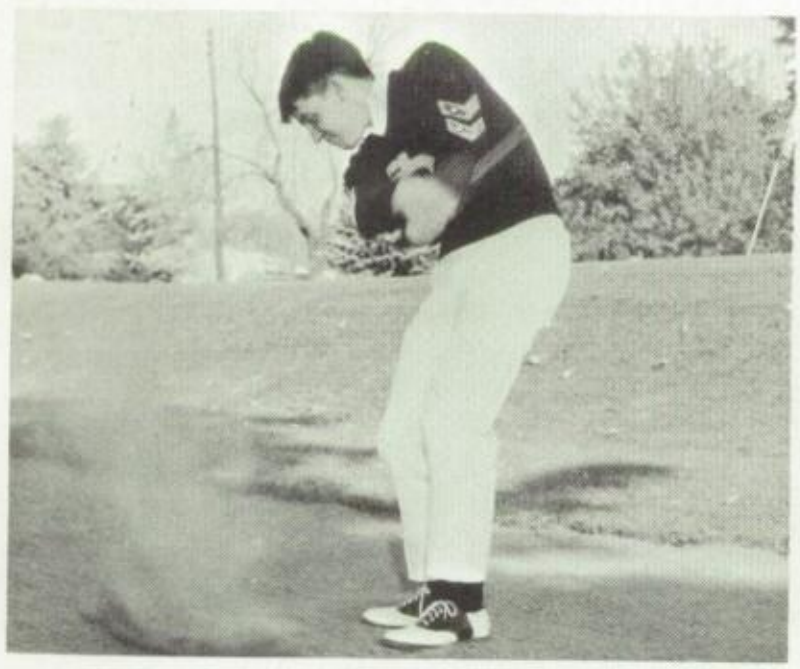
Terry Biggs waits to hear his ball plunk into the hole.



It takes great concentration to perfect your swing.

Tom Haas demonstrates championship form.

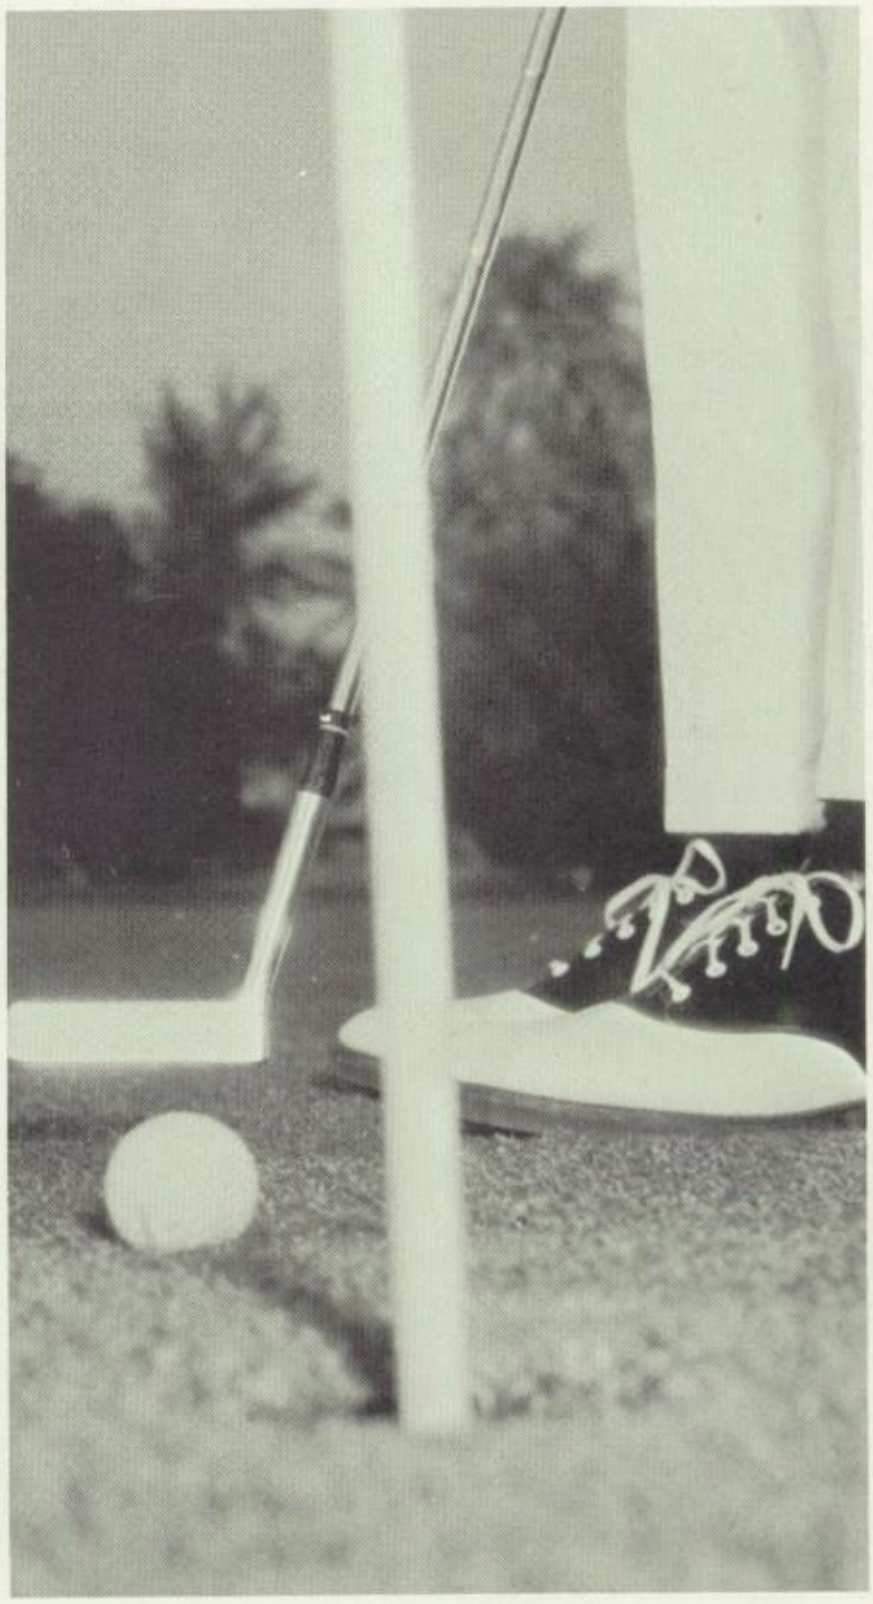
Thud! Sand flies from the tip of the club.

The Riley golf team boomed its way to another fine year in 1969, ending the season with a 19-3 record and second place positions in both their Sectional and Regional tournaments. The best part of this excellent season was victory twice over our rival, La Porte. Returning veterans for the 1970 season were Tom Haas, Terry Biggs, and Bob Lange.



A small tap will knock the ball into the cup.

CROSS COUNTRY:
THE BEAT OF THE FEET

For two hours every day after school last fall, the sound of feet crunching on the dry autumn leaves could be heard at Erskine Golf Course. It was here that the Riley cross country team practiced, under the leadership of their fine coach, Mr. Burton Brenneman. Helping Coach Brenneman build team spirit were team captain, Charlie Cutler, and Most Valuable Runner, Rich Greulich.

Rich Greulich feels the pressure of running against the clock.

Tom Morgan looks pleased with a job well done.

Tennis at Riley has undergone a happy transformation. Spectator interest was high this year, particularly after the team netted victories from rivals Jackson, Washington and Central. Outstanding performances came from the doubles teams of Jeff Clark-Tom Morgan and Tim Ryan-Jim Barkley.

Football has wearied many a soul, as Wildcats trudge back onto the field.

Players wait anxiously to get back into the game.

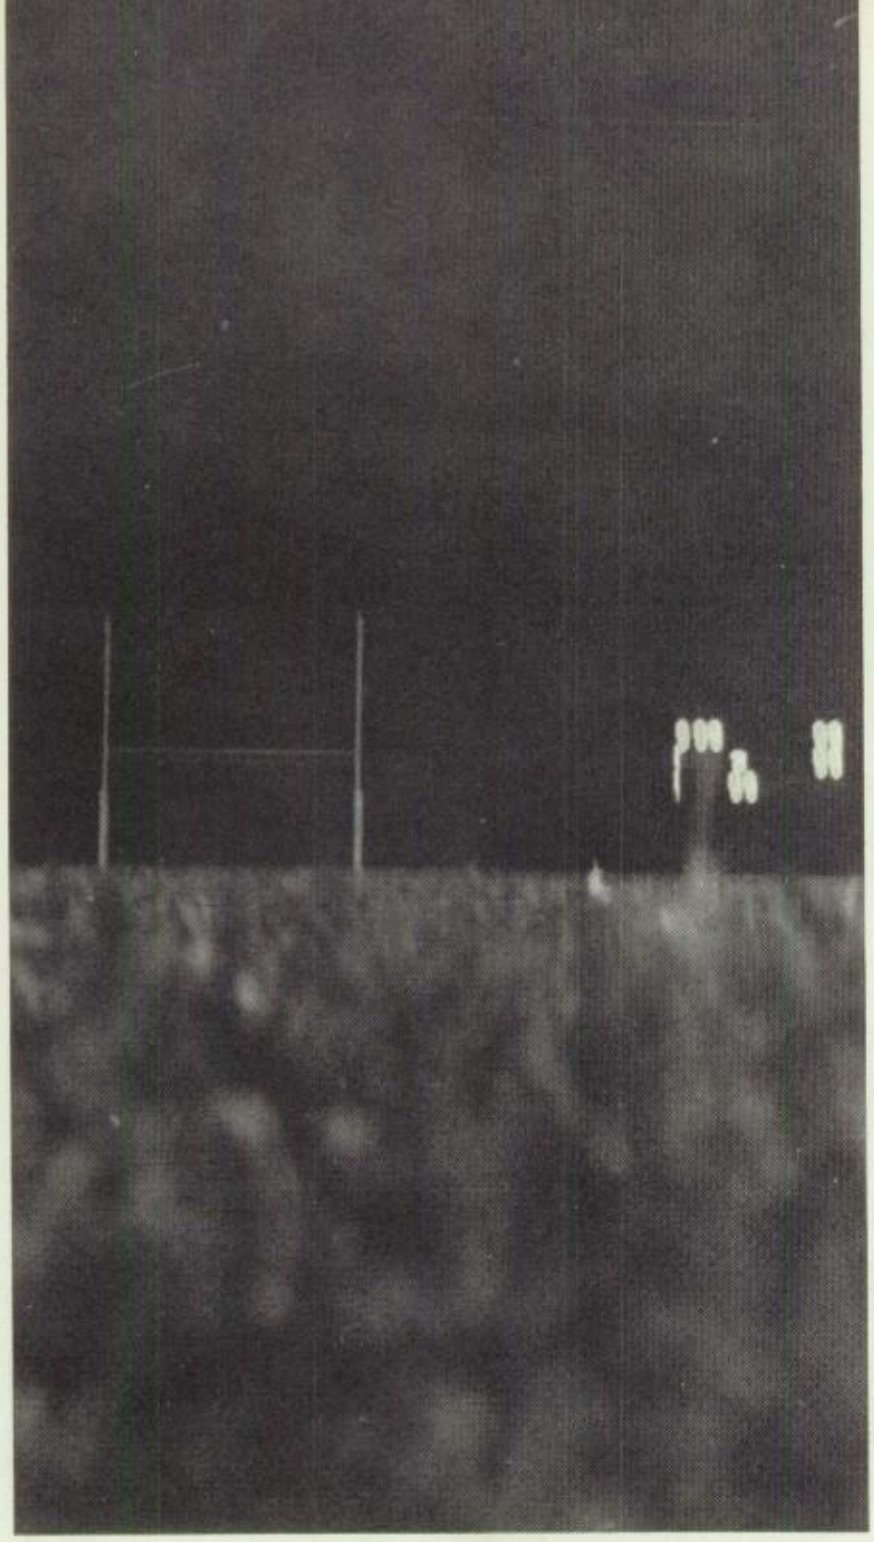
Athletic Director Steve Horvath knows how to get his point across.

A groaning Wildcat is helped off the field.

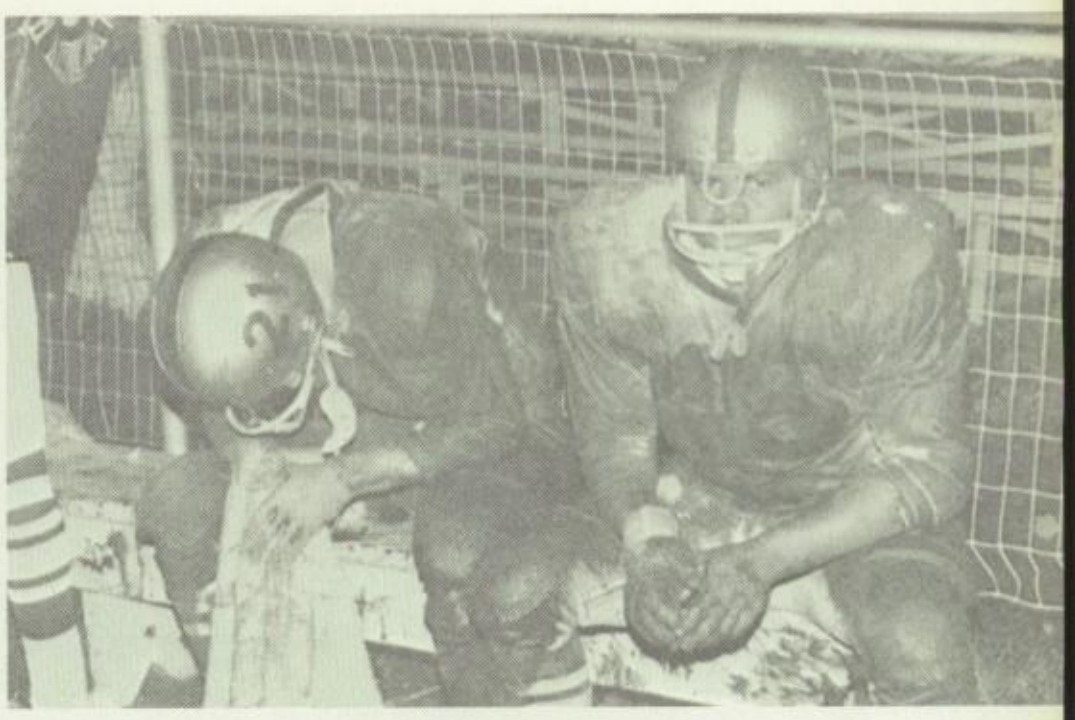
BUT CATS SHOW DETERMINATION.

It is the strategy that counts, says coach Jim Whitmer.

Silence prevails as a dejected player shuffles to the sideline.



The crowds are gone but a silent spirit lingers.



The momentum found in the game does not die on the bench.

August 15, 1969 was the first day of jolts and jars for a young inexperienced team of Wildcats. The blood, sweat and broken bones from exhausting practices is not clearly reflected in the team's 1-6-2 record.

Hard work by Coach James Whitmer and his assistants conditioned the team for the competition facing them next year. Much of this work could not have been accomplished without the helping hands of student managers Gary Kalmar, Wally Jessup, Chris Hanna, and John Viehe.

Riley's freshman team enjoyed a successful season, advancing to the final game of the city championship.

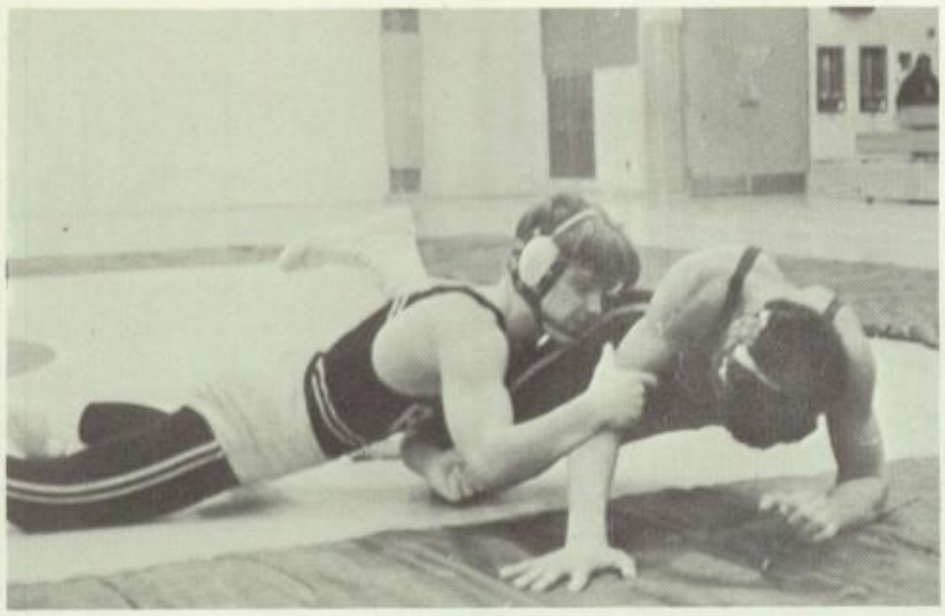
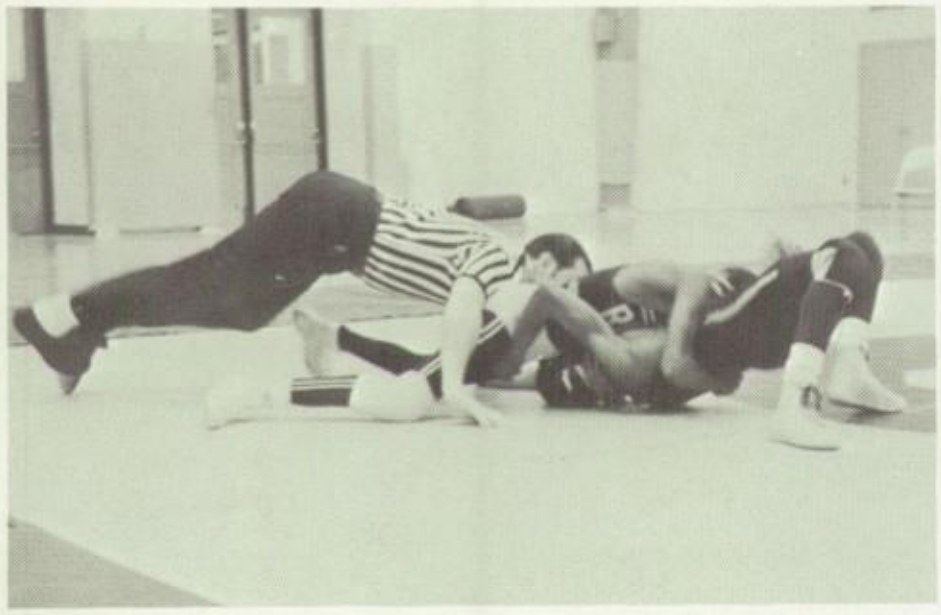
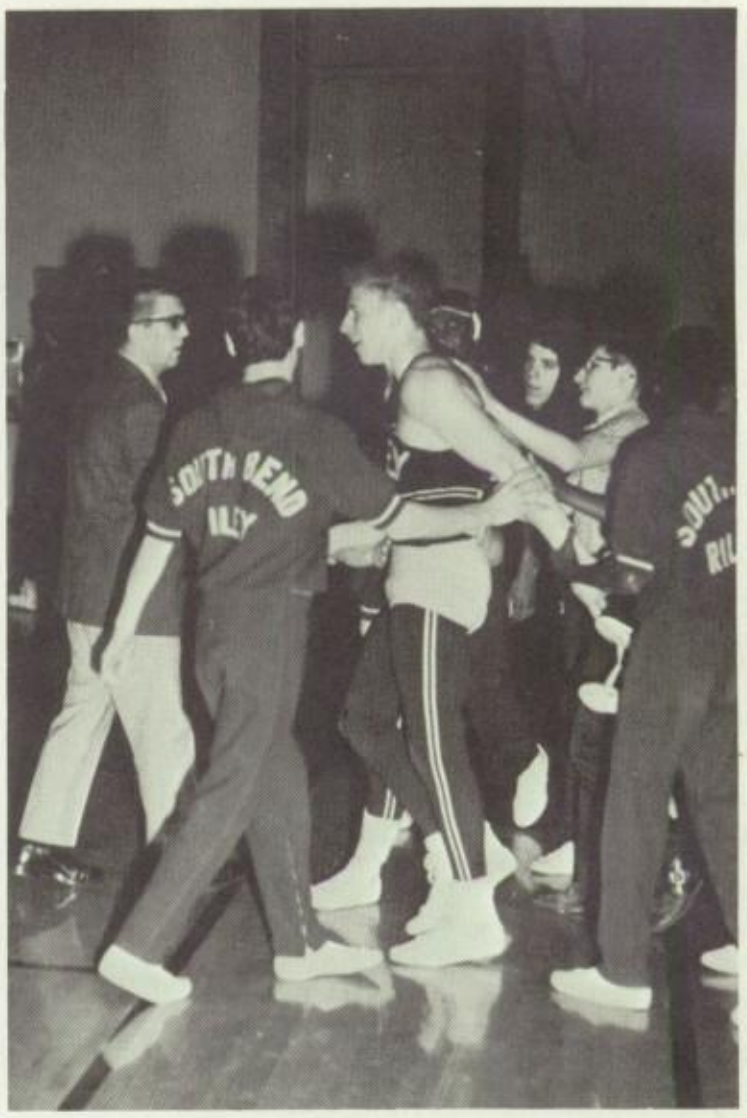
A handshake traditionally precedes the action.,



Jerry Wray demonstrates a strong grip necessary to pin his opponent.



Everybody gets in the act at Riley wrestling matches.



Teammates congratulate Dennis Miller after another victory.

Slapping mats and screams for the pin were the sounds of victory for our 1969-70 Wildcat Graplers. Consisting of five valuable seniors, five juniors, one sophomore and one freshman, this balanced team, under the direction of Coach Thomas Connelly, proved they could overpower all but a few of their opponents.

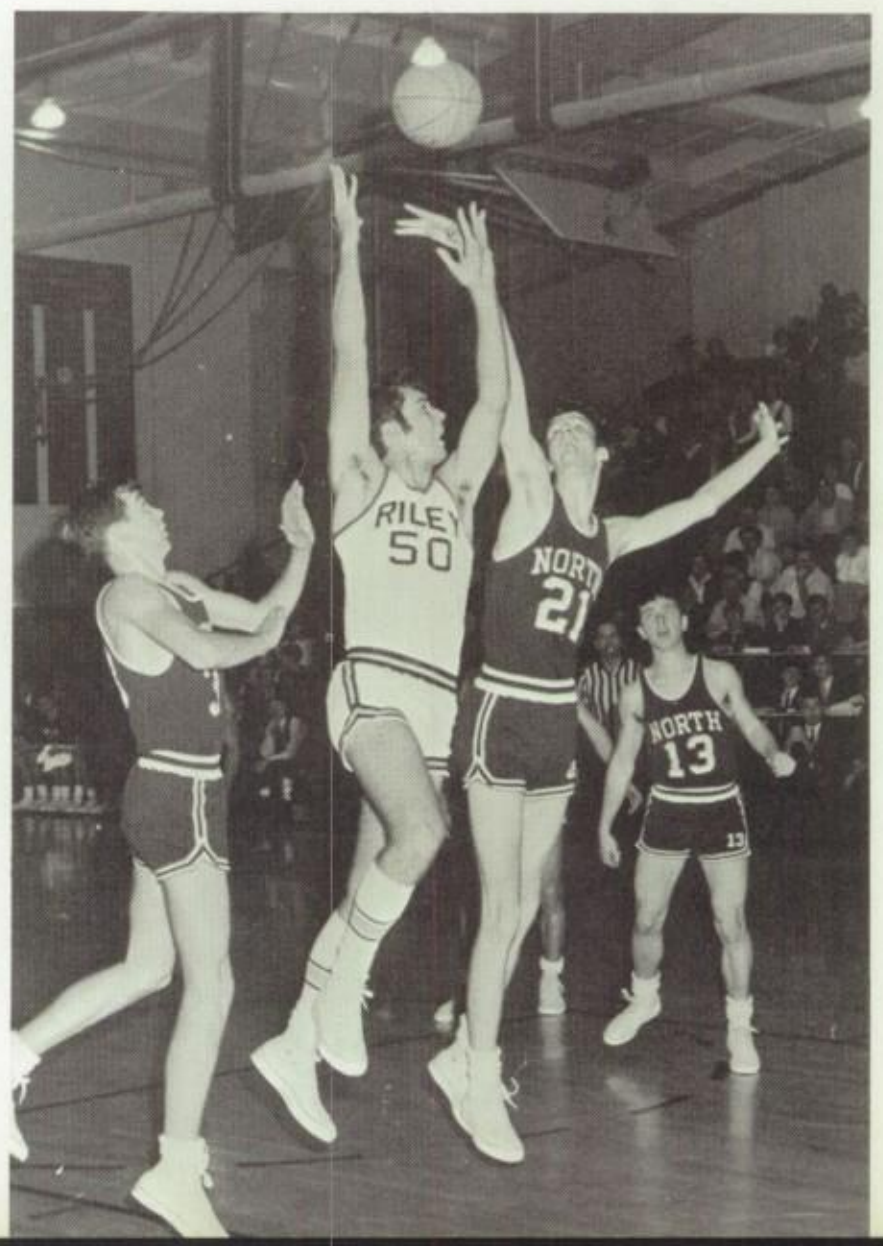
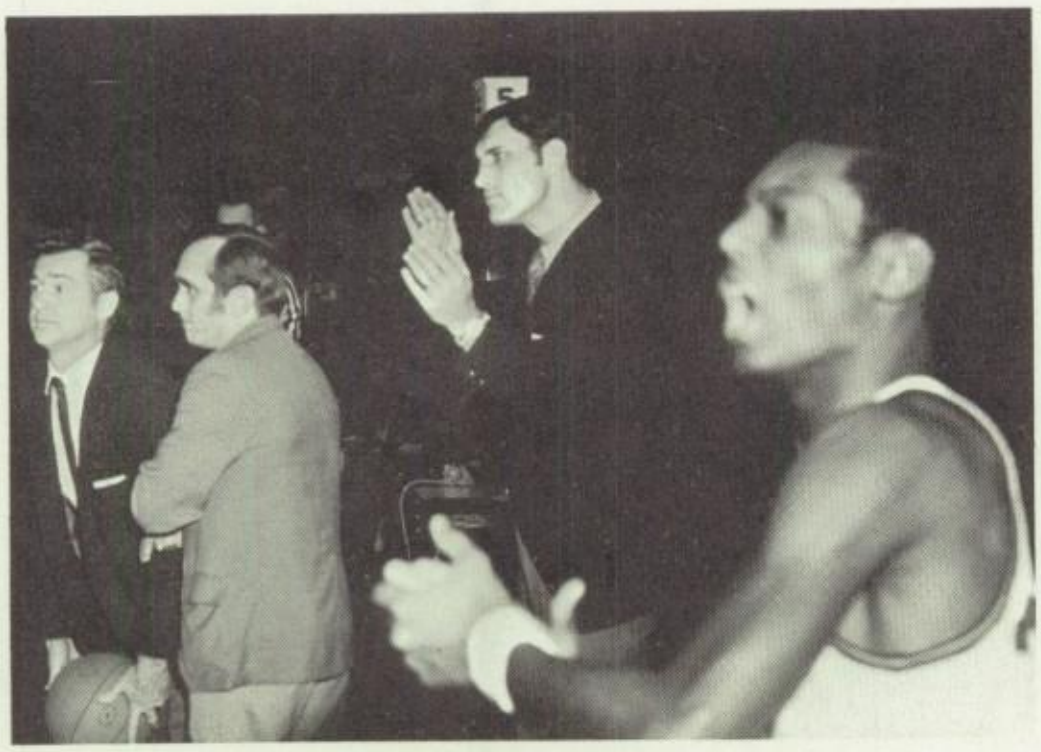
Charlie Cutler's "famous lay-up" often catches the opponent off guard.

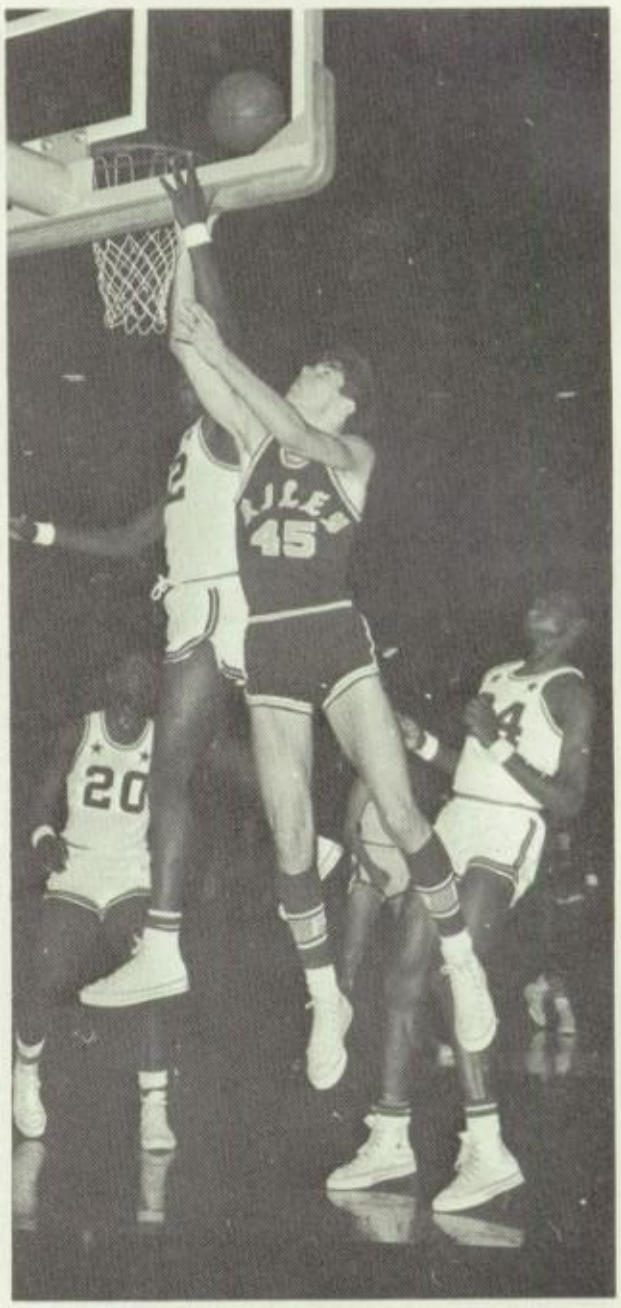


Determination will put the ball into Wildcat paws.

Plymouth's defense tries unsuccessfully to block Warren Williams' shot.

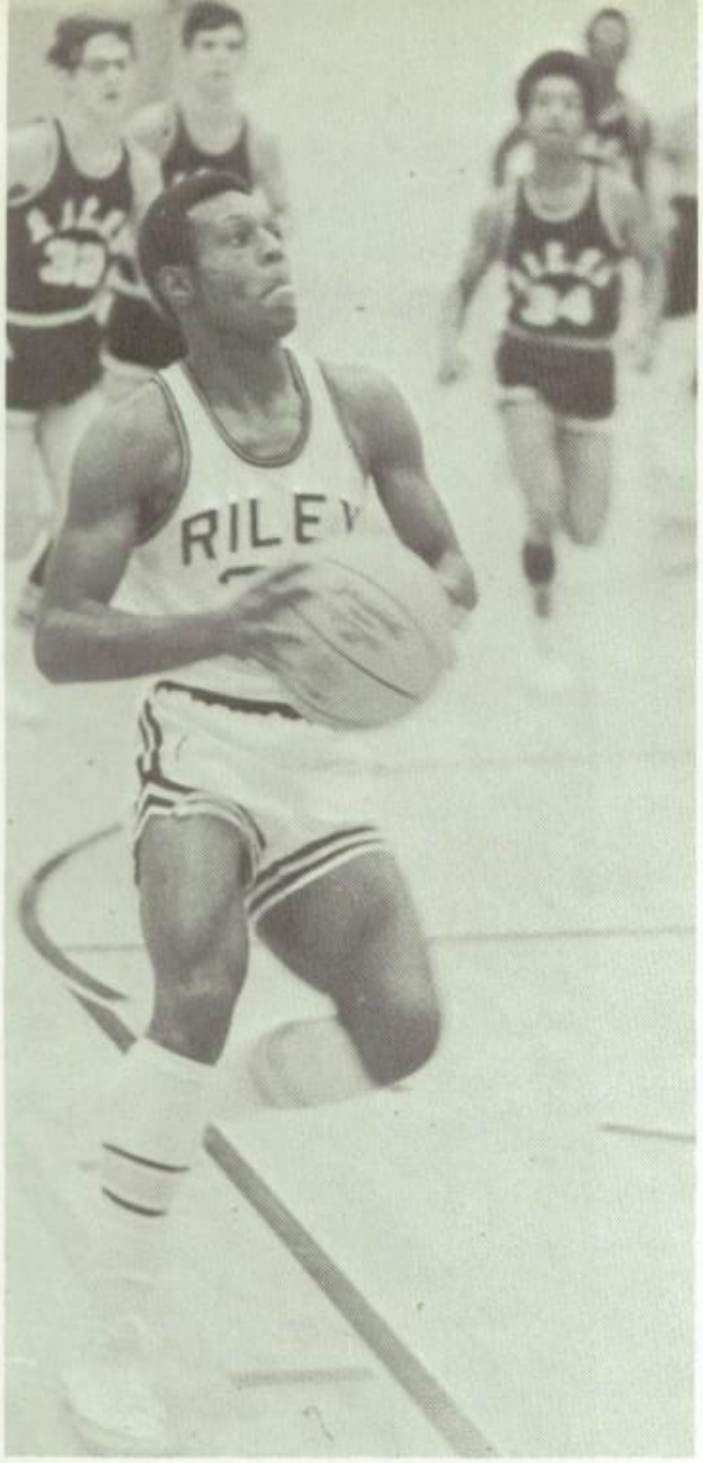


Riley's genuine team spirit combines the efforts of players and coaches alike.



The battle for the ball!

Adams appears awed by one of Kenny Reynolds' "never miss" long shots.



Jim Taylor drives for two in the intra-squad game.

Coach Don Coddens talks strategy during a lull in the action.

The sounds of pounding feet and many swishing nets trademarked this year's Wildcat basketball team. Under new head coach, Don Coddens, the team has run a fast break offense which provides for a great number of points and many exciting games. Returning lettermen Charlie Cutler, Jim Taylor, Kenny Reynolds, and Bill Priester, along with newcomer Warren Williams, form the starting five for this year's roundballers, with nonstarters Bob Kizer, Terry Williams, and Jim Barkley providing needed support.

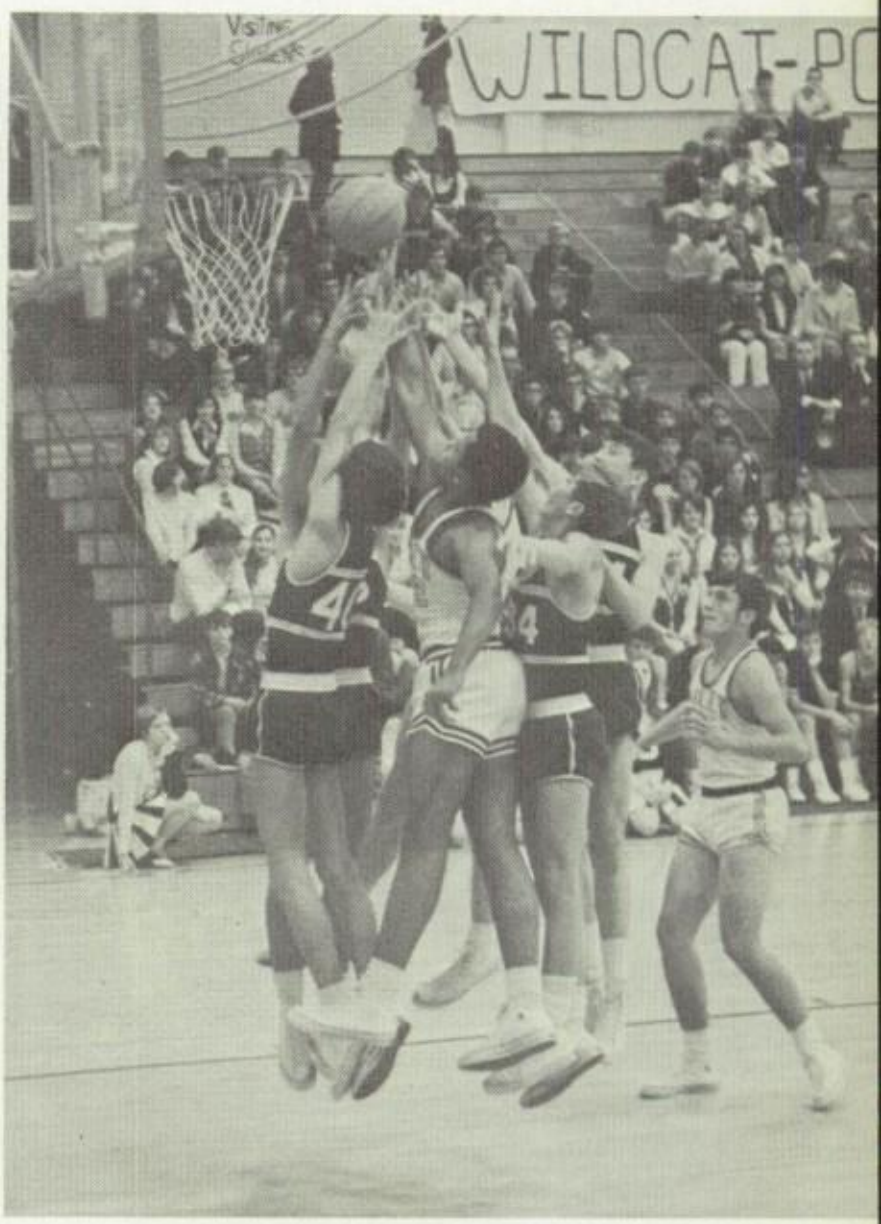
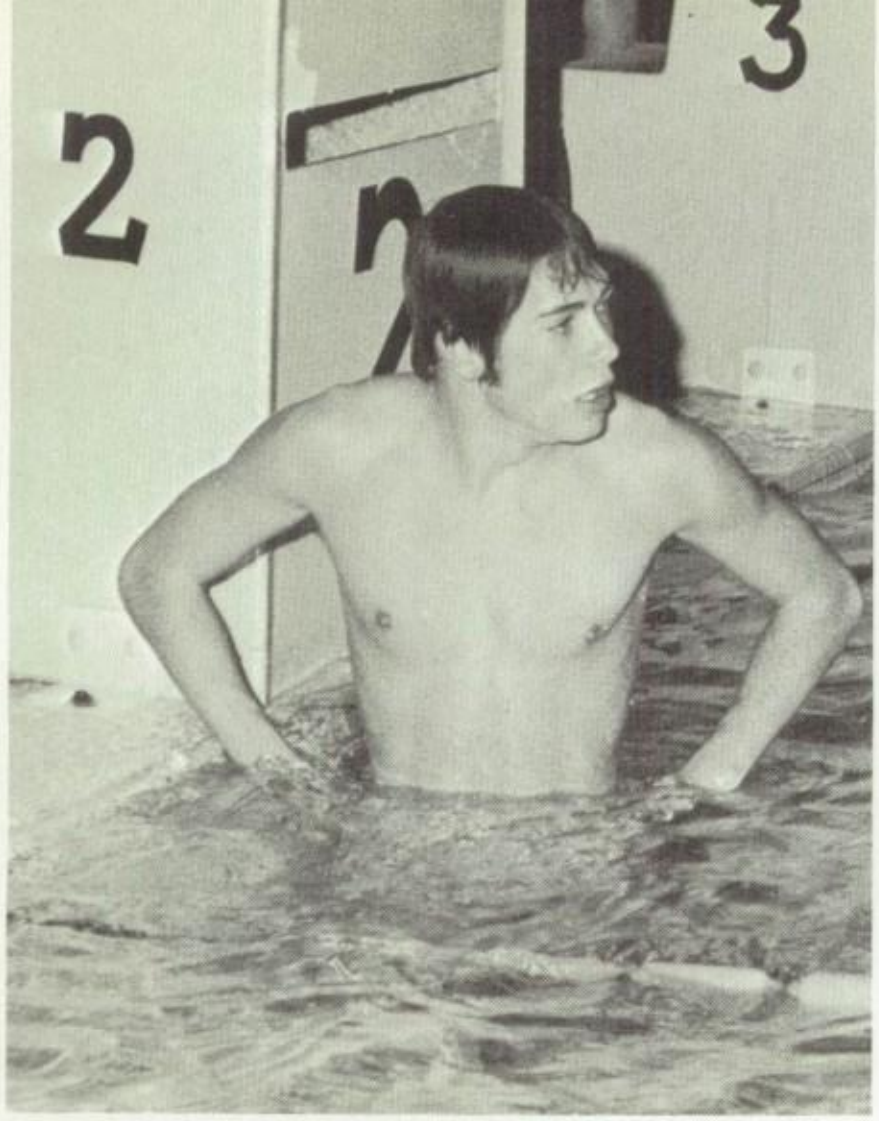
Bill Priester reaches high for a tip against Jackson.



Wildcat B-teamers battle for a rebound.



Varsity swimmer, Michael Derdak, calculates the time needed for a victory.

At the bang of the starter's gun, Riley swimmers leap from the block hoping for a 1-2 finish.

1969-70 Swim Team. TOP ROW, LEFT TO RIGHT: Tom Kovach, Tim Ryan, Jim Steele, Bob Ganyard, Bill Boyce, Mike Cramer; BOTTOM ROW: Terry Biggs, John Osborn, Tom Wolvos, Michael Derdak, Ron Ginter, Rick Dare; Missing: Dan White, Sam Meyerson, Niles Crum, Ron Weber, Joe Farkas, Kim Kushto, Scott Vanderputte, Larry Howell, John Ulbricht, Kevin MacIntyre, Mike Miner, Leroy Harris, Scott Miller, Tim Johnson, Scott Wurster, Steve Chmiel.

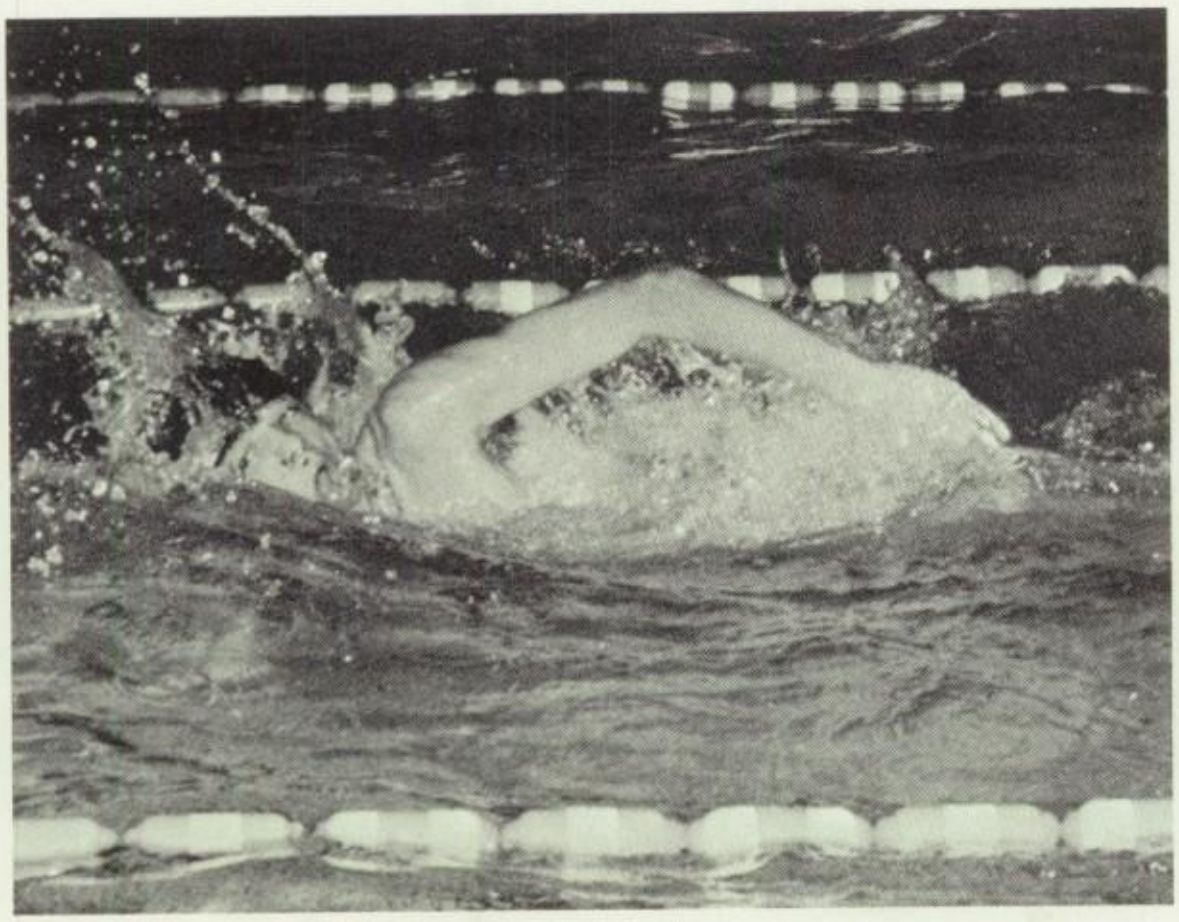
For the first time in three years under the direction of Coach William Echard, Riley swimmers started the season with a winning record. With only six returning lettermen consisting of Tim Ryan, Michael Derdak, Bob Ganyard, Jim Steele, Dan White, and Tom Wolvos, the team spent much of their season preparing for the state meet.

Flying Ron Weber displays one of his outstanding dives.

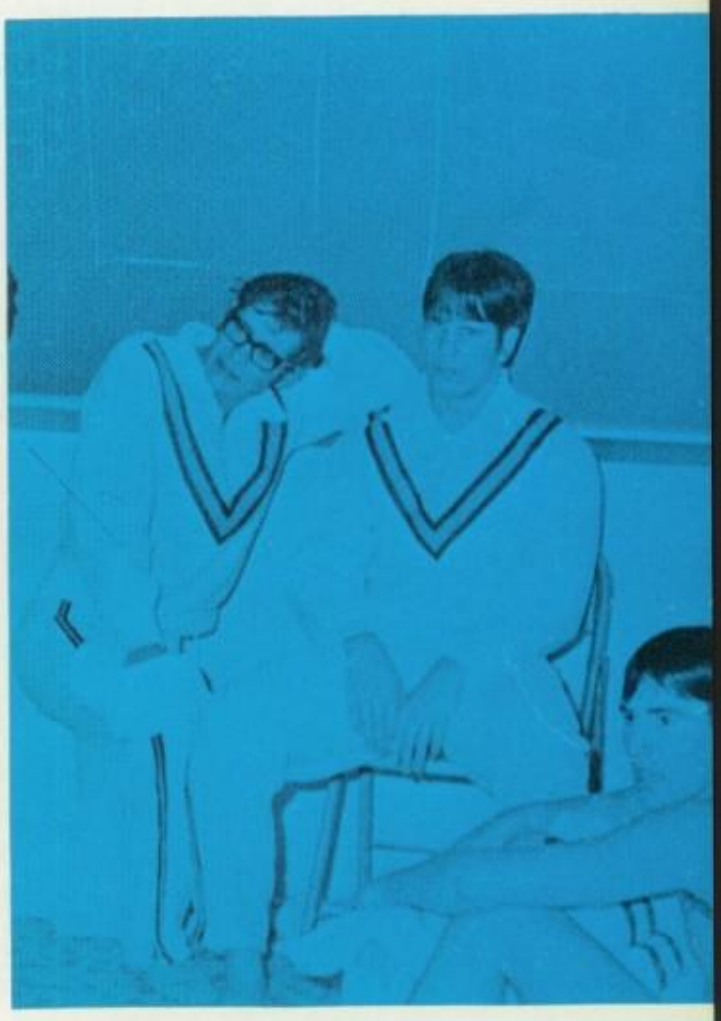
TANKERS' SEASON A SPLASHING SUCCESS

Coach William Echard backs his team with an enthusiastic cheer.

Jim Steele's hard practicing during his spare time brought him the 400 yard freestyle record.



The struggle for victory is in the mind of every individual.



Riley Tankers have many tense moments.

CATFISH FLIP THEIR FINS

1970 Girls' Swim Team. TOP ROW, LEFT TO RIGHT: Patty Hazinski, Judi Metz, Jane Barkley, Karen Biritz, Lori Bahler, Marla Farrar, Coach Leanne McNeal, Bev Morse; 2nd ROW: Alice Kwiecinski, Fran Brewer, Julie Jankowski, Dorothy Summerville, Lynn Morse, Sue Brambert, Cheryl Kirkum, Beth Ricks; BOTTOM ROW: Barb Nagy, Patti Nemeth, Kim Van De Putte, Debbie Gendel, Kathy Murrman, Debbie Berndt, Pam Jenkins, Celia Saunders.

Under the new leadership of Miss Lee Ann McNeal, the Riley Girls' Swim Team got underway last winter to a season of competitive swimming. Girls' swimming competition is not officially organized, but many girls are eager to give their extracurricular time to the sport. Riley swimmers practiced three and four evenings weekly to prepare for competition.

LETTERMEN LEAD SPIRIT

The Riley High School Monogram Club was re-organized this year, sponsored by Mr. Steve Horvath, Athletic Director. Its function is to promote sportsmanship and leadership in all school athletic activities. Any letter sweater award winner is eligible for membership for the club.

Junior Class Social Chairmen played key roles in projects undertaken this year. No idea was too far out for the class to try to make money for the prom. Whether it was picking apples on a farm or conducting a bake sale at I.U.S.B., the enthusiasm and ambition of the Junior Class has earned the respect of all Rileyites. Social Chairmen are, BACK ROW, LEFT TO RIGHT: Mindy Craven, Frida Magyar, Bonni Biggs, Tammy Kil, Bob McMillan, and Scott Wilmouski. FRONT ROW: Wendi Moeller, Pat Adamson, Val Buck, Sue Szekendi, Keineth Stanton, Denise Lane, Ann Lamkin, and Mari Sweitzer.

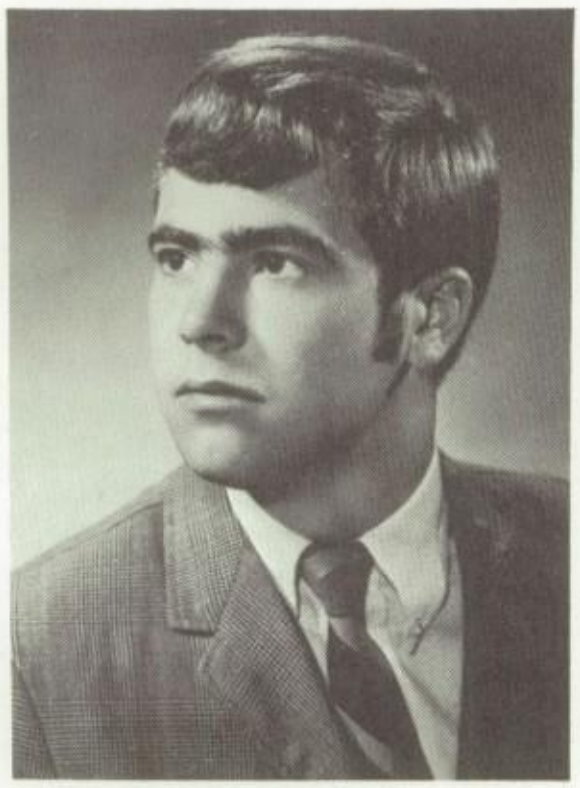
MANY HONORS FILL SENIORS' LAST YEAR



VALEDICTORIAN — Terry Crone

VALEDICTORIAN — Patricia Gergacz

VALEDICTORIANS

VALEDICTORIAN — Susan Swanson

When the time drew near for the senior class standings to be determined, it proved to be a far harder task than had been anticipated. As a result, for the first time in the history of Riley, the class of 1970 had four valedictorians, twenty-seven distinguished students, and forty-nine honor students, more than ever before. The class was exceptional in scholastic ability and achievements.

SHARON KAZMIERZAK
1952 — 1969

So little time to be a girl, to learn a woman's ways. But time enough to earn the love of friends who shared her days. This class is her class, even though she couldn't wait to see its pain, its fun, its triumphs true, along with you, along with me.

SENIOR CLASS OFFICERS

The Class of '70 officers had the large responsibility of planning and financing the Senior Prom. Class officers must annually initiate money making projects. This year, selling potato chips, light bulbs, and baked goods proved to be the most lucrative projects. However, their jobs are not finished upon graduation, for they will organize all of the class reunions when we are alumni.

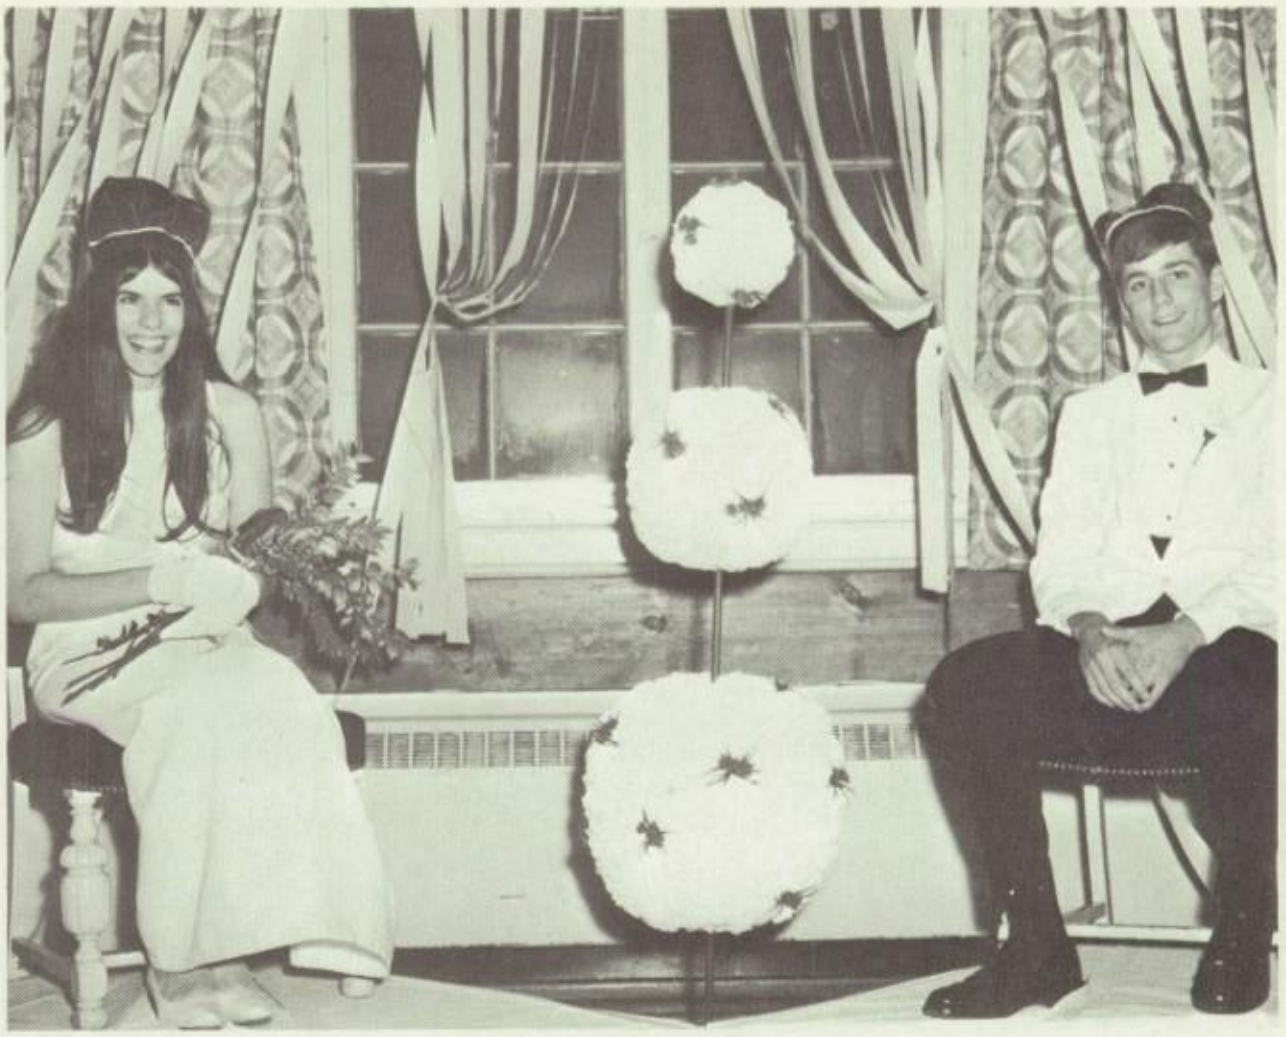
It seems very strange but I have this strong + very intense dislike for the so called boy Tom Coffey. I hate him!

The officers of the Senior Class of 1970 are: Rich Wilson, Treasurer; Phil Wray, Vice President; Rich Greulich, President; Tom Coffey, Social Chairman; Mark Carleton, Secretary.

A class president has to be a hard-headed individual!

One last meeting before graduation to determine which steps to take.

Watching others dance are Rich Wilson, Wendi Moeller, and Pam Lucas.

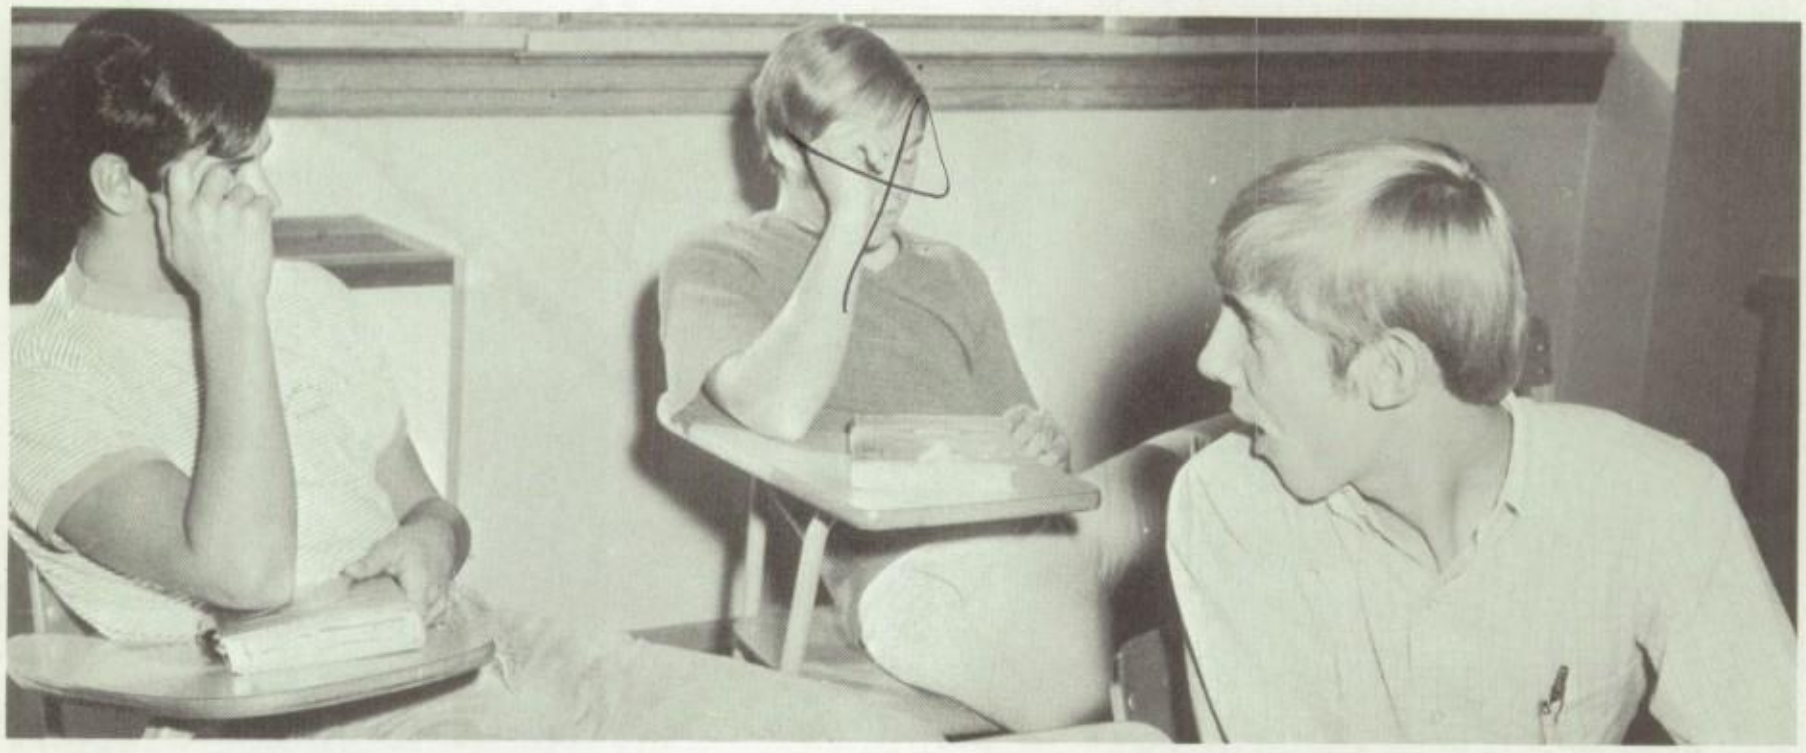


Princess Julie Medich and Prince Charlie Cutler take their thrones after their coronation.

"ONCE UPON A DREAM"

The 1969 Junior Prom Court was, FIRST ROW: Delores Lassen, Cindy Abel, Cathie Hendricks, Susie Kern, Vickie Howell, Carolyn Reed and Sue Hiles. SECOND ROW: Kevin Mahoney, Tom Haas, Randy Bibler, Julie Medich, Charlie Cutler, Terry Crone, Jim Barkley, Steve Kennedy and Rick Greulich.

SOME OF US GREW . . .



"Wake up you guys; Let's get out of here!"

Cathy Carbeiner makes that difficult daily decision.

Jackie Bush shows us that making a rug isn't so difficult.

Interests can lead to rewarding professions. Emery Smith prepares for his future in the Riley Print Shop.

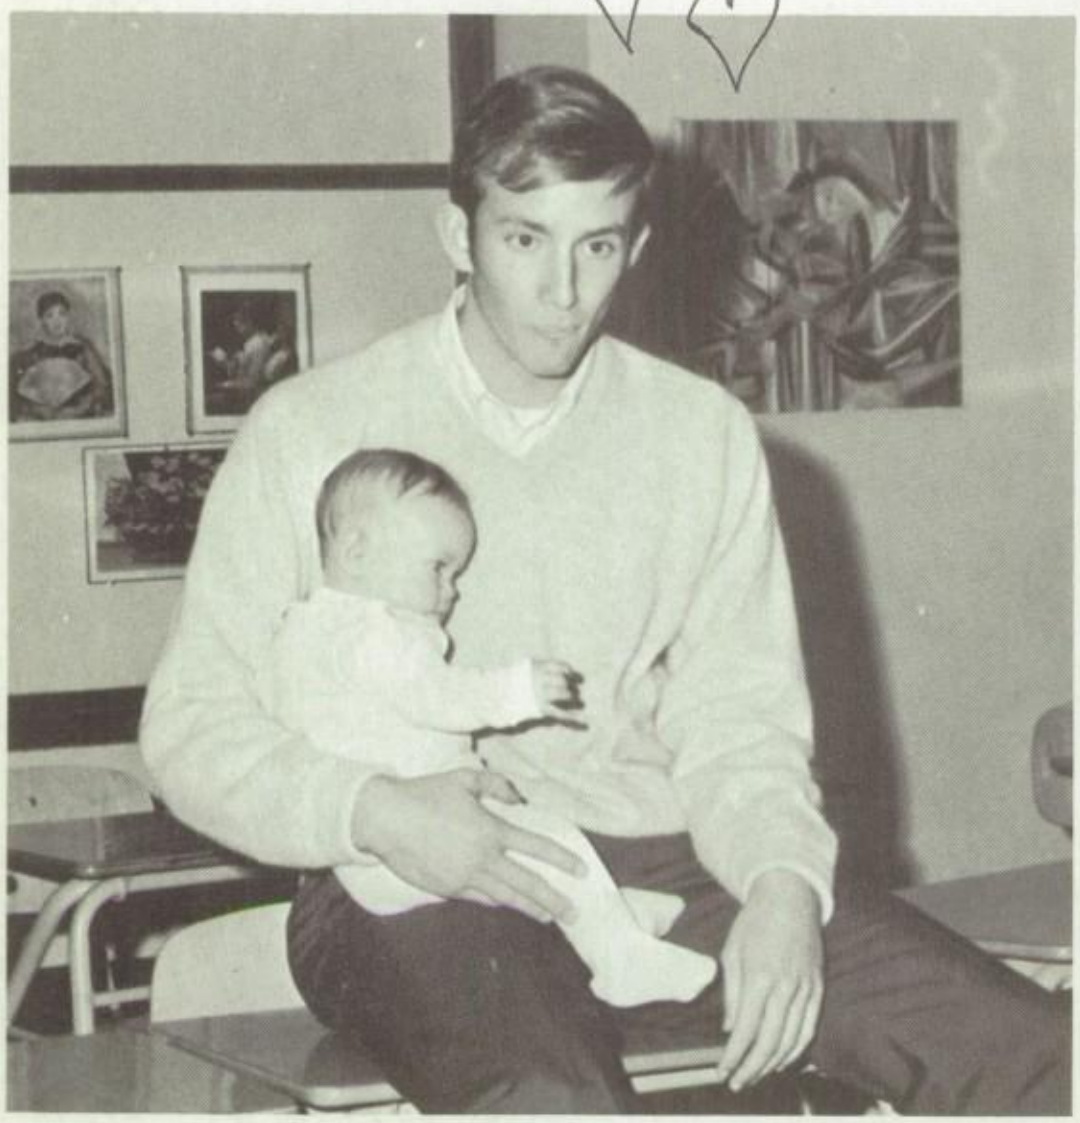
Serious thinking takes different forms, as shown by Jeanne Deitel and Brent Gilliom.

Peek-a-boo.

Scott Savely catches up on school news during homeroom period.

. . . OTHERS GOT TALLER

We Led — We Laughed — We Lived — We Left



Jim Barkley is amazed to be in a position like this.

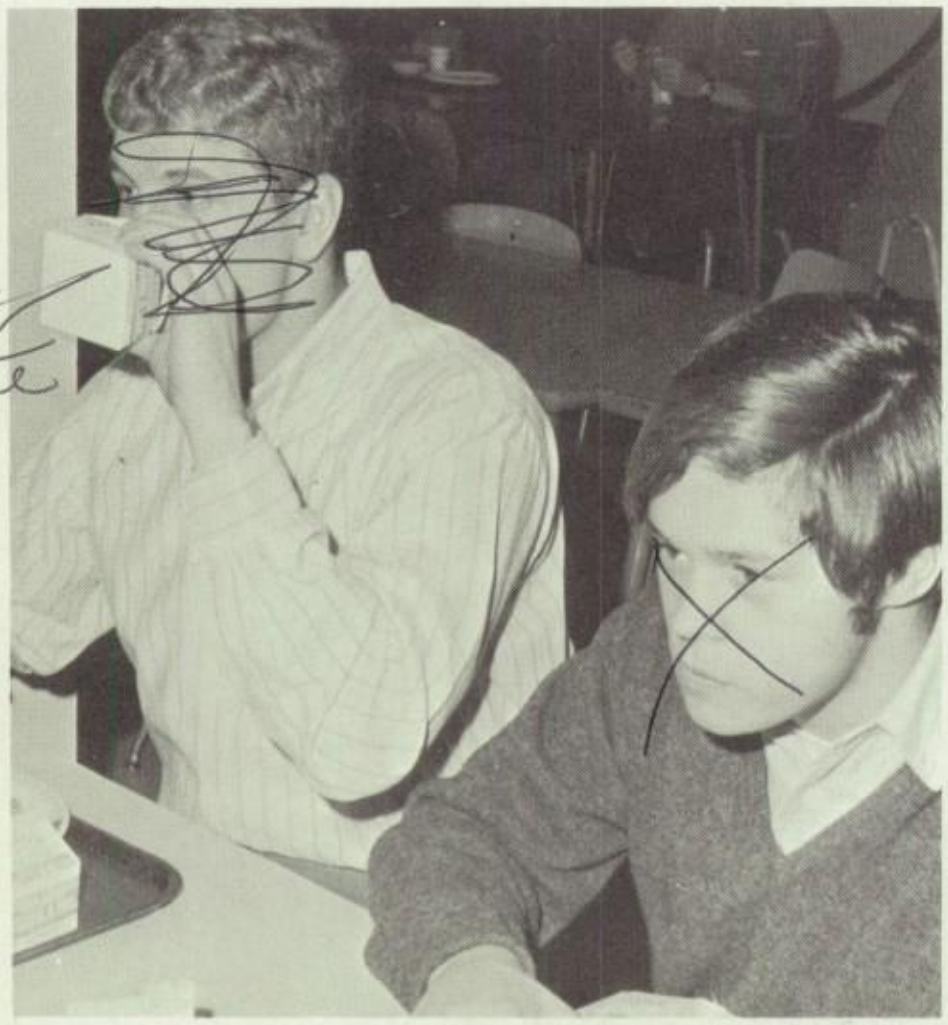
Music is serious business for Regina Zar.

Don't try to fool us, Lori Simpson, we know who you really are.

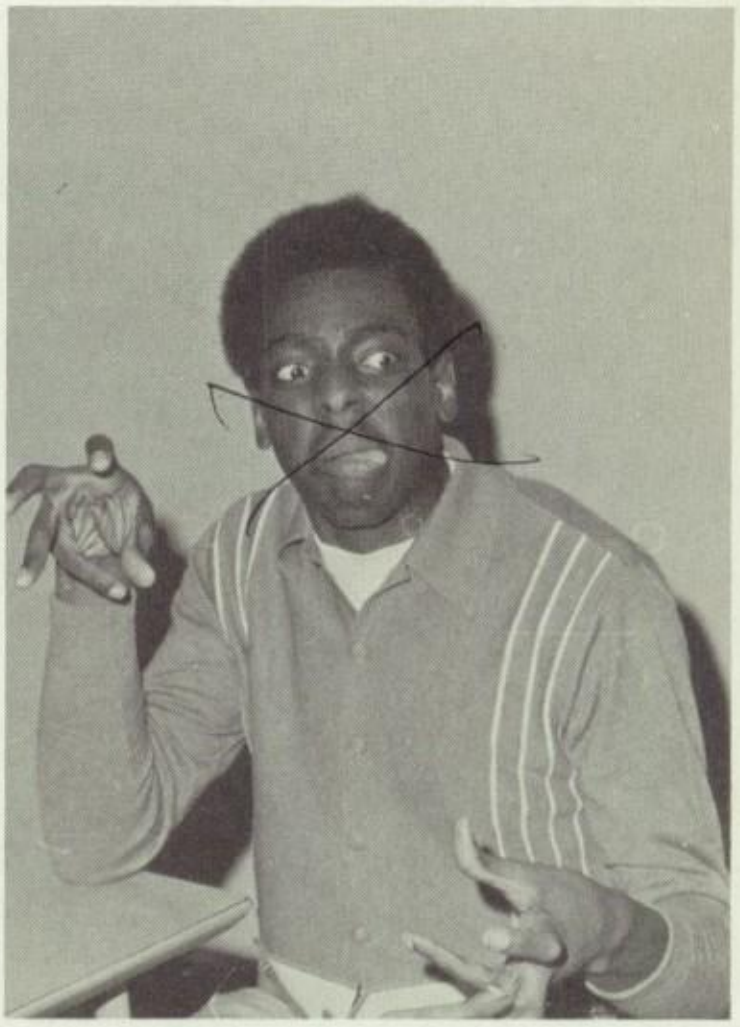
Brian Poole listens attentively as Brian Ritter gets his point across.

Do your own work, Jim Lerman!

The expressions on the faces of Jim Taylor, Warren Kennedy, and Steve Kennedy range from boredom to amusement.



Rich Uzelac and Chuck Stillson find Riley's cafeteria gracious dining at its finest.



Do you really hate school this much, George Burkes?

Service is of the utmost importance and Ralph Lauver shows how it should be given at the STANDARD SERVICE CENTER, 1836 Miami Street. Stop in and see.

Wigs are becoming a must in a girl's wardrobe. Kathy Sech tries one on at the WIG OUTLET, 1809 Miami Street, where all kinds of wigs and hair pieces can be found.

Conversation and COKE go together as Susie Kern and Cathie Hendricks find out. The cool, refreshing taste of COKE is enjoyed by everyone. After all, "Things go better with COKE!"

Young and old alike can find anything and everything they need at Brant's Five & Ten, 2114 Miami Street. Brant's offers fountain service and a postal station in addition to variety items.

Checking the oil is just one process in making sure a car functions properly. Mr. Herb Seall shows daughter Malia how it's done. HERB SEALL'S MARATHON is located at 2150 South Bend Avenue. SEALL'S also offers U-Haul trailer rental service.

Dave Beveridge puts it in your ear, weekends, with the 1970 sound of Radio 96, WSBT.

"The time has come, the walrus said, to talk of many things; of shoes and ships . . . " And Bob Soos — WNDU, 1490.

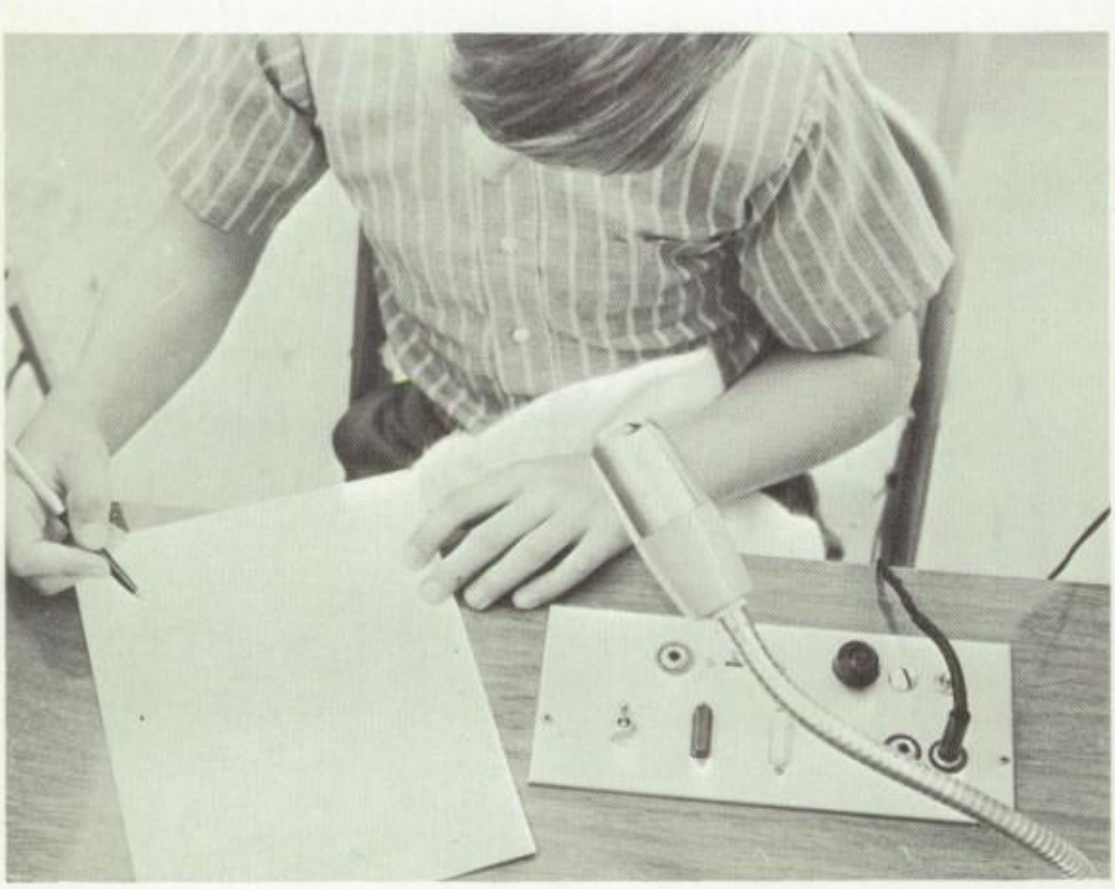
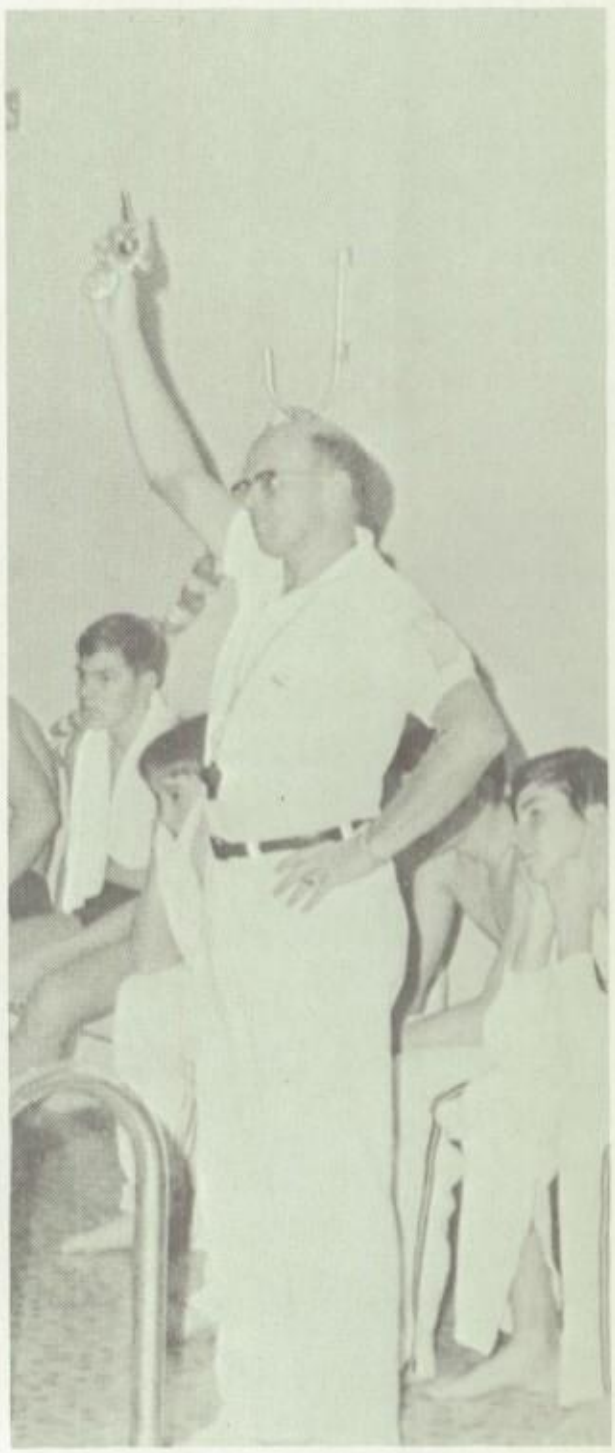
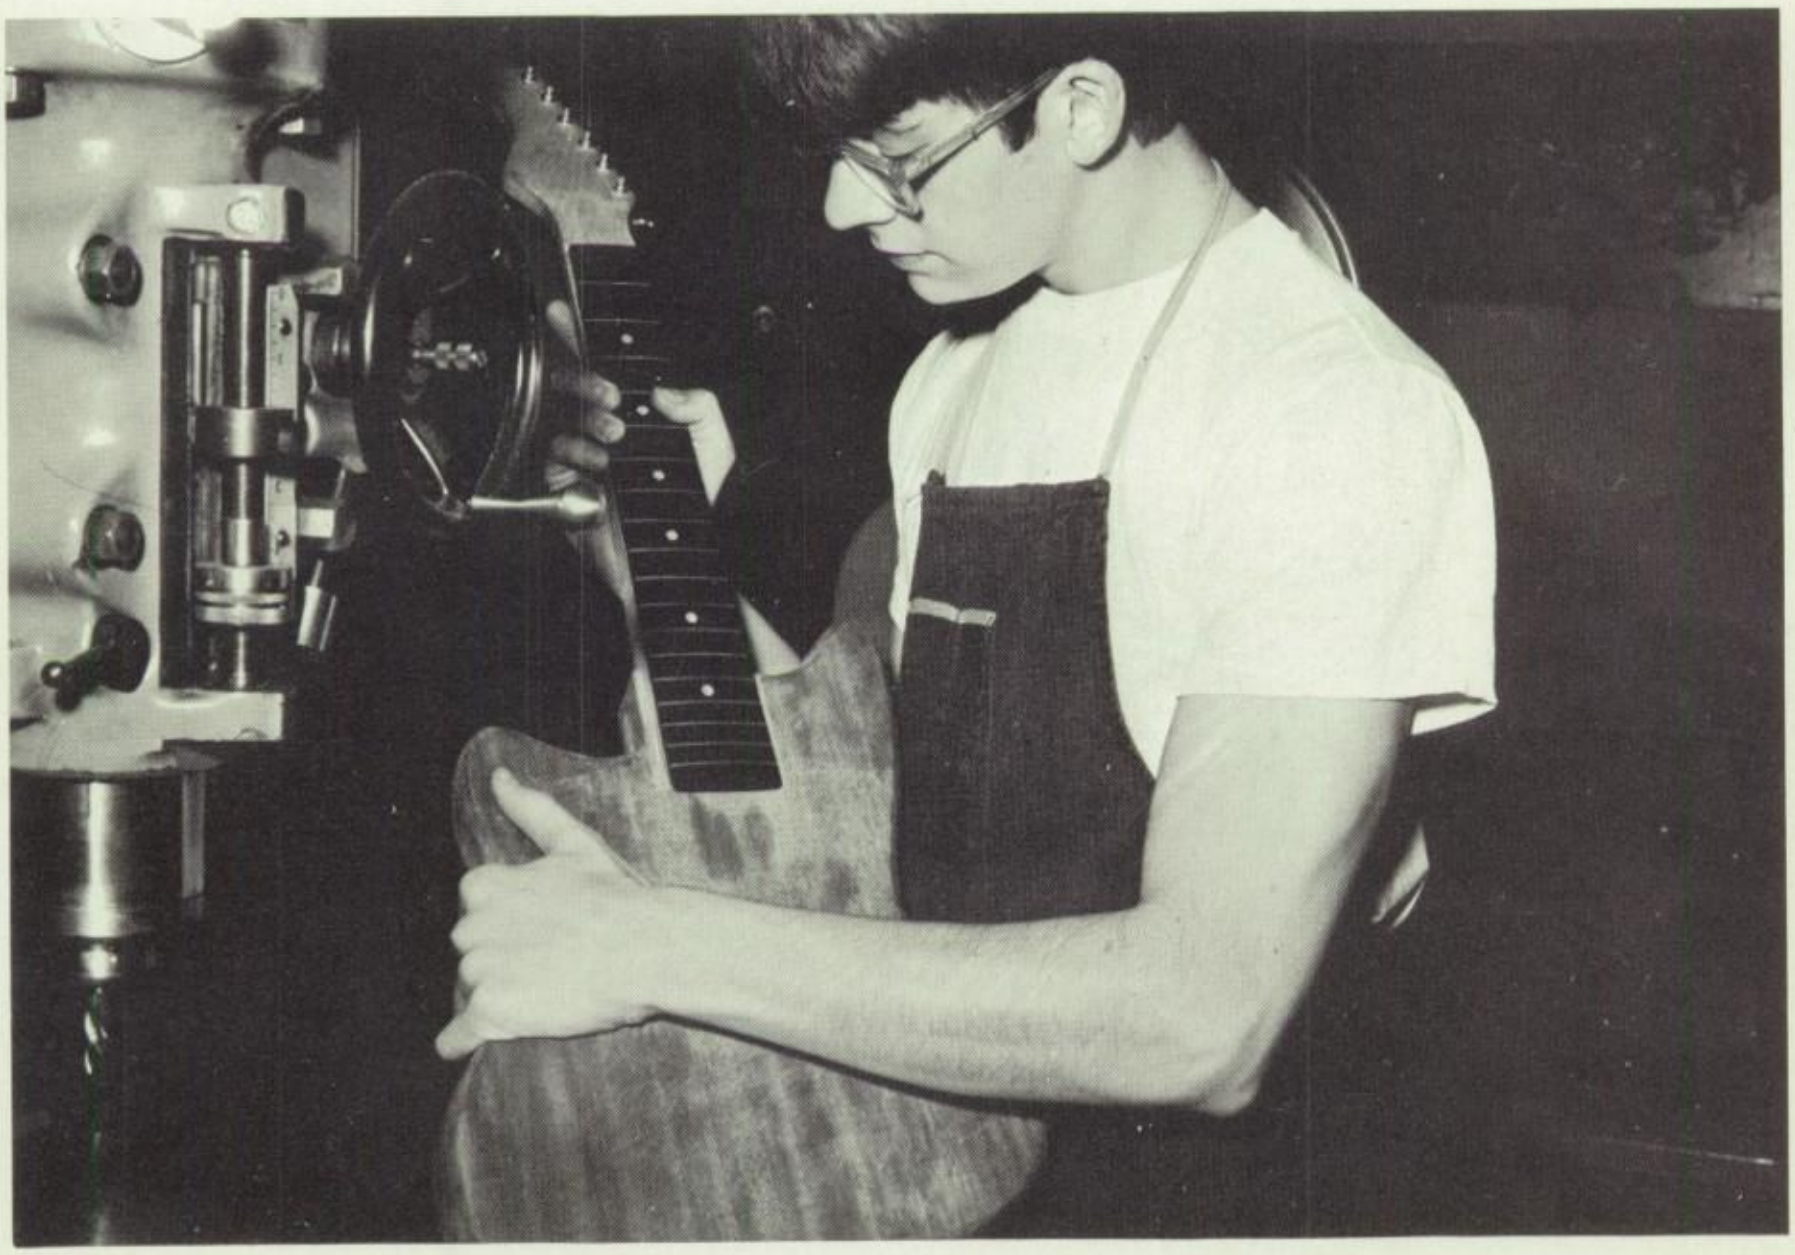
THESE ARE THE SOUNDS

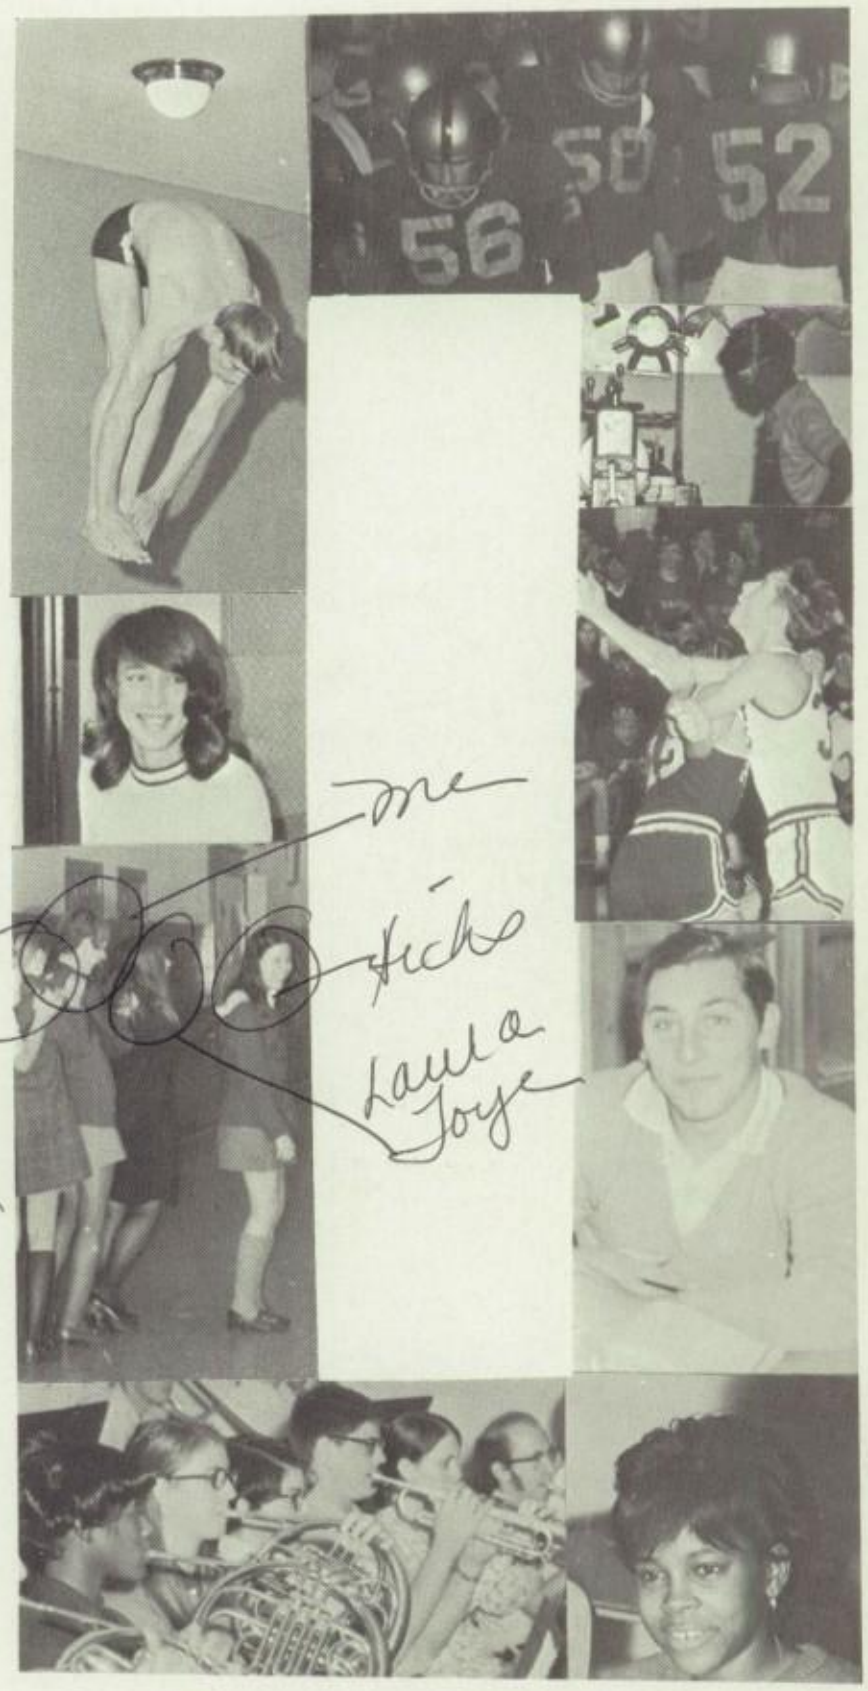






OF THE SEVENTIES

ECHOING . . .



. . . THROUGH OUR MINDS.

The Climax of Beginning

Ring down the curtain, so ends the show.
Some say they liked it, others don't know.
The players are leaving; reviews have been read.
It wasn't a bad act with all done and said.
The play had its stars and supporting cast.
Ah, but the actors are celebrated at last.
It's the things they said, the sounds they made,
That linger on when faces fade.
The stage is dark, all is silent here,
But close your eyes and lend an ear
To the whispers of poetry,
Geometry's lines,
And murmers of science —
The clashing of minds.
And then as you listen, a hush settles in:
The clang of a bell, new sounds now begin.
Greetings and laughter with old friends you know:
These were the sounds of nineteen seven o.
